COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

The SPEAKER. Will the House dispense with the Committee on the Whole on House Bill No. 1420, Senate Bill No. 369, Printer's No 162?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I object to dispensing with the Committee of the Whole on this bill.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection to dispensing with the Committee of the Whole in consideration of this bill, therefore, the House will resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole in consideration of House Bill No. 1420, Senate Bill No. 369.

The Chair requests the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. ACHTERMAN, to come to the desk and preside over the Committee of the Whole.

MR. ACHTERMAN PRESIDING

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one thousand two hundred and one of the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws 309) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1201 The board of school directors in every school district in this Commonwealth shall employ the necessary qualified teachers to keep the public schools open in their respective districts in compliance with the provisions of this act

The term "professional employee" as used in this act shall include teachers supervisors supervising principals principals directors of vocational education dental hygienists visiting teachers school secretaries the selection of whom is on the basis of merit as determined by eligibility lists school nurses who are certified as teachers and any regular full-time employee of a school district who is duly certified as a teacher

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the section?

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 3, section 1, line 10, by adding after the word "teacher" the following: "The services of all professional employes of the public schools in any school district shall be during good behavior and efficiency after the expiration of a probationary period of employment of two consecutive years in that district. The time any professional employe has taught in the district in which he or she is employed at the time this act shall go into effect shall be counted in determining such period of employment."

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendment?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I rise to a question of information.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman will state his question of information.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I understand that the Chair is now asking that amendments only to section one be presented.

The CHAIRMAN. That is correct.

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, it is with pleasure that I rise to discuss amendments which certainly are and should be of a non-partisan nature. If we as members of this Committee cannot conside the amendments which I have just proposed on a non-partisan basis, then it seems to me that we are derelict in our duty to the public school system of our Commonwealth.

The first and primary purpose of this amendment dealing with the probationary period takes into consideration the fact that the one paramount thought in all our minds should be concerning the welfare of the children in our public schools. We must also take into consideration the welfare of all those agencies which deal in and with our public schools. In our public school system we have children in the schools. I dare say that probably most of the membership here have children in the public school system. We are concerned of course with those teachers who have been selected in the various districts of our Commonwealth, who are teaching our children those fundamentals of life which we call educational training, and we must consider the principals, the superintendents, the school boards who have been selected by the various voters throughout our Commonwealth, and of course we must take into consideration the taxpayer, the citizen.

In offering this amendment, members of the Committee, I wish you to have in mind at all time those facts, that we are legislating for all interests in our school system. Now, the matter of probation or a probationary period, as incorporated in the amendment just read, provides that a teacher shall not have or be permitted to enjoy tenure until after the expiration of the probationary period of employment of two consecutive years in the particular district in which that teacher is employed. That means, members of the Committee, that the bill would be amended to include that probationary feature of two years. The bill as it now stands does not include any probationary period. Is it not logical and reasonable that in order to see to it that our children in our schools have the proper teaching and training under the guidance of the various teachers, that those in control or in charge of the hiring of the teachers, mainly the supervising principals, the school boards and indirectly the tax payers, should not have some method and manner, a fair method and manner, if you please, to determine whether or not that teacher is satisfactory in the particular district in which he or she might be employed. It has been said that by investigation of his or her prior record or by interview by those in charge, one can judge fairly well whether or not a person is qualified in a district. I submit, however, members of the committee, that such judgment is often times in error. One cannot determine the efficiency or capability of a teacher, or in fact a person in any business, until the person has been tried through actively practising and teaching in that particular district. Therefore, I submit this amendment concerning the probationary period.

With those thoughts in mind, we, in fairness to all interested parties, many of whom are in control or in power in certain districts, should have the right to see the teacher in the class room. We will go on further with the amendment. The amendment provides "the time any professional employe has taught in the district in which he or she is employed at the time this act shall go into effect shall be counted in determining such period of employment."

No doubt many members of the Committee have been concerned with those teachers who with their prior record of service down to the present moment have been found sufficiently capable in their respective districts. This amendment will not in any way deprive those tried and true teachers from continuing in their positions and tenure will immediately apply to them upon the passage of this act. Let us consider for a moment the proposed amendment from the teachers' standpoint because it so happens that I have taught school in this Commonwealth and in our sister state of New Jersey. A high school faculty or a faculty in any school whatsoever must work together. Is it not true to suppose that those teachers can be most efficient when harmony prevails in the particular school or in the particular district? Is it not true that in order to protect our best teachers, that those having the power and authority to employ the teachers should have a chance to observe as well the activities of the teacher in the class room before giving their sanction to the applying of tenure such as is provided in this bill.

In conclusion members of the Committee, let me again make reference to my opening statement. First, this is definitely a non-partisan matter; second it must be dealt with and considered in the light of all the interests concerned in our school system. I feel that if you will search your own minds and hearts you will agree that the only fair and reasonable way in which our particular districts can determine the efficiency and ability of a teacher is to see that teacher actually teaching in the classroom in that particular district.

Therefore, I ask the members of the Committee to vote favorably on this amendment.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, I rise to oppose the amendment which will require a probationary term of any teacher who is now employed or who is hereafter employed in any school in this Commonwealth. We have several teachers' colleges and private universities and colleges which now prepare teachers under rigid requirements. There they require these students or teachers to actually go into high schools and elementary schools and teach the very subjects which they are preparing to teach and they are graded upon their work there and by the time they graduate and obtain their teacher's certificate, they are tried and true teachers.

In addition to that, experience shows that where a probationary period has been required in tenure bills, the so-called tenure bills belie their names. The requirement of the probationary period has been such that it is a mere device, and if it is not intended as a device to enable the boards to discharge teachers, in effect and in practice it beccomes a device to work to that end. There is no logical argument for the requirement of a probationary period because there is no other walk of life in which you can find a probationary period. Teachers are not paid huge sums which may be paid to individuals who show exceptional ability in a particular branch. No matter how good a teacher is a teacher is paid only a small increment of salary each year. It is unfair to suggest to a teacher the moment she places herself in a certain teaching position in a certain district, that she is limited by outside influences with regard to her salary; she may be limited with regard to her obtaining other positions; she is under contract and very often cannot avail herself of the opportunity of obtaining a better position, even if one be offered to her.

So Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I say that the freedom of contract is limited in that respect and we should not penalize teachers by requiring a probationary period which will really turn out not to be a probationary period, but just means that there is going to be another shuffling of cards, and you will find that the teacher is going to be dismissed. Any probationary period which would give the boards or the school districts the right to dismiss a school teacher, at the end means that you do not think that your various State teachers' training institutions are doing their work properly, and that would be an insult to the various members of the teaching profession. I ask the members of this Committee to vote down this amendment.

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, briefly, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins, let me emphasize that as far as I am concerned personally, and I am sure we all share that feeling, we are in no way finding fault with our State teachers' institutions or the ladies and gentlemen who are on the faculties of those institutions or the graduates of them. But the fact remains, members of the Committee, that although the record of a certain student in a particular college might be an excellent one, until that teacher is in that particular school district and has met with the conditions and the question arising in that district, one does not know whether that is the best and proper district for that particular teacher. Furthermore a great many of our school boards, in selecting the younger teachers know that upon the execution of the contract with the teacher, tenure will immediately enure, and there will be a tendency to continue with the older teachers, thinking that perhaps the lesser of the two evils is take the one they do know something about rather the one of whom they are not certain.

Let me answer another question raised by the gentleman from Philadelphia, a question which deals with other walks of life, that they have no probationary periods. We are on probation in our respective jobs all the time, least I personally feel so. We are as members of this House, in our business, we are as employes, of certain companies, and we do not have the protection which would be afforded by this bill. The question of probation raised by the gentleman from Allegheny is entirely beside the point, illogical and not part of this discussion. He raised a question about salary incerment. Having been a teacher and having drawn pay checks for such teaching, I know how heavy such checks were, and I am certainly in favor of having our teachers paid properly, and the teachers' pay advanced from time to time, as finances will warrant. So, I say to the members of the Committee I do not think the gentleman from Allegheny has answered the question raised in my original argument, I will, therefore, ask you to support the amendment providing for a two year probationary period.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I would like to further answer the statements of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Harkins, with regard to the two year probationary period. I trust you will note my remarks are not hostile to teachers from the fact that I have two sisters who are teachers, and on the other hand my old father served twenty-seven consecutive years on the township board in the town in which I live. It would be very unfair that teachers who are frankly incompetent should be made a permanent part of our educational system, to put them in a position where they would have to be dismissed during the first year for incompetency. I think we too often take the attitude that we are guarding one class of society from domination or abuse from some other class. In our part of the country at least we do not have to assume that the school boards are hostile to teachers. Thank God we do not have that sort of condition in the northwestern part of the state. You cannot fairly to your own children place teachers in a permanent frozen tenure system without giving them some trial whereby the people of your own home district can find out whether or not they can properly employ teachers. There is a vast difference between a person who is a good scholar in a normal school and a person who can teach children in actual practice. I say to you when the teachers made the statement as they did at the public hearing on this bill, that Pennsylvania has the best educated teachers in the American union, the system we have been working under cannot be all bad. We haven't had such terrible teachers in Pennsylvania and our children have been getting along reasonably well, and now we are going to provide what we think will be an adequate protection for the worthwhile teacher. It is only fair and reasonable ladies and gentlemen, that we offer to our own citizens that we give to our own children the privilege of finding out whether or not a teacher is a teacher or wether he or she is merely a graduate of a normal school who has been lucky enough to get the job. If a teacher is a good teacher he or she can survive a short probationary period, and the sponsor of this amendment has already pointed out to you that the teachers who are already teaching have already put in time on their probationary period, so that a teacher who has been in that section for more than two years now would have no additional probationary period and would be protected by tenure immediately. I think you must look at this thing from the standpoint of your children as well as the teacher. What do you propose to do if you get a teacher, frankly, not satisfactory, but whom you do not wish to remove by means of any specific charges that are required for removal under this tenure act? Mr. Longaker's amendment merely offers you an opportunity to test out the teachers, before you make them a part of your system. I also think we should have regard for the protection of the system under which our own children are going to be educated, and we should support this amendment because it is for the protection of better teachers.

On the question recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the amendment?

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the section?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The CHAIRMAN. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 2 (sec. 1205) page 5, line 28, by inserting after the word "shall" the following: "except as hereinafter otherwise provided"

Amend sec. 2 (sec. 1205), page 6, line 10, by inserting after the word "causes" the following: "Provided, however, That any such contract of a professional employe may be terminated without a hearing as hereinafter provided at the discretion of the board of school directors or board of public education, in any case where the professional employe is not a citizen of the United States"

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendments?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I gather from the amendments that have just been submitted by the gentleman from Delaware that the attempt is to have the teachers of our school system dismissed immediately if it is determined they are not citizens of the United States. I might say that up to the present time our present Edmonds Act does not have this requirement. I might further say that only within the past two days I was consulted relative to the insertion of such an amendment, and it was decided that the proper place for such an amendment is in the school code and not in a tenure act. I had this conversation with the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and I personally feel that the question of citizenship is not a question of tenure. That should be a question as to whether or not a teacher should be allowed into the teaching profession of the Commonwealth at its inception and not as a means of dismissal. If that requirement is placed in the Edmonds Act and the teacher does not have the qualifications to be a teacher she cannot continue in her work. I will ask the members of this Committee to vote these amendments down, and I again assure the members of this Committee that we will be only too glad to amend the Edmonds Act, the school code, to take care of that pertinent provision.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I am very pleased that the gentleman from York has stated that he is willing to support an amendment to the Edmonds Act to this effect, that the teachers in the public schools shall be citizens of the United States. There is perhaps one exception to that, and that is that there might be exchange teachers who naturally might not be citizens of the United States. But I do not see that that entirely covers the situation. What we are confronted with here is a tenure bill. This does not say that all of the teachers who are not citizens of the United States shall be dismissed immediately. It merely states that teachers not citizens of the United States shall not have the protection of this act. I think that is as it should be. I think that the members of this Committee who will carefully think of it, must agree that we must today, in view of the world-wide situation, in view of the situation in this country, protect the children in our schools and protect our schools. There are thousands of young men and women who are qualified to teach in our schools but who cannot secure positions because there are no positions open for them. Therefore, why should we hold those positions open for people who are not citizens of this country. I ask that this amendment be adopted.

On the question recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the amendments?

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question, recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the section?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 2 (sec. 1205), page 6, line 9, by inserting after the word "employe" the following: "editious teaching"

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendment?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, this amendment adds but two words to the reasons for the termination of a contract, that is "seditious teaching." I do not know whether there is anyone in this House who feels more strongly on the question of freedom of speech, nor who is more tolerant of the discussion of the forms of government, or of the theories of political economy than I am myself. I have five youngsters and I have had three of them in the public schools of Pennsylvania and I am a graduate of the public school system myself. I am perfectly willing that in the classroom I want my children to know all about other forms of government; I want them to know about progressive theories of government; I want them to know what is the background and the history of our government and the background and the history of other governments. I feel that no one can appreciate and understand this government of ours without knowing the history that preceded it and the history of other governments and of other forms of government. But in this day and at this time when there is abroad in this land of ours so much aggitation, when there is in this country so much that is not sincere aggitation for the improvement of our form of government, but aggitation for the overthrow of our form of government. When we have speeches made not only in our cities but in the Halls of Congress of the United States, of organizations that are supplying money and literature and propaganda in order to destroy our form of government, not to improve it, not to make changes in the machinery that may be necessary, but to absolutely destroy our idea of government that our forefathers laid down,—I want to say to you that as far as I am concerned I am willing to infringe somewhat upon the freedom of speech of some of these people, if that be necessary, in order that we may not here have people who are undermining, boring and sapping into this Government of ours, and into our schools, in order to teach doctrines that are subservive to our Democratic form of government that we have under our Constitution.

Therefore, I think that we should lean over backwards in this instance. I realize there may be danger; I realize that teachers may be teaching about different forms of govrnment and they may be charged with sedition, but I realize on the other hand that we now and here ought to serve notice that henceforth, here at least in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we are not going to have sedition taught, we are not going to have alien forms of government and propaganda put out which will have for its sole intent and purpose instilling into the minds of our youth of America the thought of destroying their belief in this Government of ours, this great Constitution of ours under which we have grown to be the greatest and most powerful nation on this globe. We have given to the peoples of the earth an example that others have sought to follow; we have raised the standard of living beyond that ever known in any other time in the history of the world; we have given to the ordinary man far more advantages than he ever has had. Certainly we cannot now sit idly by and let the heritage which we ought to pass to our children be destroyed by people who for their purpose merely to go into our schools and to get before our children doctrines that are not consistent with our government, and I ask you to vote for this amendment.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, when we get into the proposition of tenure there are a thousand and one little things we might bring up in relation to it. I do not call this a little thing, which the gentleman from Delaware has offered. Certainly there could be nothing worse than teaching of what is defined to be sedition. It is one of the things that we can add. We might pick out five hundred things perhaps not so strong as this, but there are many things that we might add to that list of enumerated causes for dismissals. We feel that incompetency certainly covers this situation. You and everyone else in the State would not hesitate to say that a teacher is incompetent if she would teach sedition or if he would teach sedition. Therefore, since we feel that this is entirely covered in that particular word in the enumeration of causes I ask you to vote "no" on this amendment.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, if any provision in the bill provides for incompetency as a reason and it does, if incompetency would include seditious teaching, then it seems to me there is no reason why we should not definitely define it. Why should we leave it to somebody who will interpret that question of competency. I know of a college in the state of Pennsylvania where there are a lot of teachers, whom I think, under almost any term would in the State of Pennsylvania where there are a lot of heretics so far as teaching subjects regarding the government of the United States is concerned. I would not have a child of mine enter that college because I believe their opinions, their ideas, their ideals and their aims are absolutely opposed to the American form of government. They are competent as far as teaching is concerned; they are competnt to teach Communism, they are competent to teach almost anything else; they hold all kinds of college degrees, but on this subject they are not in my mind teaching that which we have a right to demand. Why should we in the government of the United States, why should we in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, pay out to the public schools for salaries of teachers some sixty-five million dollars in a two-year period; why should the local taxpayer be paying out thousands of dollars to teachers? We are here sworn to uphold and defend the Constitution. Every other public officer is sworn to defend and uphold the Constitution. Why should we therefore allow teachers who receive remuneration from the taxpayers of the Commonwealth teach things that ar destructive of our form of government. Therefore, if incompetency does cover it, we should have no hesitancy in going farther and defining it.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Chairman, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware if we do not have an act in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania making sedition a crime.

Mr. TURNER. We do, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Chairman, I would like to ask the gentleman further whether or not in his opinion as an astute lawyer, which I know he is, it would be better to leave the question of sedition to the courts rather than to an Administrative board.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I think that might be true under certain circumstances but we have this problem to face: the question the courts is going to determine will be dependent to a great extent upon the action of the person bringing the charges against that party. In the second place I am not clear in my own mind as to whether the act in Pennsylvania goes that far, because, as I understand it there must be some overt act, such as standing out on the corner and trying to incite people to overthrow the government, which is one thing; but this is teaching, it is not inciting.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Chairman, do I understand the gentleman from Delaware to mean that in his opinion the sedition act does not cover this point because in his opinion he thinks the sedition act means there must be an overt act.

Mr. TURNER. I think that is in the act, an overt act It consists of somebody standing on a soap box and trying to tell some people to go out and overthrow the government. Teaching is something else from telling some one to actually go out and do it. There is a difference in degree.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Chairman, I am very interested to know just what the gentleman from Delaware means when he says sedition is a question of degree.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I did not say that. I said that the sedition you are talking about under the act, I thought there was a difference of degree in teaching sedition and the actual standing out and telling people to overthrow the government.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Chairman, does not the gentleman from Delaware agree with me, that teaching sedition, uttering seditious statements or otherwise in public schools would be inditible under the present law of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania as much as teaching and uttering seditious statements on the public highways?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I would say, that depends entirely upon the facts of the case. That has been my own experience in Delaware County.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I wish to call to the attention of the members of the Committee the facts brought out by the astute and scholarly interrogation of the gentleman from Allegheny. To clutter up the tenure bill with a lot of possibilities of indictable offenses or criminal offenses, whether they be seditious or criminal or embezzlement or what not, would run this tenure act through the entire course of the criminal statutes. I think we have already apropriated, or the previous session has appropriated money to the Attorney-General's office to codify our criminal laws, and to attempt to do that in a tenure bill is something that would be insurmountable. I would suggest to the gentleman from Delaware and I would suggest to the members of the Committee that this bill merely goes to the problem of safeguarding the teachers in their present positions; this bill only goes to that. Any other violation of the acts, any other ideas that do not pertain to that particular phase, have no place whatsoever in this bill. I say to the Committee that they should vote this amendment down.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, I do not know why the feelings of the gentleman from York or anybody else should be so tender about what we put in this bill. He says we are creating a bill to take care of the teachers. That is true. But the teachers are asking for something, not the teachers individually, but the general public and those sponsoring the bill are asking something in the nature of a special privilege for the teachers, something that the rest of us do not have. The teacher is a public employe; the teacher is paid out of public funds, and I cannot conceive of any reason why we should not put into this bill every possible safeguard. If we are trying to safeguard the teacher, we have a higher right and certainly a greater duty to safeguard the children in our public schools and to safeguard our country, and to turn it aside on a mere pretense that there is already on the statute books an act which makes sedition an indictable crime, and to say therefore we should not put it into the act, does not to me seem logical. It seems to me that there is every reason why we should put it into the act. If the teacher can be taken from a school for seditious teaching, if the teacher can be indicted for seditious teaching, then there can be no reason why we should not frankly and honestly stand here and say we are in favor of writing into the bill what we believe. And if we believe that we would not be trying to find reasons and excuses to take it out of the bill.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

Mr. CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I desire to ask the gentleman from Delaware whether in his interpretation of the bill as presently drawn an individual who committed larceny would be susceptible to discharge from the public school system?

Mr. TURNER. That is my understanding, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Is that the gentleman's understanding, Mr. Chairman?

Mr. TURNER. Yes, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, may I ask the gentleman from Delaware whether or not an individual who was convicted of larceny after indictment, of course, is susceptible to dismissal from the public school system?

Mr. TURNER. I should think so, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. And, Mr. Chairman, would an individual who had ben indicted for embezzlement and convicted be subject to dismissal from the public school system?

Mr. TURNER. I should think so, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. And, Mr. Chairman, would an individual who had been indicted and convicted of assault and battery be susceptible for dismissal from the public school system?

Mr. TURNER. Yes, Mr. Chairman, going on down the line.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, may I inquire from the gentleman from Delaware if he has amendments to this bill covering those crimes?

Mr. TURNER. I have not, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. WILSON. Mr. Chairman, and members of the committee, it is not my purpose to take up much of the time of this Committee. I merely want to call attention to the fact that those who are opposing the amendment that has been offered by Mr. Turner seem to want to take the position that a teacher who is accused or may be accused of sedition, before he or she may be dismissed, would have to be prosecuted and convicted in the courts of this Commonwealth. If that is the position, it is only fair to put that on record and to give them an opportunity now to say "yes" or "no" to that proposition.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNER and Mr. LONGAKER.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I ask for a verification of the roll.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the committee agree to the section?

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The Chairman. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 2 (section 1205), page 6, line 10, by inserting after the word "causes" the following: "Provided, That in all school districts the board of school directors (or board of public education) may dismiss a professional employe who has reached the full age of sixty-two years and is eligible to retire from service, without appeal, upon a finding by the board that the best interest of the school district will be served by such retirement at the close of the school term. A written notice of such finding shall be served upon the professional employe involved at least sixty days before the end of the school term in question."

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendment?

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, this is a very simple amendment. I wish to repeat the essence of it so that we may have a perfect undrstanding of it. This amendment provides "that in all school districts the board of school directors (or Board of Education) may dismiss a professional employe who has reached the full age of sixty-two years and is eligible to retire from service, without appeal, upon a finding by the board that the best interest of the school district will be served by such retirement." It also provides that a written notice of such finding shall be served upon the teacher at least sixty days before the end of the term in question. Now briefly, it is a well known fact among school men that altogether too many teachers, we find, decline in efficiency and ability as teachers because of advancing years through no fault of their own. What we need today, what we suggest to you is to lower the retirement age. But at the present time gentlemen we have no way of removing such teachers until they are seventy years of age. What you are doing, if you enact this bill into law, it will mean that a teacher will teach from the day she gets out of normal college, providing she is not removed for other causes set forth in the bill; he or she will remain there until seventy years of age. I tell you, men, it is not fair to the boys and girls of the State. If you want to remodel your retirement law, do so, but in the meantime let us put this amendment into our law right where it belongs and protect the best interests of the boys and girls of the state. Now, the steam-roller seems to be working pretty smoothly, but haven't you a heart for the good of the school? I am for teachers' tenure just as much as you are. I happen to have spent eighteen years of my life in public school work and I believe I am as well qualified to speak upon this subject as most of you, and perhaps better qualified than some of you. Furthermore, some of the members seem bent upon protecting the teacher without considering the effect of an unwise provision upon the boys and girls of the State. You are injuring their educational opportunity. I believe that what I am asking for is reasonable, and I ask you to support it affirmatively.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Van Allsburg.

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Erie permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. I will, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, while it is a matter of record in this House I desire to ask the gentleman how he voted on the resolution to endorse President Roosevelt's Supreme Court resolution for the retirement of judges or supplementing judges after they reach the age of seventy years?

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Chairman, I will answer the gentleman's question providing he will give me the privilege of explaining why I voted as I did.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman will proceed if he desires to answer the question.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG. Mr. Chairman, as I recall it, I voted "no" on the resolution, and I did so not that I was not in favor of what the President of the United States wished to accomplish, but I object to the manner in which he was trying to arrive at it.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I might say that I object to the manner in which the gentleman from Erie seeks to amend this act. There is no necessity to force that particular retirement upon the school teachers, because on page six of the act, line 5, it very definitely states that incompetency is one of the causes of dismissal. If a qualified school teacher arrives at the age of sixty-two and is incompetent, he or she is susceptible of dismissal without any further action on the part of any one or any further amendment in this particular tenure act. The purpose that the gentleman seeks to accomplish has already been accomplished in this act, and I particularly object to the method in which he seeks to accomplish what he does seek to accomplish, and I ask the members of the Committee to vote no on this amendment.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I must confess I am tremendously surprised with this amendment coming from Mr. Van Allsburg. I have a great deal of respect for Mr. Van Allsburg, having served here two sessions with him. I do not believe there is a harder worker or a finer gentleman in the House than Mr. Van Allsburg yet his great heart would tell me that he is beyond sixty-two years of age, and I do not know why he would introduce this amendment, for I know that he is serving and serving well in this House. The teachers' retirement system has long thought it inadvisable to reduce the compulsary age to sixty-two years. They have several reasons for this. One, I suppose, that they consider there are many wonderful teachers in this State who have passed this age and whom they do not like to take out of service. Another reason is that sixty-two years is a pretty low retirement age upon compulsion. We know that. It is a very low retirement age considering the amount of money available in any system from which we have to pay those who retire. There isn't a sounder thing in the State, I do not believe, or in the country for that matter, than the teachers' retirement fund. We have no business tampering with it in this act or in any other particular bill at this time that we might introduce. I have that much faith in the wonderful system that has been built up for the teachers of this State. I would ask you therefore, members of the Committee, not to consider this amendment. The finest teachers that I have ever gone to school with years ago I believe were a little past this age. I do not know that I would go beyond seventy. I do think that is a fine period from sixty to seventy, and certainly we ought not to tamper with that period of life in this particular bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN and Mr. WOODSIDE.

Mr. FLANNERY. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the section?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 2 (sec. 1205), page 6, line 17, by inserting after the word "seventy" the following: "Any board of school directors or board of public education may, by general rule or at its discretion, terminate the contracts of female professional employes upon the marriage of such employe. In such case, the contract or contracts may be terminated at the end of the school term, during which the employe is married, or at the beginning of the next school term' if such employe is married during the vacation period."

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendment?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, there are a number of school districts in Pennsylvania which employ married teachers. There are also a number of school districts in Pennsylvania which make it a rule not to employ married teachers. I think that these districts which employ married teachers should be allowed to continue to employ them and I think that those married teachers in those districts should have tenure. I think that those districts which do not employ married teachers, however, should have the right to continue that rule not to employ married teachers. That is exactly what this amendment does. The question of whether or not married people should be employed does not enter into the matter. Under this amendment districts may employ married teachers; they can continue teachers who have become married during their term or during their employment.

Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I think from the fact that there are so many districts which make it a rule not to employ married teachers, and also so many districts that make it a rule to employ married teachers, it is evident that this is a question concerning which there could be considerable debate. I do not propose to go into that debate because I do not think that is the business of this Legislature to dictate to a local district whether or not it is going to employ married teachers or whether or not it is going to keep teachers who married while they were in its employ. This amendment does not take away from married teachers the tenure which they have. Every married teacher who is teaching in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, will, under this amendment, have tenure, and every district which makes it a rule not to have married teachers in their system may continue that rule. I think that this is a question concerning which there is enough doubt that it should be left to the local district, and that we as the Legislature should not came in here and say to all of the districts of the Commonwealth who now think it advisable not to employ married teachers, that hereafter you must employ married teachers and keep in your employ teachers who become married and keep them permanently. I think it is a matter that should be left to the local district to decide.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I rise in opposition to this amendment. I do not think that we as Legislators have the right to say that married women should not be hired and that single women shall. I do not think that we have the right to say that if a married woman is a good teacher that that school should have no right to hire her. Another thing, if the gentleman from Dauphin is so interested in legislating against married women I would suggest that he have the Senate prepare a bill to that effect and have it introduced in the Senate. Therefore, Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I ask you to vote down this amendment.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I think that the gentleman who has just spoken either must agree with me or else he has entirely misunderstood what I have said, and has misunderstood my amendment. I haven't said one word in the amendment or here on the floor against the employment of married teachers. That is not the question that is before us. The question before us is this: Will we permit those districts which now have a rule against the employment of married teachers to decide themselves whether they want married teachers? That is the purpose of this amendment This amendment protects the married teachers who are now holding jobs; it protects the married teachers in those districts in which they employ married teachers, and it protects those districts which do not desire to employ married teachers in maintaining the rule which they have established. If a teacher is teaching in a district and becomes married, and there is no immediate discharge, that is, within the year, her tenure then becomes permanent and she has employment thereafter. This is only permitting the local districts to decide this problem. That is all you are voting on.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I realize that this question involves a lot of possible local interest and also involves a lot of local communities who have already determined to prohibit the employment of a school teacher who has become married. I realize quite well that this amendment submitted by the gentleman from Dauphin would be to the effect to allow those districts who have inaugurated that particular trend to continue in the application of that discretion in the future. However, it is a question, here, for this group to determine whether or not those districts which have already decided in that manner were wise in the exercising of their duty and their official discretion. Why the marriage of a woman should make her incompetent to serve in a school district while marriage by a man will not make the man incompetent to serve as a teacher, I cannot see. I cannot see that we as a group can enact legislation which is so patently unconstitutional. I cannot see that we can classify school teachers according to their opportunity to continue in the service of their school districts according to the female teachers and the male teachers, and say to the male teachers, "Irrespective of your marriage status, you may continue," but to the female teachers upon their marriage to say, "Upon the advent of your marriage we may terminate your teacher's contract." This problem I dare say carries with it a tremendous amount of moral implication. I do not think that any individual here can possibly realize the extent of the moral implication included in that amendment. We possibly have heard that in order to circumvent the rulings of certain local school boards, and in order to continue and to supplement their income, the female teachers have not been married. I question whether we in our wisdom should allow a situation such as that to continue among the teachers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. I have heard gentlemen wax very vociferous on the question of allowing our children to be taught in schools where there is a possibility of learning sedition. I say to you by allowing some of our local districts to persist in their local enactment of an unnatural law, exposes our children to far greater hazards, and I ask this amendment be voted down.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Chairman, members and the Committee and particularly my Democratic friends. I want to give you the pleasant surprise that I thoroughly agree with the sentiments expressed by your floor leader and that I am more surprised than you by the fact that he has come right out in the open and defended the matter on its merits, and did not seem to blame it on some other part of the criminal code or something else. I think he hit the nail on the head. I do not agree with the proposition that we should not allow any longer in any district in Pennsylvania a teacher to continue in her means of livelihood. I have three children going to school. I do not know whether their mother is less competent to teach them now than she was before she got married. My mother was a teacher. I have two sisters who are teachers, who are married, and I would say they are more competent to teach now than they were before they went through that remarkable experience of marrying a man. I want to say further that the more normally your children are brought up the better for you.

I think the more married teachers you have teaching your children the better for you and for them. I would like to see the State enact this portion of the law as it is written because I firmly believe one of the reasons we have the Legislature is to pass wise laws and prevent various districts from exercising their prejudices on matters of this sort. I, therefore, ask the members of the committee to vote down this amendment.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, the turn that this argument has taken in the debate by the last two speakers, reminds me of the old Irish woman who lost her husband. Her friends went around to commiserate with her. They said, "Mrs. Flaherty it is a shame that he didn't live, the wonderful man he was." She said, "Yes, it is terrible because he was a wonderful man. Every Friday night he would bring his pay envelope home and put it on the table in front of me, not that there was a damn thing in it, it was the spirit of the thing."

Now the gentleman from York doesn't often miss the point and I don't believe that he missed the point here at all. He is just trying, in his usual and vigorous way, to becloud the issue. I do not mind that coming from the other side, but when he gets one of my colleagues all befuddled on it and gets him around to a point where he thinks that his family and his children are being invaded, I do take exception. There was some remark made by the gentleman from York which I cannot reply to on the floor of the House, but if he will come to me privately I will explain it. He seems to have gotten me befuddled too.

My colleague from Dauphin county has not said a word against hiring married women. He very plainly and very clearly said so. Possibly the gentleman from York was so zealously studying the bill, trying to find out what was in it so he could debate, that he missed the point, and if the gentleman from McKean had not been quite so enthusiastic about the speech of the gentleman from York they both would have understood the proposition. There is nothing before the House that is contrary to the idea of hiring married women, and no matter how you may twist it, no matter how you say you misunderstand it, the facts are indisputable and cannot be misunderstood. There is nothing in the bill in opposition to the hiring of married women. If there were, I would go along enthusiastically with the gentleman from McKean and the gentleman from York and the gentleman from Luzerne, all of whom seem to have become so badly muddled.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I do not think we should end this discussion until I explain to the House why Mr. Turner was able to use the kind of word he used a little while ago. I could not repeat the word but I know why he was able to use it. A little while ago I had a page boy scour the capitol for a dictionary because I myself wanted to look up a term that I wanted to use. After a while he came back and said, "there was no dictionary in the Capitol, the only one I can find any trace of is in Mr. Turner's desk," so he possesses the only dictionary that is available and that is the reason why he was able to use that word.

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendment was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the section?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The CHAIRMAN. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 2 (sec. 1205), page 4, line 22, by striking out the words: "due to unpermitted absence from duty."

Amend sec. 2 (sec. 1205), page 5, line 26, by striking out with light-face brackets the following: "sixty days before the close of the school term."

Amend section 2 (sec. 1205), page 6, lines 5 and 6, by striking out with heavy faced brackets the words: "Wilful and persistent insubordination."

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendments?

POINT OF INQUIRY

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of inquiry.

The CHAIRMAN. Does the gentleman from Delaware desire to interrogate the sponsor of the amendment?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I would like to get these amendments straight if I may, so I may understand them. I think I can straighten them out quicker this way. Does the amendment start at the end of line five after the word "wilful" and take out "wilful and persistent insubordination"?

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman is correct, it removes from the act the phrase "wilful and persistent insubordination."

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, is this strike out because the gentleman from York feels that this reason is taken care of by other language in the act, or is it to take out that out as a reason?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, my understanding of this amendment is that this language is surplussage, that it is taken care of by other language in the act, and it is not necessary in the administration of a proper teachers' tenure act.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, this amendment which is now being stricken out is a House Committee amendment. The amendment which is now to be stricken out by the amendment offered by the gentleman from York as to "wilful and persistent subordination" is an amendment that was put into the bill by the House Committee on Education. I do not see anything else in the bill which covers the same language. The next words after those stricken out are "wilful and persistent negligence, mental derangement, persistent and wilful violation of the school laws of this Commonwealth." Certainly none of those covers the question of insubordination.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I am the person who put them in, and we had the unanimous consent of the Committee to put them in. Why you should single out a Republican and take out that amendment I cannot understand.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, that amendment was adopted by the Committee but not by unanimous vote. The vote was twelve to fourteen. We feel that this should be stricken from the bill because it takes in too much territory and it tends to weaken the bill and put into the hands of unfair school principals, school directors and school authorities another club over the school teachers and we feel that this should be stricken from the bill. I ask this Committee to support this amendment.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, after due consideration on the part of the Committee this particular amendment was inserted, and I for one want to stand by the action of that Committee. I am asking in all fairness for your consideration of this particular clause, that it remain in the bill as is. I am asking those of you who desire to be fair to stand by the action which has already taken place in the Committee. Therefore, let us vote down this amendment.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, Mr. Bohn said the vote was not unanimous. I want to explain to you that when it was first voted upon they tried to figure me out, but we won by two votes. Then after that I said, "You may put the word 'wilful' in it if you wish," and a member of the Committee made the motion and another member seconded it and there was not a vote against it, so I say it was unanimous.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, in view of the dispute upon this one amendment, may I ask that it be divided, and that the first two amendments offered by the gentleman, which have been read, one on page four and the other on page five, should be acted upon, and this amendment should be acted upon afterwards.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I ask that the question be divided on the amendment of section two, so that the House may vote on the amendment on page four, line twenty-two, and on the amendment on page five, line twenty-six, and then a vote be taken on the amendment on page six, lines five and six.

The CHAIRMAN. If there is no objection on the part of the committee, we will submit to the Committee the first two amendments offered by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen. In other words, those are not the amendments that have just been discussed.

On the question recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the section as amended?

The CHAIRMAN. The Clerk will read the third amendment offered by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 2 (sec. 1205), page 6, lines 5 and 6, by striking out with heavy faced bracktes the words "wilful and persistent insubordination."

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendment?

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, this places me in a rather peculiar position of having the Committee pass on that particular phrase yesterday, as it was explained here and that is true, and then having the amendment included in those that have been presented by the floor leader. I believe it is up to the membership of the Committee to decide this particular thing from what has been said about it. I hesitate, of course, to speak against the striking out of these words and certainly the Committee voted to put it in yesterday. However, since we are a Committee of the Whole and the entire House is a committee, I might voice my view upon that particular phrase without breaking faith with the Committee, and I think you will view it in the same manner.

The question of insubordination is about as wide as the world. I think that was the feeling when this amendment was included. I just want to mention one little thing about insubordination. When I looked at Mr. Turner's dictionary for the meaning of the word I found that it means "disobedience." There probably isn't a member in the House who can't refer back to some particular time in his life when he did something very serious from which he suffered, and he thought that he was not disobedient. Disobedience is a word that we might all ponder over. I do want to say this, when I was in the Army I met a man coming down the company street one day and he called me over and he said, "Here, what's the matter with you?" I said, "I don't know that there is anything wrong." He said, "You didn't salute me," and I said, "I saw nothing to salute, sir, if you are an officer," and that didn't help things very much,—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of order.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from Fayette will state his point of order.

Mr. WELSH. Mr. Chairman, the gentleman, is not talking on the question before the House.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Chairman, I am trying to explain the meaning of the word in a clear way.

The CHAIRMAN. The point of order is not well taken and the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Brownfield, will proceed.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Chairman, when I told him that I saw nothing to salute I did not mean any disrespect but that did not improve my status. Glowing red he said to me, "I will teach you young fellow to respect an officer," and I said, "That I saw nothing to salute, that he had on a raincoat and I saw no bars, but I had a very, very, difficult time to keep from being court-martialed by that man because I had failed to salute him when he had his bars covered. True he had on a pair of leather puttees, he had on a cap that was ordinarily classed as an officer's cap, but it so happened that the ordinance men wore leather puttees and so did some of the Y.M.C.A. men wear an officer's cap or one similar to it. That was insubordination and I have a hate of that word. I always have had, but I do not want you to accuse me of trying to take that out, I don't know anything about it, but I think it would be well for you to weigh this word because it is as wide as the ocean when you come to analyze it.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, when this matter was brought up in the Committee, Mr. Stewart, the gentleman from Indiana, inserted one word "insubordination." That passed by a vote of about fourteen to twelve, considering that word which is capable of so many constructions and I asked that "wilful and persistent" be added to it, in order to give it some sort of clarification. I did not find myself at that time in favor of this and I voted against it, and I think that ought to be left out of the entire section right now.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, you know if you attempted to define all the terms that are in there, immorality, incompetency and so forth you are going to have some trouble to define them. I am surprised that a man who has been in school work and who knows that there are teachers in the system who are insubordinate and who knows that there are people who are insubordinate insofar as county superintendents are concerned, that he does not know what it means. I am sure that all the persons who have ever had charge of a school and who have had a number of teachers under them know the trouble that they make, and they are troublesome people. This is the reason I put it in, and I say to you it is easier to explain than any of the other terms in there. If it takes a judge to decide upon all these things, certainly a judge will know what it means, and I ask you to stand by your Committee and be fair about it and leave this in.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, we are right at the very kernel of this bill. We have worked for weeks in order to effectuate what we think is a teachers' tenure bill, and then there have crept into the measure some insidious words which give to the individuals who in certain circumstances have been the antagonists of the teachers the opportunity to pervert the entire tenure act.

What is insubordination? Possibly a supervising principal or the principal of a school tells the teacher he should wear a silk shirt and he doesn't. That is insubordination. If the supervising principal does not like the type of shoes that the teacher wears—possibly the heels are too high or possibly they are too low—and she won't change her shoes, that is insubordination. If a teacher happens to be dressed in the modern vogue, the skirts being high as they are now, and the skirts worn by the teacher are a little bit higher than what the supervising principal thinks they should be and she doesn't lower the hem of her skirt, that is insubordination. That is the particular implication of the word insubordination, and by leaving it in the bill you are in reality saying that irrespective of what we have said in the previous pages or in the future pages of this bill it is a nullity.

Mr. Chairman, I am absolutely honest when I tell you that I do not know just what acts a teacher should be confronted with which would come within the definition so as to allow the inclusion in this act of "persistent insubordination." If you read the words that are utilized in this act, immorality, incompetence, intemperance, cruelty, negligence, mental derangement and persistent and wilful violation of the school law," you can get some very definite idea as to how they would apply in the teaching profession. But as to the problem of persistent insubordination, I cannot see how that will apply in the schoolroom. If the teacher refuses to abide by the instructions of the supervising principal relative to her school work, if she refuses to conduct her class in the manner prescribed by the school code, if the teacher refuses to adhere to the requirements of the school district relative to the school children, she can be dismissed by the terms of this act without the inclusion of the words "persistent insubordination." She is covered by the word "negligence," if she is not applying herself. I might call the attention of the membership to the fact that possibly that might be included in insubordination and make the teachers susceptible to discharge. Any act of a teacher can be construed as insubordination by an antagonistic supervising principal or some personal antagonism which has crept in between the teacher and those who are over her in authority. By that very word this entire tenure act, with which we seek to safeguard the teachers in their positions, by the inclusion of those words, the purpose of this bill would be defeated.

Let me read to you just a very short quotation of Dr. Elliot, former President of Harvard University, "The fear of losing one's job has kept education in America fifty years behind its possible improvement." I say to you men that by keeping in this act those words "persistent insubordination" you are holding back the possible improvement of our educational system another fifty years.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, is the gentleman in favor of keeping in a school system teachers who are wilfully and maliciously insubordinate?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I do not know what insubordination would be in a school system. I would like to say in further answer to the interrogation that the only authority for the definition of "insubordination" that I will accept will be that contained in the new Oxford dictionary.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I prefer to use an American dictionary, and the Oxford dictionary would not have in it terms familiar to Americans. I am using a later edition than the Oxford dictionary, Webster's Collegiate Dictionary. "Insubordination" is defined as the quality or state of being insubordinate. Insubordinate is defined as not subordinate, disobedient and mutinous, an insubordinate person. "Insubordination" is further defined as disobedience to authority. I again ask the gentleman from York whether he is in favor of and believes that it would be to the best interest of the school system to retain teachers in any districts if they were wilfully and maliciously insubordinate.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I would say that if the supervising principal told me he would like to see me wear a red necktie, and I would say "no," possibly under the gentleman's definition I would be insubordinate, and under the definition of this act I would be susceptible to discharge.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, Then your only difference with this is in the fact that you are afraid that some supervising principal or some director might object to the kind of necktie you wore,—and I think under ordinary circumstances he might be justified,—or that the skirts rising with the tide or with the costume might be too short, and so forth. Therefore, you would have no objection to defining "insubordination" to be insubordination pertaining to teaching in the curriculum and to the general policies of the school and not to the simple question of attire and so forth.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, in answer to that question, if it had anything to do with the curriculum or the method of the set up of the school system or any of the matters pertaining to the conduct of the school system, I think it would be covered by another clause in the act, which pertains to the wilful violation of the school laws of this Commonwealth.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, is there anything in the school laws of the Commonwealth pertaining to that?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. As to the curriculum, Mr. Chairman?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, is there anything in the school laws of Pennsylvania that provides for insubordination as to teaching in a certain manner or teaching in a certain way certain subjects?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, no, there is not.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, is there anything about the conduct of the teacher in the room?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, if the teacher in the room conducts her room in a manner that is a violation of the school code, she would be susceptible to dismissal because of that fact.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, if the school code does not provide for it, how would she be violating the law? You can not violate a law which does not exist.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I do not understand what the gentleman from Delaware means.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, it seems that we are both having difficulty. Maybe I should put it this way, in best Oxford English, so that you may understand. Would the gentleman be willing to amend the act as it stands instead of striking out, so that "insubordination" might be limited—that is, wilful and malicious insubordination—might be limited to the teaching?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, in answer to that, I possibly would be willing to do it but I still think it would be redundant, and that same question would be covered by the other section of the act which I have already quoted to the gentleman, namely, wilful and persistent violation of the school laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Chairman, may I interrogate the gentleman from Delaware and ask him what dictionary he is reading from?

The CHAIRMAN. I presume the gentleman from Delaware will answer the question.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, does the gentleman mean whose dictionary or the author of it?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. The publishers, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, the publishers are C. C. Merriam Company, and the dictionary is Webster's Collegiate Dictionary. I think this is the 1939 edition.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, apparently the gentleman from Delaware must feel that the "persistent insubordination" clause should be limited. He has indicated that by making an offer or some suggestion that the words "persistent insubordination" should be limited in their scope. I thought that the gentleman had in mind the thought that the word "insubordination" should be insubordination relative to matters that pertained to the instruction in the school district and the conduct of the classes, and so forth. I might call the attention of the membership of this Committee to the fact that the gentleman from Delaware admits that the utilization of these words "persistent insubordination," to extend them beyond the scope of the actual activities of the teacher in the class room would be incorrect, and if they are incorrect there is no necessity that "persistent insubordination" should be included in the act, because if a teacher does not conduct her class in the proper manner, you come right smack to the word "negligence"; if she is negligent in the manner in which she is doing her work. "Negligence," as the gentleman well knows, is a word with a termendously wide scope of interpretation, but negligence in this case would be applied to the work of the school teacher as a teacher, and not as the words "persistent insubordination" are applied in this act to whatever whim the supervisors might have in enforcing their authority upon the school district. I can only say to the members of this committee that the tacit admission of the gentleman from Delaware clearly indicates the point I have made previously to you, that to allow these words to remain in the act would nullify the act.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Chairman, we have certainly gone far astray from the question that is before us, and I think we have failed to realize the seriousness of the bill. If I am not mistaken, the gentleman from York is a member of the Committee on Education, and this particular phrase in the bill has been argued by the gentleman from York before the Committee on Education. I have been a member of this House for the third term, and I have never been a member of a committee—I have not sat with any committee that has been as deliberate, as careful, as conscientious in its deliberations as the Committee on Education is in this House at this time. This committee has been working for several weeks on this particular bill. To my recollection the gentleman from York attended but one meeting. When this particular clause came up which was argued pro and con. This is not a political matter, it should not be—it is not a party matter. The minority Republicans are just as much interested in the public schools as the majority Democrats.

Yesterday morning the minority had an experience the like of which I also had not previously had during my membership in this House. The Chairman of the Committee on Education called a meeting for 9:30, and we were there, members of the majority and members of the minority. A little before ten o'clock the Chairman announced that there would be a caucus of the Democratic members of the Committee on Education. Just what it meant we didn't know, but I want to say for the committee here that the Republican members of the Committee on Education sat there for two hours and forty minutes waiting for the majority to come back. If we had had no interest in this bill, if we were not concerned about it, there would not have been any reason, and we would not have stood there for two hours and forty minutes waiting for their return. Now, evidently this clause was in this bill when it was passed on by the majority members of the Committee on Education, and I want to say to you men that if the anger of the supervising principal is such as was described by the gentleman from York, then I want to say to you that this tenure bill should be defeated or it should be amended so that the supervising principal is not covered by it. The idea of attempting to waste time on the floor of this body, an intelligent body, on the fact that a supervising principal would stoop to the point of saying that the heels of a lady's shoes are too high or too low! Is that the character of the men who have charge of education in Pennsylvania? Do you mean to tell me that the supervising principal will say that the lady's skirt is an inch too high or an inch too low? If that is true, then I want to say to you men that the educational system of this country is one hundred years back of the time and not only fifty as the gentleman from York says. I want to say to the members of this House and to the membrs of this Committee on Education, that the Committee on Education has weighed this carefully for hours and hours. This was put in not as a party measure, it was put in as a non-political law, believing that it will cover the situation as we know it, and I want to say to you men that you have no right to take it out as a political matter.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Chairman, I mentioned the names of two persons in the Committee which I should not have done, and I ask their pardon, and I wish that you would take that out and say, "A member of the Committee" and leave the names out.

The CHAIRMAN. If there are no objections the record will be corrected as the gentleman has suggested.

Mr. STEWART. I thank you, Mr. Chairman. I must say, further that the Committee knows that I have not opposed this bill, and it would leave the impression that I put this in here because I wanted to weaken the bill or oppose the bill. I can prove in this House that a certain person sat beside me on the other side of the House, and when the amendments that came from the department over here were read over, I had them all marked, and I did in one-half hour just exactly the same that the Democratic committee worked out in over two hours. And I haven't opposed the bill; I want that understood.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Chairman, I think we have gone far afield in this word "insubordination." I might tell a little experience I had when I was a boy working in a breaker. At that time we had slate pickers, and in order to save my finger tips from getting red tops, I conceived the idea of getting little leather cases put on the ends of my fingers, and of course I was fired for insubordination because I wouldn't take those leather fingertips off of my fingers while picking slate.

I believe that the School Code provides certain things that the school authorities are compelled to do. School authorities of each district prescribe rules and regulations and so forth as to what a teacher's duty is, and if that teacher fails to carry out the orders of her superiors she is neglecting her duty, and under this bill she can be fired for neglect of duty, and I cannot see the sence of putting in the word "insubordination" which covers almost anything and everything you can mention. It is only put in there to defeat the real purpose of this bill. If some principal or supervising principal doesn't like the color of the hair, doesn't like the way she dresses, he can find plenty of things to say that she was insubordinate and to defeat the real purpose of this bill. Under this bill the words negligence of duty are sufficient to cover any educational matters pertaining to teachers in the school districts.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Chairman and fellow members of the House, I am indeed deeply surprised at my friend, Mr. Cohen, that he would stand before this honorable group and say to us all that a teacher might be removed because of her attire and things of that sort. Let us not forget when we are talking about persistent insubordination and wilfull insubordination that the case is to be proven before the court, and as an attorney, and one for whom we have all respect, I am surprised that Mr. Cohen would bring that before us, because he ought to have more respect for the courts than that. It seems to me he impugns the integrity of the court when he brings that thought. I would like also to have Mr. Cohen bring to us just when a teacher is incompetent and when a teacher is intemperate; if they imbibe in a glass of beer he cannot prove that they have been intemperate, neither can they prove as easily as he says before the court that a teacher has been insubordinate. The supervising principal and superintendent have authority and something to do with the operation of their school system. If your supervising principal has certain regulations to meet, it seems to me they should be respected, and it seems to me that surely those teachers have a method of going before the board in the event that the supervising principal becomes drastic in his demands.

I would like further to know whether we are following out a matter of principle when we spend hours in the committee to draft and prepare that which we have. Friends, it seems to me, if for no other reason, this amendment should be stricken out or defeated, that it is a matter of principle and that we ought to stand by the things that have been done in committee, that have been done honestly and openly and above board. That is just what has been done in this case. When a teacher is going about her duty, I am wondering if we can bring in such causes for insubordination as Mr. Cohen has spoken about? She is only there to attend to matters as a teacher. This matter of dress and shoes are not matters affecting her work as a teacher, and therefore could not be brought up under insubordination even on complaint of the supervising principal. Let us not forget after all that the court is the last resort, and as long as they have the courts they will not dare to haul a teacher before that court unless they have some just, bona fide reason for doing so. If Mr. Cohen will tell me that any of the other terms that we have included in this bill are plain, simple language, I am willing to admit then that this is vague. If any one can show me that incompetency, intemperance are easily defined, then I don't know anything about the English language. I submit as a teacher of long experience, that it seems to me that we are going beyond all bounds when we come in here at such a time like this, at such a late hour, and ask that such an amendment be inserted. I am asking you to be fair about this amendment and as a matter of principle let us vote this down with a tremendous majority.

On the question recurring.

Will the Committee agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNER and Mr. WESTRICK.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Chairman, I am very much in favor of taking this vicious word from the bill as I have indicated, but since the committee's action put it there I ask not to be recorded.

(During the cerification of the negative roll)

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is not recorded as having voted, and the affirmative roll has been verified.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent of the House so that the gentleman from Cumberland may record his vote.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, before objecting to that I would like to have some information, if I may get it by interrogation.

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. I will, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. TURNER. Was the gentleman from Cumberland in the Hall of the House when the roll was called?

Mr. SMITH. Yes, and voted Mr. Chairman.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, much as I dislike it, sir, I am going to object to the recording of the vote of the gentleman from Cumberland, because I was watching the roll very carefully. I heard his name called and I didn't hear his vote.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I feel sure that the gentleman from Delaware will withdraw his objections when he learns that the gentleman from Cumberland, like myself, is suffering from a very bad cold and his inability to make himself heard was due to his ailment. I ask unanimous consent, Mr. Chairman, that the gentleman from Cumberland be permitted to record his vote on the affirmative roll.

The CHAIRMAN. Does the gentleman from Delaware insist upon his objection?

Mr. TURNER. If the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Chairman, will state that his condition is such owing to a cold that he could not be heard I will withdraw my objection.

Mr. SMITH. I so say.

The CHAIRMAN. The objections are withdrawn and the gentleman will be recorded as voting aye.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third section was read and agreed to as follows:

Section 3 That section one thousand two hundred five A of said act as last amended by section two of the act approved the seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws 1576) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1205-A The salary of any [teacher principal supervisor] district superintendent [or] assistant district superintendent or other professional employee as defined in this act in any of the school districts of the Commonwealth may be increased at any time during the term for which such person is employed whenever the board of school directors (or board of public education) of the district deems it necessary or advisable to do so but there shall be no demotion of any professional employee either in salary or in type of position without the consent of the said employee or if such consent is not received then such demotion shall be subject to the right to a hearing before the board of school directors (or board of public education) and an appeal in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the dismissal of a professional employee

The fourth section was read as follows:

Section 4 That section one thousand two hundred eight of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Any hearing under the provisions of this section shall be conducted in accordance with the procedures specified in section one thousand two hundred and five of this act and shall be subject to the same privileges of appeal as therein set forth

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the section?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The CHAIRMAN. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 4 (sec. 1206), page 11, by striking out all of lines 20 to 29 inclusive.

Amend sec. 4, (sec. 1208), page 12, by striking out all of lines 1 to 7 inclusive.

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendments?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, I would ask leave to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. TURNER. May I ask the reason, Mr. Chairman, for striking out section 4, page 11?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, I yield to the gentleman from Fayette, the Chairman of the Committee on Education, who is an authority on these tenure bills.

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Brownfield, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. I will, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, may I ask the gentleman from Fayette what is the purpose of striking out Section 4, page 11 and the lines on page 12, as proposed by this amendment?

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Chairman and Mr. Turner, section 1208, I believe, is aimed to enable the Board to dismiss the teacher for a specified reason at any time. Back on page 5 you will notice line 26, page 5, specifies that, "sixty days before the close of the school term." Now, that section I think is unnecessary since we have amended on page 5, line 4, to dismiss a teacher at any time. The Board does not need to give the teachers sixty days notice. It may dismiss for cause at any time.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, was not the sixty day notice stricken out according to the early amendment?

Mr. BROWNFIELD. In the early amendment, Mr Chairman.

Mr. TURNER. This afternoon or this evening that was stricken out, Mr. Chairman?

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Yes, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. TURNER. And the gentleman says, Mr. Chairman, that since that is stricken out, that there is no need for section 1208; is that it?

Mr. BROWNFIELD. That is right, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. TURNER. In other words, Mr. Chairman, there were two provisions in here as to the matter of dismissal, is that correct?

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Yes, Mr. Chairman, Doctor Ashley pointed that out to the committee, that we had neglected to take into consideration that this phrase was back further in the bill.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman and Mr. Brownfield, it looks to me and some of those around me here that if you take this provision out you cannot dismiss for any reason at all.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Chairman, I think the gentleman is wrong there.

Mr. TURNER. We cannot guess about that, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. When there is no specified period there, certainly there would be no guess about it, Mr. Turner.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Chairman, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. TROUT. Will it be in order to make a motion at this time?

The CHAIRMAN. What is the nature of the motion?

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Chairman, I would like to make a motion, if I may, that this bill be re-referred to the Committee on Education for further study.

The CHAIRMAN. A motion to recommit is not in order at this time.

MOTION FOR COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE TO RISE

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, the gentleman from Fayette may be perfectly correct in his contention, but it seems to me that this is the whole meat of the whole bill, and as we have no definite out, and as we are asked here on the spur of the moment to determine whether this section should be in or out, with only a brief understanding on the part of the gentleman from Fayette, I therefore move that we rise from the Committee of the Whole.

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I rise to a point of order, Mr. Chairman.

The CHAIRMAN. The gentleman from York will state his point of order.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. The motion of the gentleman from Delaware is out of order as it does not carry with it the report to the House on the bill under consideration by the Committee of the Whole as amended.

The CHAIRMAN. The Chair rules that if the motion of the gentleman from Delaware were to prevail the bill would be reported back to the House as amended, and therefore the motion is in order and it is for the Committee to decide whether they wish to report the bill back as amended.

On the question recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the motion?

The Chairman declared the noes appeared to have it,

Whereupon, a division was called for, thirty-eight members having voted in the affirmative and one hundred and thirty-five in the negative, the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the Committee agree to the amendments?

Mr. TURNER. May I ask, Mr. Chairman, whether there is any one in the House who can explain it.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, section 1208, the reason that we want this stricken out of the bill is because we have amended section 1205, therefore it makes section 1208 obsolete. Now, we placed an amendment on page 5, line 26. We struck out of the bill, "sixty days before the close of the school term," and this amendment takes care of everything that section 1208 was originally intended to do. Therefore we feel that the section is not in accord with the bill and it should be taken out. It is obsolete because of the fact that we have taken care of all that in section 1205.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker. I think the explanation that can be given on this bill is very clear. It only goes to cure a technical defect. We have passed an amendment on the dismissal of the employes of the school system by a previous section of the act. The section now under consideration, which we seek to strike from the act, section 4 was section 1208 of the Edmonds Act which prescribes the manner in which teachers would be relieved of their employment under the old Edmonds Act. Now, it is not necessary as has been done up to this point, to prescribe a means whereby the Edmonds Act could be amended. We are by this act prescribing another method for relieving teachers of their employment. If we strike out the entire section we would have section 1208 of the Edmonds Act still in essence, and we would also have the other provisions relative to teachers' tenure which we hope will be enacted into law on Monday. As for me, I do not think it requires even a careful reading of the bill to ascertain that 1208 of the Edmonds Act of the School Code and the other sections that we have passed are somewhat in conflict, even though there was an attempt to amend section 1208 to conform with other sections of this act. All this amendment does is to strike out of the bill the provision that have been in existence in section 1208 of the School Code, and the method of dismissing school teachers will be determined by sections 1, 2 and 3 of the present act.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, with the exception that the gentleman from York is a bit mixed as to the Edmonds Act and the School Code, I am inclined to think that he is right.

On the question recurring,

Will the Commitee agree to the amendments?

They were agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the section as amended?

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Chairman, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The CHAIRMAN. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend page 12, section 4, line 7, by adding after the word "forth" the following: "No professional employe who is not the holder of a proper teacher's certificate in full force and effect at the date of approval of this act and no professional employe whose teacher's certificate shall hereafter fail to come within any requirement of standard set by the State Council of Education shall have or receive the benefits or protection of this act."

On the question,

Will the Committee agree to the amendment?

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Chairman and members of the committee, at about 4:50 post meridian, to use the words of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Baine, we opened this debate on the Teachers' Tenure Bill. It was my privilege at that time to offer amendments which for causes which are shown in the roll-call, were not accepted. I, however, wish to thank the members for their very considerate and courteous attention at that time. Now, I am not going to hold you very long, but I wish to call your attention to this amendment which is now before you for consideration. Let me again refer to the wording of the amendment, which I feel should be incorporated in this act, and ask your support for the amendment: "No professional employe who is not the holder of a proper teacher's certificate in full force and effect at the date of approval of this act and no prefessional employe whose teacher's certificate shall hereafter fail to come within any requirement of standard set by the State Council of Education shall have or receive the benefits or protection of this act."

During the course of the debate this afternoon or evening, a great deal has been said about efficiency and the high standard that should be maintained in the public schools of our great Commonwealth, and all that has been said both pro and con on the measures before this body dealing with this subject has been proven acceptable in the minds of us all. We are working for the best interests of the children in the schools, the teachers, the folks back home.

Members of the Committee, one or two points concerning this amendment. In the first place we should, if we are intending to refuse a probationary period, we should then provide, specifically and directly, and not by innuendo or indirectly, that teachers who are signed to a contract will be properly qualified by the rules and regulations of the Department of Education.

To carry the point a bit further, as time goes on, as these teachers have the benefit of the tenure act placed at their disposal it is possible, because we are human and they are human, that they will feel that they are qualified by their certificates and do not have to progress and go ahead for the benefit of our school system. Therefore, referring to the latter part of the amendment as offered, let me again call it to your attention: "And no professional employe who is not the holder of a proper teacher's certificate in full force and effect at the date of approval of this act and no professional employe whose teacher's certificates shall hereafter fail to come within any requirement of standard set by the State Council of Education shall have or receive the benefits or protection of this act." You will notice that the amendment provides that the question of competency rests with the State Council or the State Department of Public Education, and they therefore, members of the Committee, in order to insure those who are teaching in our public schools today and in the future will keep abreast of the times—provide for extra curricular work which the department might feel is necessary. I ask that this amendment become incorporated in this act so that there will be no misunderstanding and no need for a Webster's or Oxford dictionary, so that you can find the question for determination in the act in plain English.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, it is only because of the extreme regard in which I hold the gentleman from Montgomery that prevented me from interrupting the gentleman during the course of his debate. The gentleman has an amendment to section 4. This Committee has already acted on section 4 by striking the entire section out of the bill, so apparently the gentleman is amending a section to the bill which is not in the bill. I first wanted to call that to the attention of the Committee and to the attention of the Chair. However, I prefer, and I think the gentleman will prefer that we discuss his amendments upon the merits. That usually leaves one with a much better taste in the mouth. The gentleman's amendments as I understand it, having heard them for the first time, would seek to prevent the application of this act to the teachers who are now teaching under a temporary certificate.

May I interrogate the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Longaker?

The CHAIRMAN. Will the gentleman from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LONGAKER. I will, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Am I correct in that assumption as to the effect of your proposed amendments?

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, in answer to the interrogation of the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen. I would say that in the second line of the amendments the word "proper" is used, which would include either temporary or permanent. If the teacher is one who has not had the requisite three years which would qualify her under the permanent certificate, she would come under this amendment and be protected under this amendment, because the word "proper" is used and that would refer to her certificate being proper under the conditions as they are. Does that answer your question?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. As I understand the amendments, Mr. Chairman, what the gentleman seeks to accomplish by this amendment is to prevent this tenure act from having any effect upon the individuals who do not have a proper certificate. Now, I don't just know what would be included in the term of improper certificate—I must confess that I am not an expert on the School Code. I was unfortunate enough never to represent a school district, but nevertheless I can see an apparent defect in the amendments which the gentleman from Montgomery seeks to insert. If the school teacher is teaching under a temporary certificate and if she is not proper, or rather if her work in the school is not of such a nature as will allow her to be permanently certified, undoubtedly this act will have no affect whatsoever in perpetuating her continued identity with the particular school district. The School Code specifically provides the qualifications that are necessary in order to be a school teacher, and if the school teacher cannot comply with those qualifications, then this particular act will have no effect whatsoever in continuing her identity with the school district. Now, undoubtedly there are a great number of school teachers who are teaching possibly on a temporary certificate. If their work is satisfactory, if they are competent, if they are doing the work in the proper manner, there is no reason why they should not be given the protection of this act. If their work is not competent, if they are unsatisfactory, if they are not attending to their scholastic duties in the proper manner, then there is no doubt that they will not be permanently certified by our own Department of Public Instruction, so the problem which the gentleman from Montgomery seeks to cure is one that should not give us a tremendous amount of concern.

The same condition exists in any school district employing a teacher on a temporary certificate. That teacher will continue her employment as long as she is able to be certified by the Department of Public Instruction. If after the term of three years under temporary certification, she is not satisfactory, this tenure act will not keep her in her position. This tenure act can only definitely secure to the individuals who are permanently certified a permanent position. I therefore say to the membership of this Committee that there is no necessity whatsoever for the adoption of these amendments.

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Chairman, the purpose of the amendment does not only take into consideration the change from temporary to permanent certificates for teachers, it also takes into consideration the condition that does exist and will exist in the future where a teacher desires to hold a position in the school in which he or she now teaches, and the requirements of that particular school. They are raising his or her certificate from temporary to permanent so it is necessary for him or her to completely fill the position. In that case I offer an amendment to make it imperative on him or her to qualify properly under the Department of Public Instruction or Education so that he or she can keep abreast of the times and teach satisfactorily in that particular school district. In conclusion, there are instances where teachers will wish to better their position, and perhaps go from one school to a school of higher classification. In that case, Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, that teacher should of necessity be forced to obtain the proper certificate by passing proper examinations or whatever test is required by the Department of Public Instruction in order to continue his or her education to the proper degree, so that his or her teaching thereafter will redound to his or her benefit and to the credit of your children and without any trouble.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN, Mr. Chairman, in further answer to the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Longaker I wish to state this. We seem to have lost the purpose of this bill. This bill is not to establish the qualifications for certificates or whether a school board in a certain supervisory position should or should not hire a person with a certain type of certificate. This is a tenure bill. As to the qualifications of teachers, as I understand, that is directly set forth in our present School Code. I also understand that in our present code there is a provision that will amend the School Code in a manner that will possibly take care of the point raised by the gentleman from Montgomery.

My point is that this is a purely a tenure measure. We don't have to go into the qualifications. We don't have to go into the question as to whether or not the teachers can properly qualify to do the work which they are employed to do. All those other matters are covered in the School Code. I would say to the members of this House, do not encumber this tenure act with any extraneous matter which rightfully and properly, I might say, belongs in the School Code.

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, first I want to apologize for speaking at length so many times on this bill but I disagree entirely with the explanation of my proposed amendments which the gentleman from York placed on them. In my opinion, and I think in his too, if teachers are going to have tenure,—and I believe that practically every one in this room feels that they should have tenure, I submit that the teacher should come her halfway and see that she is properly qualified to continue teaching as time goes on and the years go on.

I submit, Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, that had the Committee acted favorably on the probationary amendment which I offered a while ago, this amendment would not now be offered, but in order to give some assurance to the school districts and to the children in the school that their teachers will go forward with the new ideas, the new theories and the new facts found in education that this should certainly be incorporated in a tenure bill because tenure should apply to those teachers who properly deserve tenure.

Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, let me finally thank you for your patience in listening to me.

Mr. BROWNFIELD. Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, I see why Mr. Longaker might be fearful of certification being taken away in this bill, but for the life of me I cannot see how he feels that the enactment of this bill would in any way jeopardize the requirements of certification that the Department of Public Instruction has set up to this time or will set up in the future. The fears are absolutely groundless, because how we can get certification mixed up here with tenure is something I cannot understand.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Chairman, the gentleman from York is entirely right, and we are here legislating tenure for teachers and not amending the School Code. The gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Longaker, of course states that his amendments provide for a proper certificate. We are not interested in whether it is a proper certificate for some specific department of education, but merely the matter of tenure. In the bill, on page three, it provides for certificates. It says in the printer's copy, Printer's No. 162, page three, the term "provisional employee as used in this act shall include teachers, supervisors supervising principals, directors, directors of vocational education, dental hygienists, visiting teachers, school secretaries, the selection of whom is on the basis of merit as determined by eligibility lists school nurses who are certified as teachers and regular full-time employe of a school district who is duly certified as a teacher." RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO POLICIES ENCOURAGING AND FOSTERING INDUSTRIES OF PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, April 5, 1937.

Whereas, We have in Pennsylvania many diversified industries engaged in the business of manufacturing, producing and selling various products and commodities; and

Whereas, The State Government through its various agencies is a large consumer and distributor of many of these products and commodities; and

Whereas, In certain instances discriminatory practices have been set up by certain administrative agencies, which tend to handicap Pennsylvania industries which are in competition with certain foreign state industries of like nature; and

Whereas, This practice results in a lessened employment in the State; and

Whereas, It is the duty of the General Assembly to deal with the problem of unemployment and relief, and particularly when such problems are directly traceable to the question of unemployment; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That any economic advantage granted to foreign industries works to the disadvantage of Pennsylvania industry and tends to increase unemployment in this Commonwealth, and where such advantage results from policies adopted by an administrative agency, it is hereby declared that such policies are deemed contrary to the spirit of the discretionary powers vested in such agency.

Resolved, That the General Assembly believes that the policies of all administrative agencies should at all times be formulated to encourage and foster Pennsylvania industry and should not be such as will penalize Pennsylvania industry by requiring it, in order to gain a market, to sell certain products and commodities below a price charged by and paid to industries outside Pennsylvania for products and commodities of the same grade or character.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires concurrent resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not know what is in the resolution, therefore, I object to its immediate consideration.

The PRESIDENT. Objection having been made to immediate consideration, the resolution is referred to the Committee on Labor and Industry.

hundred and seventy-four (P. L. 73), entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," vesting discretion in the governor with respect to the approval of the charter of certain corporations.

And said bill having read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EALY: Mr. President, under the present law, when an application or a charter is presented to the Department of the State, it is examined and then given to the Governor, whose duty under the present law, is to examine the same and if he finds it in proper form he shall endorse thereon his approval and direct Letters Patent to issue, but this bill contains this proviso: "Provided, however, that the Governor may in his decretion refuse to approve the certificate for the incorporation of any corporation for the purpose of providing any public utility service if in his oponion the issuing of letters patent to such corporation would not be to the best interests of the Commonwealth or to the inhabitants thereof."

I do not know whether this is classed under the 'must' legislation which the Governor demands, but is sufficed that the power which is sought to be given to the Governor is more than a bad Governor should have and more than a good Governor should want.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon all the nominations reported at today's session.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The PRESIDENT. Request has been made of the Chair that the vote be separated, and that the first vote be had on all five recommendations for the Public Utilities Commission.

Mr. PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

QUESTION OF LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, do I understand we are now voting on the confirmation of the Utilities Commission?

The PRESIDENT. That is right.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, on behalf of many of our Republican Senators, who are in the minority, at this time we find ourselves in the position where, representing as we do constituents from the various parts of Pennsylvania, we feel it is our bounden duty to try to lift our Democratic majority friends out of the depths of a hole which they have placed themselves in through their heedlessness and recklessness.

Only last week they ripped out of office the Public Service Commissioners of Pennsylvania; they ripped them out without regard or paying any attention to what should be their duty as of that particular date, and the State of Pennsylvania now stands without having a Utilities Commission to take care of its citizens, particularly as to the rate affairs of Pennsylvania. This was caused by the heedlessness, recklessness and desire of our Democratic majority to steam-roller whatever they undertake to do.

My Republican colleagues in this Senate have at all times, and still are, opposed to this system of ripper—ripping out offices for no other purposes than to get political control of the positions that come in these various departments. It is ripper here and ripper there, ripper down to the poorest and lowest class of people in the employ of the various counties of this Commonwealth. We hear now and then the great story that these acts are being done for reform, they are being done to save expenses, they are being done for the benefit of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Those of us who are politically minded, and in politics, cannot be fooled, and I do not believe that the citizens of Pennsylvania can be fooled; and the time of reckoning must come; but in this particular instance we feel that it is our duty, our bounden duty, to protect the citizens of Pennsylvania from the ravishing of our departments by our Democratic friends in their zeal to control public office.

But we cannot and we will not be a party to a condition that will deprive the State of Pennsylvania from having this particular institution re-established. Pennsylvania must have a rate board; Pennsylvania cannot do without it; and we are not going to stand up and see the citizenship of this great Commonwealth without proper representation.

Only last week, when the bill for the ripper was passed, there was an effort made to include in that ripper bill that great reform that our friends talk so much about, which we wanted to include in it. An amendment was offered to have in it a Civil Service Commission, a commission whereby the men who are to be in charge, and the employes, should pass a civil service examination. Not only was our amendment not accepted, but debate on the question was cut off in this Senate, and the Republican members were not given the opportunity and the courtesy of even being heard on this particular question.

Our Democratic friends on the other side are having a great time now, and a great party, and they ask every now and then, "What did you Republicans do a few years ago?" That seems to be the stereotyped question that is asked on every motion we make. If they are so pure, and they are so interested in the welfare of the people of Pennsylvania, let them take warning, indeed, of the misconduct of the Republicans in the past, if there were such misconduct, and not go deeper and further down in this desire to uproot all the established institutions of Pennsylvania for no other purpose than political control of positions.

We were told, in an elaborate speech,—and I have had no prepared speech—last week that the Municipal Court of Philadelphia had hired men who were barbers, hired men that had no experience, were unfit for the jobs—notwthstanding the fact that some of them had been in this job for eighteen or twenty years; and of the great crimes the Republicans had committed. You have for confirmation here tonight, and I believe the majority of my colleagues are going to vote for their confirmation, five men whom nobody but the Democratic leaders who suggested their appointment know who they are, where they came from, and what their qualifications are for these positions. They are appointed here, and for the salvation of Pennsylvania we must vote for them at this time in order that this great Commonwealth shall not suffer.

You cannot play fast and loose, and you cannot fool the public; and there is no great reform in any of these rippers. It is rip! rip! rip! for the displacement of Republican jobholders by Democratic job-holders. This may be politics, and I am an old-time politician—been at it for many many years—and I find no great fault with idea of the Democratic party, while they are in power, taking control; but I do feel that in passing these various pieces of legislation, and trying to fool the public on the theory that it is done for the good and welfare of the people of Pennsylvania, the common welfare of Pennsylvania and its citizenship is never thought of for a single minute. They ought to come out openly and sportsmanship-like and say, "We have got control of Pennsylvania and we are going to grab all the political jobs there are, and put as few strings around them as possible." That would be a sportsmanship way of doing it. I am satisfied and convinced that the populace of Pennsylvania will not be deceived by these pseudo-reform tactics.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I did not want to enter into debate on the confirmation of the gentlemen whose appointments are before us; but since the character of some of them has been impugned by the remarks of the previous speaker, I think it calls for some little explanation.

I think the Democratic party would be derelict in its duty if it did not do what it is attempting to do in the halls of this Legislature today. For ten years the public of Pennsylvania has been crying out for a re-organization of the Public Service Commission. It is still, in fact, within the memory of all of us when Public Service Commissioners went to Europe upon the payroll of the utility companies, and by money furnished by the utility companies. The headlines of the Morgan tip list are still fresh in the memory of all of us, and the Public Service Commission as we have known it over the past ten years has not been the simon pure institution which has been indicated by the remarks of the former speaker.

Naturally enough, not all of the men upon this commisison have been tarred with the same stick as those whose personalities made the headlines, but we know, from the activities of this commission in water cases and light cases and power cases, that the sympathy of this commission, or, by far, the majority of its members, has not been with the interest of the public of Pennsylvania.

The gentlemen whose names are presented here this evening are all men of outstanding character. The struggle of the man nominated for chairman against the utility tie-up which attempted to browbeat the Congress of the United States in much the same fashion as an attempt is made currently upon the Senate of Pennsylvania, is well known; he is a man whose genius is probably unparalleled in this State.

The same thing may be applied to many of the other members nominated. One now occupies a distinguished position in the United States service, and all of them are men of character and responsibility; and I say to you, Mr. President, that we are not only fulfilling a platform pledge but we are also fulfilling a longfelt desire of the people of Pennsylvania when we confirm the nominations which are presented to us this evening by His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I merely want to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that the Public Service Commission, or the Public Utilities Commission, is a judicial body; and I, for one, am happy to find the Governor of this great Commonwealth, in the men he has nominated, proving to the people at large that our Executive does not believe, with President Roosevelt, that a man loses his usefulness when he becomes seventy years of age.

At least two of the members of this commission will serve the greater part of their time, if confirmed by this Senate tonight, after the age of seventy years; and so I say again I think the people of Pennsylvania can be congratulated that the Governor of this Commonwealth has given the lie to the scheme of attacking the Supreme Court of the United States and using as the excuse the age of the men.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, some of us in this Senate are neither New Deal nor Old Deal, we are simply new. It seems to us that are new that there is a lot of undue haste, first of all in the ripping of this old commission, and, secondly, in the hurried appointment of the new members. Personally, I—and I feel my opinion is shared by other members of the Senate—know nothing for or against these gentlemen. I do know this, that last week in a daily newspaper it was stated a certain Pennsylvania United States Senator was too busy to come back and attend the dinner given in honor of our Lieutenant-Governor, and yet the next day the same daily paper said he hurried to Harrisburg to help the Governor in appointing this new Commission. I do know that the daily papers say that a certain contractor of Philadelphia, who is not a member of this Senate, has been consulted in the naming of this commission.

We hear a lot about "We, the people." If there is any classification in Pennsylvania composed of "We, the people" it is the rate-payers; and I am just wondering, Mr. President, if we are giving, in this hurried action, sufficient concern for the rate-payers of Pennsylvania: Is it fair to them to hurriedly pass on men who have not officially submitted to us their qualifications for this great office?

We have confirmed other appointments by His Excellancy, but those were limited in the time for which they would serve. The record will show that I personally voted for the new Common Pleas Court in the County of Philadelphia. I was also glad to vote for the appointments of the Executive in naming the judges; but those gentlemen will only serve for a limited time, those gentlemen can be put out of office, by the people of Philadelphia, at the next popular election. These commissioners we are naming tonight can only be put out of office by the Senate of Pennsylvania.

I wish to say to you that I think this action is hurried—unnecessarily so; we are placing these men in office with a cloud over them, with a taint over them-that is unjust and unfair to them-that their appointment has been dictated, or, at least, influenced by political reasons.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I expect to vote "No" for the simple reason that there is no civil service in the set-up of this commission. The civil service amendments offered by my colleague were summarily rejected, and there will be no civil service in this Public Utilities Commission.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz

STATEMENT BY MR. WOODSIDE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statemenet:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House: The sit-down-strike epidemic broke out in Dauphin County since this House last sat here. On Friday the factory of the Hershey Chocolate Corporation was closed and 2400 people are out of work as a result. Since that time Mr. Habbyshaw and I representing the District in which this strike occurred have given it much time and thought.

We are greatly concerned about the 2400 people and their dependents who were employed in this plant. We are greatly concerned about the Orphans in Pennsylvania, present and furture, who through a trustee appointed for the purpose of educating them own 70% of the stock of the corporation.

We are frank to admit that we regret that this thing should take place in the model community of Hershey where a great philanthropist has through 38 years of effort built a community of which all of Pennsylvania is justly proud.

It is not in our place at this time to question who is right and who is wrong nor what is right and what is wrong in this industrial dispute. It is not in our place at this time to consider whether there should be a closed shop or an open shop, or who should be discharged during the seasonal layoff.

There is a matter, however, over which Mr. Habbyshaw and I have the greatest concern. I am certain that if the facts are called to the attention of this House that every member in it will join in that serious concern. I refer to the 5300 odd farmers who depend on the operation of the Hershey Chocolate Corporation for the disposition of their milk.

Gentlemen of this House from Pittsburgh, you live in a great city, but in a second class township of Dauphin County there is used each day that the Hershey Chocolate Corporation operates, more milk than is bottled and sold in your great city.

Members from Philadelphia, you live in a great and even larger city but in a second class township in my County, there probably is more milk consumed each day that the Hershey Chocolate Corporation operates, than is bottled and sold in your city. Over 700,000 lbs. of milk are used daily by the Hershey Chocolate Corporation. Nearly $15,000 a day is paid to farmers for this milk.

At no time can the farmers of Pennsylvania afford to lose $15,000 a day. But at this time of the year they can least afford it. Many of these farmers must now purchase feed for their cattle. At this time the farmers have little or nothing to sell with the exception of milk. At this time they need money to purchase seed and fertilizer.

Serious as it is to these 5300 farmers who deal directly with the Hershey Chocolate Corporation, the problem is by no means confined to them. To throw on the milk market at the present time 350,000 qts. of milk a day which would otherwise be consumed by this manufacturing concern, might well upset the present tottering milk market of the entire State causing tremendous loss to all the dairy farmers of this Commonwealth.

From these facts I feel confident that you will agree with us in our position that whatever is possible to be done for these farmers, the innocent victims of this industrial struggle, must be done and must be done immediately.

From the best information obtainable it appears that there is no dispute over the wages being paid by the Hershey Chocolate Corporation nor is there any dispute over the hours of labor. They have a minimum wage of 60c an hour for men and 45c an hour for women which is in accordance with an agreement entered into between the Union and the Company.

We understand the strike was called as the result of the discharge of certain employees. There is a department in the factory however, in which we understand that no employees were laid off and in which the corporation probably will not lay off any employees. I refer to that department which receives the milk and reduces it to powdered form whereby it can be stored and kept. If this Department were operated it would be possible to accept the milk from the farmers and reduce it to powdered form. This would solve the serious problem now facing the farmers of Pennsylvania. As far as we can see it would not seriously interfere with either the Union or the Company in their negotiations.

We feel that every effort should be made and the weight of this House should be behind a movement to bring about the opening of this department of the plant in order that the farmers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania might not be put to great loss and suffering. We feel that the first step should be for this House to call upon the Hershey Chocolate Corporation and the Union to agree to the operation of this part of the factory. For that purpose Mr. Habbyshaw and I have prepared and are now introducing a Resolution calling upon the Hershey Chocolate Corporation to agree to immediately open the department of the plant used for powdering milk and calling upon the Union to permit such operation.

The Resolution has been mimeographed and will be put upon all your desks. The necessity for prompt action must be apparent to all. It is not our idea to ask for an immediate consideration of this resolution. We have no desire to put any member on the spot. We desire careful consideration and deliberation by the House—consideration that we hope will be free from politics.

We are therefore asking that the Speaker refer this resolution to the appropriate committee, probably the Committee on Agriculture. We ask him whether he will not consider doing this immediately. We then ask the chairman of the Committee to which it is referred whether he will not some time during this evening session call a meeting of that committee to consider the resolution. We believe that the committee will see fit to report the resolution and we hope that the majority floor leader and the Democratic members of this House will see fit to then permit a consideration of this Resolution this evening.

Although the Resolution will not be printed it is mimeographed and every member will have it before him for study and consideration.

STATEMENT BY MR. JOHN A. SMITH

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that following the introduction of the resolution by the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, it is my duty to say that it was my privilege to be invited to sit with a group of milk producers this afternoon, with the management and with the labor union people. We sat there from two o'clock until five-thirty and an agreement was reached whereby the milk from the five thousand producers of milk for the Hershey Chocolate Company would begin to move tomorrow. It will not move upon the basis of being made a powdered milk, because the Hershey Chocolate Company is so constituted that they do not make powdered milk, but they process their milk in such manner as to start the process of making candy. So after three and a half hours of deliberation this afternoon, an agreement was reached whereby the farmers went home satisfied that the milk of those five thousand farmers would not have to be destroyed and I believe there is an amicable solution on the way.

STATEMENT BY MR. WOODSIDE

Mr. WOODSIDE asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have been informed that there was a tentative agreement, of which we had some knowledge before making this statement. However, as we understand that agreement to exist, it is that the cream will be separated down there at Hershey and the skim milk will be given back to the farmer and the cream sent out on the market—sent out to Pittsburg, I believe, is the present plan. If that is true that will still tend to flood the market and will have a serious affect upon the entire milk industry of this Commonwealth:

RESOLUTION No. 62.

Whereas, differences have arisen between the Hershey Chocolate Corporation and the United Chocolate Workers Union resulting in a sit down strike and the closing of the corporation's factory located in Hershey, Dauphin County, and

Whereas, the differences arose over the discharge of employees and not over hours of work or wages, and

Whereas, no employees were discharged in the Department of the factory where milk is reduced to powdered form, and

Whereas, as a result of the closing of the said department over 5300 of the farmers of Pennsylvania have lost a market for their milk totalling over 700,000 lbs. a day with the resulting loss of nearly $15,000 a day to said farmers, and

Whereas, this vast amount of surplus milk totalling over 350,000 qts. a day may seriously affect the entire milk market of the Commonwealth causing a substantial loss to all dairy farmers of this State, Therefore Be It

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that this House does hereby urgently request the Hershey Chocolate Corporation to immediately open the Department used for the reducing of milk to powdered form and continue to purchase from their farmers their usual supply of milk, and be it further

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 3, page 4, by striking out all of lines 7 to 16 inclusive

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to question the gentleman from Delaware as to the effect of his amendment. Would the amendment that the gentleman has offered make the appropriation for the increase of salaries to teachers of the fourth class school district a general fund obligation?

Mr. TURNER. It would, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, would the amendment that the gentleman has offered make that general fund obligation an obligation of the Commonwealth irrespective of whether or not there had been sufficient tax moneys collected for this particular function of the Commonwealth?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that an appropriation can make funds available unless there have been sufficient taxes levied and collected, but I think what you mean to say is, would the general fund be liable for this money that is appropriated to fourth class school districts. That is correct, it would.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, would not the contemplated amendment of the gentleman make that an obligation of the general fund irrespective of whether or not we pass additional tax legislation to provide funds necessary for this particular function?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that has been the experience in the past. You have a deficiency appropriation bill or you did have, and it was passed by the House, to provide for $6,900,000 for the public schools for moneys mainly expended under the Edmonds Act.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, well then the amendment would destroy any connection with this appropriation to teachers of the fourth class school districts, any connection of that appropriation with the act to raise those funds, would it not?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that is correct. I believe and I think that most of you will agree with me that it is a very dangerous principle to make school appropriations dependent upon some special fund, which may fail. We had one sample of that a few years ago.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if the act referred to in section three of House Bill No. 1978 is not passed, or if the act is declared unconstitutional upon final passage, would there not then be a deficit in the general fund to the amount that is appropriated by this act?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that depends to a great extent on the gentleman's interpretation of a deficit. I think that I recall that he and I had some debate not long ago, and under the figures which the Governor has produced there is to be a three million dollar surplus at the end of the biennium. I thing that is more than they anticipated to secure under the chain store tax.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, would the genlteman have any further suggestion as to how these moneys could be raised without the particular tax referred to in section three of this bill?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that we are dealing with that problem at all. I think that is begging the issue. Whatever we have determined we have to have, you have already put in bills and I presume will put in others when you find out just how much you need to balance the budget. I might say, if I may, Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from York that since the beginning of this session it has been the opinion of the Republican members of this House, as evidenced by bills which they introduced, that teachers in the fourth class school districts should have a greater amount of pay. I recall very particularly that the gentleman from Indiana, Mr. Stewart, at the very beginning of this session, in fact before the session opened, showed me a bill for that purpose. Now, if we believe that the teachers are underpaid, and if the Governor now states that he believes that the teachers in the fourth class school districts should have more money, then I do not believe we ought to tie it in with any particular tax.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel that I have to differ with the sponsor of the amendment. The effect of the amendment introduced by the gentleman would be to create a situation in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania somewhat similar to the situation that was created when certain income for schools was created by the graduated income tax, which in turn was declared unconstitutional. The particular desire on the part of this House at the present time is to secure an increased salary for the teachers fo fourth class school districts. I feel sure that the entire membership will join in one accord to the effect that the teachers of the fourth class school districts are notoriously underpaid. However, the budget as submitted by his Excellency, the Governor, did not contemplate the additional appropriation that has been required by House Bill No. 1978, and in order to more effectively secure the funds whereby the teachers might have their salaries supplemented by the Commonwealth, the bill referred to in section three was passed, containing a specific allocation of those funds for this particular purpose. At the present time it is tremendously difficult for those having some idea of the finances of the Commonwealth to definitely ascertain whether or not the funds that the Commonwealth will receive during the next biennium will be of a sufficient sum to take care of the additional requirements of this act. Until we definitely know by a closer anticipation of income just exactly how much revenue will be forthcoming over the next two years of the biennium, and until we definitely know just what the expenditures of the next two years of the biennium will be as a result of the appropriations, which are made by this House, it is essential, if we are sincere in our desire to take care of the teachers in the fourth class school districts, that the funds with which those teachers are to be taken care of should be definitely earmarked. The effect of the amendment as submitted by the gentleman from Delaware would be to take out that earmarking of funds, and I recommend to this House that we do not approve those amendments.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I again state that I feel that my friend from York is begging the question. We have had a long course of practice in the Legislature of Pennsylvania whereby deficits created by reason of payments of appropriations under the Edmonds Act are met either by a deficiency appropriation, or as has been done in the last biennum by additional appropriations from time to time. In the 1935-37 budget presented by his Excellency the Governor, he cut off five million dollars which would have to be paid to the public schools under the Edmonds Act. Subsequently the Legislature put back in the bill three million dollars of the five million dollars, if I remember my figures correctly. In the Special Session of 1936 again an appropriation of one million dollars was made to take care of the appropriations under the Edmonds Act. This session the Legislature, as I said before, has appropriated six million nine hundred thousand dollars to take care of additional moneys due to the schools for the State's payments under the Edmonds Act. Now, there is absolutely no difference between that procedure and the custom and practice that has gone on since 1935, than there is now in our request that the additional payments to the teachers of the fourth class school districts to bring their salaries within a livable wage and to increase their increment; there is absolutely no difference between that, when you cut out this special appropriation of this act. It is all right to stand here on the floor of the House and pass a bill which you thing is of doubtful constitutionality, and say to the teachers of Pennsylvania, "Well, we are all for those poor teachers down in the fourth class school districts, we think they are underpaid, it is a shame to the Commonwealth" and then to say, "We will give you this bill, but if this act should be declared unconstitutional you will have to go without that increased pay until some later date." I have never believed that the schools and these appropriations should be tied up with the income tax because of the fluctuations that would be liable to the income tax. I do not believe that the appropriations to the public schools should ever be tied up whith any special fund because of the dangers created there where the tax may fail, where reduced taxes may come at a time when the schools have increased their expenditures, expecting that they will receive a normal amount of tax, and thereby the schools and the school teachers in Pennsylvania suffer. I think it is absolutely false economy, I think it is absolutely false budgeting and I think you are only kidding yourselves when you start on that sort of a program. I believe if you pass the chain store tax, and you think that is a proper tax and it should become a part of the tax raising measures in Pennsylvania, to provide enough money for all of the purposes of Pennsylvania, or if that fails, then we will have to take care of it in some other way, as we have heretofore done and as we are doing during this session for our deficiency appropriations.

It seems very strange to me that every time we offer some suggestion from this side of the House that it immediately meets with opposition on the other side of the House. If we today say that we think there should be no appropriation made from those special funds to the schools, then you oppose it. If tomorrow we say there should be an appropriation from a special fund, then you argue it on the other side. I think this is one of the instances where we ought to get down to logical common sense, where there should not be any question as to whether the amendment comes from a Republican or not. The pure question here is, do you believe that the school districts in the fourth class districts ought to have more money? If they ought to have more money then we will have to find enough money to balance the budget.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. TURNER and Mr. SCHROCK and were as follows:

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Bohn.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. BOHN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman whether or not he would state for the benefit of the House if it is the intention in this bill to have the bill apply to superintendents of schools.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker, this bill, so far as I know, does not apply to them. The superintendents commissioned by the Department of Education do not come under this bill.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it then it is not the intention of this bill to include those commissioned superintendents of school in its protective measures.

Mr. BOHN. That is right, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to support House Bill No. 369, and I speak for it because for the past two years, or the first term in which I served in this House I introduced a tenure bill, worked with the committee studying the tenure on the part of the House Committee on Education, and finally that committee in the Session of 1935 did pass a tenure bill. Now this year we have a bill which also is very similar to the provisions of the bill which was passed at the last session in the House, and it is very similar to the bill which passed the Senate, to be amended in this House, namely, Senate Bill No. 1384, introduced by Senator Chapman at the last session. The House bill of which I speak was passed in the Session of 1935 and is House Bill No. 1561, and I do not speak of that bill in order to call attention to the fact that I introduced it, because the bill as passed finally differed in many respects from the measure as originally introduced by me. The reason I am making this clear is simply because I have been rather unjustly accused of being the chief objector to the present tenure bill. I wish to state now that I have never opposed the principle of teachers' tenure, but that I have always steadfastly fought to further the interests of true tenure.

I wish also to say that along with me Representative Holland of Pittsburgh has been subjected to the same lack of courtesy, and I wish to say in defense of Representative Holland that he at all times has constantly fought for teachers' tenure. It is true that Representative Holland and I have not always agreed, but I do believe in justice to both of us, that the members of this House who saw us at the last session and who know us well this session should know that we favor such measure.

I wish to state that contrary to the article as it appeared last week, I did not feel piqued, as stated there, by reading over this bill, because as I read the bill and as I look over the bill, I note on page two of the present bill, paragraph D, it is substantially the same as one of the paragraphs in the bill which I introduced at this term of the House, which is House Bill No. 658, and as I turn over page seven, I find on page eight there is a paragraph, or there are two sections which are essentially the same. Then we come to page ten of this bill, to the heart and the meat of the bill, that is to the protection which is given the teachers. On page ten, I submit that every line, with the exception of a few minor amendments which have since been made of paragraph J on page ten of this bill, are similar to and have been adapted from House Bill No. 658 which was introduced by me. That is the provision which provides for an appeal to the court of common pleas and upon which the strength of this particular law rests. Very briefly, this act guarantees hereafter in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that before a teacher is dismissed, that there must be specific written charges given to the teacher by the Board of Education which employs the teacher; that then the teacher, if she desires, has the option of a public hearing before the school board, with the right to be represented by counsel, if the teacher desires it. That is entirely voluntary on her part or on his part, and if the teacher desires such a hearing it then is mandatory upon the board to grant it. This bill lists the specific causes upon which dismissal of a teacher may be obtained. However, while many teachers believe that that is the strength of the bill, it is the thought of many other persons familiar with the subject that that is not the chief strength of the bill. After the hearing, the procedure for which is regulated, not in any extreme detail, but, nevertheless in detail sufficient to protect the teacher, so that the teacher cannot be made the butt of some unfriendly and hostile proceeding; after this hearing the teacher then has a stipulated time in which to appeal to the court of common pleas in the event that the decision of the Board of Education aggrieves the teacher. It the teacher feels that he or she has not been given a square deal the teacher then may by petition presented to the court of common pleas in the county in which the teacher is employed, and the teacher may obtain a hearing, and if the teacher asks for a de novo hearing, the proceedings will begin again and the teacher may then introduce any evidence which the teacher may not have been able to produce at the original hearing before the board. Therein lies the entire protection given to the teacher in this bill.

I wish to say one word upon the necessity of this protection. There is no question that in Pennsylvania we have had the spectre of dismissal haunting the teachers of the Commonwealth, especially during this particular time of the year. I happen to have taught in two school systems, and I know that in the good school system in which I taught we were not bothered by that sort of trouble. However, in the other school system, which fortunately was the first one in which I taught, we were bothered with that sort of a proceeding. I say to you that hereafter the teachers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who merit continued employment by discharging their duties with fidelity to the pupils and to their employers, the taxpayers of their communities, will not be subjected to the insults and the abuses of petty persons in the particular locality in which they teach. I hope that the teachers of Pennslyvania will realize the particular position in which they have been placed, and will justify the confidence that this Legislature has put in them when it passes and adopts such a far-reaching and progressive measure as this.

It is true, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that we all do not agree with all of the various provisions of this bill, but, taken as a whole, I believe it is fair, I believe that it is progressive and I believe that it will reflect credit not only upon the Democratic majority of this House, but also upon those others who wish to join with it, and I ask all the members of the House to give their approval to this measure.

Mr. TROUT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not wish to discuss the entire merits of the bill nor to go into any of the prolonged discussion that we had on it Wednesday afternoon, but, as I stated at that time, I still am of the same opinion, if a proper tenure bill should come from this House through proper channels, I would be compelled to support it, and I make that statement for my colleague in the second Legislative district of Lancaster county as well.

Members of the House, I do want to call your attention to one provisions of this bill that I think deserves more serious consideration than we have given it up to this time. That is on page eleven, line six which says: "but there shall be no demotion of any professional employe either in salary or in type of position without the consent of the said employe, or if such consent is not received then such demotion shall be subject to the right to a hearing before the board of school directors and an appeal in the same manner as hereinbefore provided in the case of the dismissal of a professional employe."

Members of the House, if my interpretation of that part of the bill is correct the school board will be unable to adjust salaries downward, regardless of the business conditions of the county or the business conditions of the district in which that teacher is employed. I remember a few years ago when teachers' salaries were reduced, and they were reduced because of financial conditions, and it was absolutely necessary that that it done. If these same conditions arise again and if I am right in my interpretation of this bill, the school board will not be able to make any adjustments of salaries downward. I believe that that is unjust and unfair, both to the school board and to the taxpayers of the community. And if I further interpret this correctly, "either in salary or in type of position without the consent of said employe," a teacher may be employed in the department of mathematics or in the department of English and because of many reasons it may be necessary for the board to change that position, but the board cannot do so if my interpretation of that clause is correct, without the consent of the teacher, even though it may not be a demotion in fact, but if the teacher in her or his opinion determines that it is a demotion, she or he will then become subject to the right of appeal. Now, it seems to me, members of the House, that neither one of those provisions in this bill is fair or right, and I do not presume that there is any further effort to be made to change those two provisions, but I am confident that the men who are conversant with school conditions, men who are conversant with the functions and operations of school boards, must admit that this is just a little drastic and will absolutely tie the hands of the school board. I am just as much in smypathy with school teachers as any body else, and I recognize their plight as far as salaries are concerned, but it does seem to me, if for no other reason, these two that I have mentioned are sufficient for at least a reconsideration of this measure, providing my interpretation is correct. If I am wrong, I would be very glad to be so informed.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we have before us a bill of great concern to the people of this Commonwealth and it deserves our sincere and careful consideration. It does appear that the passage of this bill will remove the mountains of the past and will raise a monument that will stand along side the Emancipation Proclamation. I began to teach school when I was eighteen years of age. I have always been interested in education. I graduated from college and it has been my privilege to prepare hundreds of young men and young women to teach school in this Commonwealth. In 1899 I was elected superintendent of the schools of Indiana county, working under Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, a Democrat, who served as the State superintendent of this Commonwealth. There were three in the Department: Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, the Hon. Henry Hauk and the Hon. John Q. Stuart. In 1903 Dr. Schaeffer requested the superintendents of the State to prepare an exhibit that would be sent to the St. Louis Expedition. The exhibit was prepared, a committee was appointed to examine the exhibit, and we sent our exhibit to West Chester for examination by that committee, and I am glad to say to you now that the fourth class schools of Indiana county took first prize. The exhibit was sent to St. Louis and we have the medal in Indiana county for having the best exhibit of miscellaneous work in all of the states of the United States.

This is a bill in which I am especially concerned for the reason that it concerns the entire people of the State. I am for good teachers, I am a friend of the teacher, but I am first a friend of the children. You ought to be for your own children and you ought to be for the children of your neighbors. The Great Teacher has said to Thomas, the doubter, "I am the way, the truth and the light." A good teacher is one who will be a guide to the way and the truth and the light. I want my children to be taught by a teacher who is prepared to teach. I want them to drink from the running brook and not from a stagnant brook. The picture of this bill is this: we are putting the good teachers and the poor teachers in the same bag, and we are tying that bag with a rope with knots. I am sorry that that is true because we cannot estimate the value of a good teacher in dollars and in cents. But I want to say to you that we have in this community, in this State of Pennsylvania, many teachers who are not qualified to teach our boys and our girls and there must be some way of getting rid of them. We must sift them. Some one has said, as in the parable, that you cannot divide them, that in rooting up the taxes you root up the weeds. But that is not the case here. The poor teachers do not have any roots and if they do they just run along on the flat of the surface of the ground and they ought to be eradicated from the system. The poor teacher does not fit into the system. Consequently it will be up to the school directors to remove them, and I am living in hope that the things that will remove the poor teachers will be carried out to the letter by the school directors. I am sorry that I did not put in one of the requirements to dismiss a teacher for laziness. I think that the gentleman on the other side of the House who did not understand "insubordination," a word that was too long, might better understand that word, and it will not be necessary for him to talk about teachers wearing red neckties and high heel shoes.

Ladies and gentlemen, I have never opposed this bill. If the members of this side of the House had been permitted to place the amendments that we have in the bill, it would be a much better bill, but because I am interested in schools I am compelled at this time to vote for the bill.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise in support of this bill because of the fact that it protects the teaching profession and the best interests of the children of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Contrary to the information of my good friend, the former speaker on this subject, this bill does not protect the inefficient teacher, it does not protect the insubordinate teacher, and I know what that word "insubordinate" means. I think, without referring to Mr. Turner's American dictionary. This bill does not protect the inefficient teacher. There are ways provided in this bill for the dismissal of the inefficient teacher. This bill is for the best interests of the children. No teacher can do his best work when he is constantly harassed and worried as to whether or not he is going to be able to continue in his present position. In order that the teacher might be free to teach, to act and to work for the best interests of the children of this Commonwealth, the Democratic party has presented this bill, which is one of the finest pieces of legislation that has ever been put on the statute books of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It has been said that this is not a partisan measure, but if the amendments suggested by the other side of the House had been incorporated in this bill, we would have had a tenure bill that would not be worth the paper it was written on, but because the Democratic Administration stood solidly and refused to accept amendments that would weaken the bill, we have tonight before us a real tenure bill, a tenure bill that is for the best interest of the children and the teachers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which they have been denied for many years in this Commonwealth.

I ask the members of the House to support this bill. I ask the Republican members to support it, even though this bill has been denied the teachers for many years, and I ask them to join the New Deal and give to the teachers real liberty.

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, sometime ago I had decided to say just a few words this evening in regard to this bill, then I changed my mind and decided not to say nothing, but after hearing the gentleman from Philadelphia I feel that to sit here and let the assumption go forth that the members of the Republican party are opposed to teachers' tenure, I would be derelict in my duty as a member of that party. When I arose on the floor of the House last week, the first words that I spoke were in connection with the fact that this measure should certainly be of non-partisan character. Members of the House, I first served in this House on January 1, 1935. On February 12, 1935 I introduced into this House as a Republican member a teachers' tenure bill, which preceded any Democratic teachers' tenure bill, in the one instance over House Bill No. 1035 by 13 days, and over House Bill No. 1561, of which Mr. Harkins spoke, by one month and one day. I therefore call upon the members of this House to ask themselves intelligently and logically whether or not the Republican membership or the Republican party have been opposing a teachers' tenure bill. We are now met in the 1937 Session, and again on the eighth day of Febraury I introduced in this House a teachers' tenure bill. That tenure bill is still in committee. That is the prerogative of the educational committee, and from what I heard last Wednesday, I thing that we would all be better off if the educational committee were allowed to follow out the dictates of its own conscience in committee meetings, instead of on the floor of the House, as we did that evening, with amendments which did not meet with the approval of the committee members. I say that we as individual members of this House have a right, and our people in our legislative districts have a right to assume that we will propose bills that we honestly and sincerely believe in, and any inferences that there is any party connected with any amendment or any bill that I propose are entirely unfounded. I wish to state that the amendments which I proposed last Wednesday were my own amendments, of my own thought, of my own sincere belief that they were for the best interests of the school system of the Commonwealth, and any statement to the contrary made by any other member of this House is not true. So, members of the House as in the case of the member from Indiana county Mr. Stewart, I will vote in favor of this bill because I am in favor of the welfare of the teachers and the children of the public schools of Pennsylvania. And again I say that the Republican party, the Republican membership of this House are interested and always will be interested in the welfare of the children and of the public school system of this State, and, as I said before, I intend to vote in favor of this bill.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I feel now, while we are getting together on both sides of the House, and everybody is favorable to a tenure bill, that we should proceed at once to vote on the tenure bill as written. While this bill caused a certain amount of embarrassment from time to time in the committee as well as the committee of the whole in the House, among various members, yet it still remains a good bill and I believe we are all favorable to it. The embarrassment which it caused, we are happy to say, is all over, and, like all other cases of embarrassment it has been over for some time.

That reminds me of a story about something that occurred in Harrisburg in connection with the Evening News, when it wanted to increase its subscription list. It put in a little advertisement in which it said: "We will pay one dollar to each person who will give to us in detail the most embarrassing moment that they ever had." They put it in the hands of my good friend, Mr. Miller, and immediately he started to receive certain letters containing their embarrassing moments. He finally received a letter from Enola in which the man said: "Please send me two dollars at once," and Joe wrote back and said: "We presume you refer to the little ad we have in the paper concerning something about your most embarrassing moment. Will you please state in another letter just exactly what this moment was that you ask two dollars for, and we will proceed to send you the money." The man wrote back and said, "The other evening when I went home I found my wife in company with another man, my wife was embarrassed and so was I, and we think we ought to have one dollar apiece." Joe wrote back and said, "Inasmuch as the Evening News wants to be on the square with every one, and it is not our policy to cheat any of our friends, enclosed find our check for three dollars. There is no doubt in our mind but what the other man was also embarrassed."

I feel we have presented to you the best tenure bill that it is possible to have at this time. Every one believes and knows that it is not one hundred percent perfect but it is a good bill, and we feel that everybody now is going to vote for it, making the teachers happy, making the members happy, removing all of the embarrassment we have had up to date, and things are going to be just O. K. I thank you.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. MARINO. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. CHERVENAK filed the following reasons for his vote.

I am voting for Senate Bill No. 369 because I believe in the principle of Tenure. However, I do not heartily approve of the Bill in its present form for the following reasons:

(a) I believe it should contain a probationary clause affecting teachers teaching their first term.

(b) I feel that wilful and persistent insubordination is a just cause for dismissal.

(c) I believe local school boards should have the option of continuing in employment or dismissing from employment of married female teachers.

(d) I believe local school boards should have discretionary power in continuing the employment of teachers who have reached the optional retirement age of 62 years.

I consistently supported these amendments when they were offered in Committee of the Whole of the House.

Mr. HALL filed the following reasons for his vote.

Reason for voting aye on Senate Bill No. 369, (House Bill No. 1420) Printer's No. 189.

Because of the fact that I am in favor of Teachers Tenure I am voting aye notwithstanding the fact that I am convinced that the some of the amendments proposed would have improved the Bill.

Mr. MOOMAW filed the following reasons for his vote.

I do not believe this bill in its present form will satisfactorily solve the problem resulting from "blanket dismissals." In its present form this measure may protect some teachers but I firmly believe it will prove very detrimental to the really effecient teacher by holding back promotions. It will also probably cause school boards to refrain from employing graduates from our State Teachers Colleges who have no experience. Since these State Teachers Colleges are considered the school for the poor man's children the bill in its present form will close the door to employment of these children.

I am for a good reasonable law and while I think this bill as it stands will prove harmful to more than it helps I am going to vote for this measure because any action otherwise at this time would be misconstrued.

Mr. SCHROCK filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting "No" on House Bill No. 1420, Senate Bill No. 369 for the following reasons—

It does not contain a Probationary Clause.

Bill does not let optional with School Board as to employment of women teachers after marriage.

I favor tenure but this bill seems too drastic.

Mr. SIMPSON filed the following reason for his vote.

I am voting "Aye" on Senate Bill No. 369, (House Bill No. 1420) Printer's No. 189, for I believe that teachers should have a reasonable security in their positions. I am convinced that this bill is not flexible enough and that it will be amended at an early session of this Legislature at the request of both the School Directors and the teachers. There should be a period of trial, limited perhaps to a little as one year before a teacher should have the benefits under the act. As this is a beginning of a proper program I am supporting it.

Mr. SNYDER filed the following reasons for his vote.

I am voting "No" on this bill, not because I am against Teacher Tenure; but because I feel it is entirely too drastic and comprehensive especially should it provide for a probationary period, and it should also clarify the status of married women as teachers.

Mr. SPROUL filed the following reasons for his vote:

At the outset of my remarks on this Teacher's Tenure Bill let me say that I expect to vote for it although there are provisions with which I do not entirely agree. As a result of being thrown into the political arena, this bill is not a cross section of the best judgment of its members. The same is true of this bill as has been true of many others. Partisan political influence has interfered with the views of some of the legislators, otherwise a caucus of the Democrats would not have been necessary to drive into line those whose judgment differed with their leaders and they should have been allowed to think and vote for themselves instead of abiding by the will of a small number. When amendments offered allowing the discharge of teachers for seditious teaching and insubordination are kept out of this bill we are taking away from those in authority a just cause for dismissal and there should have been no objection to including those provisions. It is my belief when good and efficient American Citizens acting as teachers know the provisions of this bill they will ask for its modification in the future. I believe, too, a period of probation should have been included. I cannot imagine where the young teacher will have a chance except in the rural districts. The further effect of this bill will cause school boards having sufficient funds at their command to go out into other districts and take away the best teachers to be more sure they are not providing tenure for a teacher until they have watched the record. The various school boards have a job on their hands to keep up their educational standards with some of the handicaps imposed by this bill. It is the children after all with whom we are concerned in educating. My reasons for giving assent is to prevent political dismissal and reprisal. If this bill does not work out for the best interests of the children to be educated as well as the teachers I hope this body makes appropriate changes. It is up to the teachers now.

Mr. STOCKHAM filed the following reasons for his vote

I believe this bill confounds the real purpose of a proper tenure protection. It is not clear in the purpose to classify and protect good teachers from those who prove to be incompetent or deficient in any other qualification.

I believe that constructive amendments, even approved by many members regardless of party affiliation, were thwarted by powers outside the membership of the House and that subsequent legislatures shall correct these deficiencies. I vote, Aye.

Mr. TROUT filed the following reasons for his vote.

During the past few days I have talked with practically every Republican member of this House and I find them without exception in favor of a proper teachers' tenure bill.

In other words, they are of the belief that there should be legislation protective of the rights of the teachers against the possibility of reprisal or removal for political or other unworthy reasons.

I am also of the opinion that the tenure bill now before us would have the full and united support of the Republicans of the House if the amendments submitted last week, and turned down on orders of State Chairman David Lawrence, had been adopted.

I have heard it said that these amendments will be restored when this bill reaches the Senate. If this be true, then I and many of my colleagues will support the measures when it comes back to us.

But I am convinced that the bill now before us is a bad bill. I believe it would protect incompetent teachers in their jobs to the injury of both pupils and worthy teachers.

As one who gave sixteen years of his life to teaching, I am as much interested in the welfare of the teachers as any man in this House and entirely sympathetic with their problems. But I owe a duty also to the children for whom the schools were created, and I cannot permit myself to be dragooned into support of an iniquitous measure simply because some political boss has told the Legislature it must be passed without the crossing of a "t" or the dotting of an "i."

Bring us a proper teachers' tenure bill and I shall support it. Restore the amendments defeated last week and I and many of my colleagues will give this bill their votes.

Mr. VAN ALLSBURG filed the following reasons for his vote.

It had been my earnest desire to be able to vote for a modification of our laws on teacher's tenure which might have the effect of prohibiting the summary dismissal of teachers without good cause and to give them that sense of security of position to which all good teachers are entitled and which would enable them to render their maximum of efficient service.

As a member of the House Committee on Education, I believe that a majority of that committee are of the opinion that this bill should have been amended so as to provide at least for a probationary period of one (1) or two (2) years as a preliminary qualification for a permanent teacher's contract, and secondly, that the question of employing married women as teachers, should be left to the discretion of the various school districts. The importance of these two amendments which were offered, but rejected by the House should be obvious to every teacher and parent of the Commonwealth.

Schools exist primarily for school children. I cannot sacrifice their educational welfare nor vote contrary to the dictates of my conscience.

Mr. WESTRICK filed the following reasons for his vote.

I am voting for Senate Bill No. 369 because I firmly believe in tenure for teachers. I am, however, opposed to this bill in its present form for the following reasons:

1. It contains no probationary period for the beginning teacher.

2. Insubordination should be included as one of the causes for dismissal.

3. Discretion for retaining or cancelling of contracts of married female teachers should remain in the hands of the school board.

Mr. WOOD filed the following reasons for his vote.

I am voting "No" on Senate Bill No. 369, House Bill 1420 because I think it is too drastic. I would favor a good tenure bill which contains a probationary period, one which protects the pupils as well as the teachers. It is my opinion that this bill would work a hardship on the good teachers and make it impossible to get rid of a poor teacher.

Also I think it does not represent the sentiment of the Democratic members of this House but rather the dictation of the Democratic State Chairman, David L. Lawrence.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Frank P. Hamilton asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SHUGARTS on account of illness.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 455, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred seventy-nine) entitled "An act to fix the salary and mileage of the members of the General Assembly and to provide for the furnishing of such postage stationery and supplies as may be necessary for the conduct of their offices and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith" as amended increasing the compensation of members of the General Assembly

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, back in 1933 the salary of the members of the House was $3000. At that time I was much interested, as I am today in economy measures. We had an economy program in which we sought to cut a great many salaries on the Capitol Hill. We felt that in order that we might show our seriousness and our sincerity, we ought to reduce the salary of the members of the House. So we cut it from $3000 to $2500. When the session had all wound up and the Governor had gotten through with all the bills, the members of the House were the only people on Capitol Hill who had taken a cut and I am therefore pleased that we are going back to the $3000 salary. I think we all ought to vote for it. I am willing to take my share of the cut with everybody else, whether that cut is up or down, and I see no reason why we should be the only ones on Capitol Hill to practice what we preach. Now that food prices are rising, the cost of doing business is rising, expenses in Harrisburg are rising and before long the sun will be rising, and I think we have a right to raise the salaries of the members of the House.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

STATEMENT BY MR. HERBERT B. COHEN

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, I remember sometime during the 1935 session, during a very heated debate, a certain gentleman, a member of this House, was accused of being well-fed. Since that time, however, it has developed, that that gentleman who was accused of being well-fed in reality is a well-feeder, and in order to pay homage to him I have joined with the gentleman from Bucks as the sponsor of a resolution.

RESOLUTION

THANKING HON. ELLWOOD J. TURNER

Messrs. HERBERT B. COHEN and STOCKHAM offered a resolution which was twice read, as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1937

Whereas, The genial gentleman from Delaware enjoys good food, as his physique so abundantly testifies, and

Whereas, His generous spirit and sense of good fellowship so graciously overflow as to cause him to share this food with others, and

Whereas, He has invited all of the Members of this House to break bread with him at breakfast and to partake of that famous Delaware County sausage and scrapple, at which time the partisan spirit vanishes and the pangs of hunger are satisfied; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Members of this House hereby tender their thanks to their colleague, the Honorable Ellwood J. Turner, for the kindness and good-fellowship he has shown in the series of sausage and scrapple breakfasts to which all of the Members of this House have been invited.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am wondering whether my Siamese twin and friend, Herbert Cohen of York, will accept a slight amendment to this resolution. If so, I would like to add to the amendment where necessary the following words: "Buckwheat cakes with golden maple syrup."

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am really overcome. I only regret that tomorrow morning I will not arise at 7:30 o'clock and go out for a five mile walk in order to get ready for breakfast and having the pleasure of meeting some of the members of the House. I understand from one of the newspaper men who are always alert, that the real reason of this resolution is to start a second series. I might say that I long ago learned that unless you have something that goes over you had better not try to repeat it because sometimes the cook makes a mistake. I am only sorry that all of the members of the House were not present on a morning when Lehigh County came down to challenge the buckwheat cakes and sausage which we have been putting out in Harrisburg this session—in fact, this is an old Spanish custom which goes back many years. I remember some years ago, perhaps a history of this might be written into the record so that if I am not here the next session it will be there for somebody to shoot at—but back some ten years ago, Uncle George Williams, whom you younger fellows don't remember, but he used to sit over there and was one of the well beloved members of this House, had some smoked hickory sausage brought down to Harrisburg and he invited some of the members of the House to come over to the Penn-Harris and have breakfast with him. After I saw that smoked hickory sausage and tried to sample it with the few remaining teeth I had, I thought that the boys would appreciate some good buckwheat cakes and sausage and invited them up to the restaurant that was running over on Third street, I don't know whether it is still in operation or not, but at that time some of the fellows patronized it, it being operated by Magnelli. I used to go up there and mix the batter and the other ingredients, but I have retired now, you know, on account of age and all that sort of thing and I now get the chef down at the Harrisburger to do it, but I used to go there and make the buckwheat cakes and cook the scrapple. It is really an art to cook scrapple. I am not going to bore you about how to do it but it is really an art to cook scrapple. The Greek cook at the restaurant didn't know anything about cooking scrapple and it was a terrible mess. So, as the years went on, we have gone down through the whole list and invited them all, the members of the House and the members of the Senate. If they didn't come it was all right with us, and if they did come it was all right with us. The fewer that came the more there was to eat for the rest of us. We never kicked either way.

After all I would just like to say this, I appreciate the spirit back of your kindness in passing this resolution. I don't know when there has been such unanimity in the House. Perhaps the gentleman of the press was right, that the salary measure got them ready and then that secondly the invitation did the rest. I have always thought seriously that after all we come here in this House as representatives from all over the State, we do not know each other by name, we may have served in other sessions and know men who have before to some extent, but the real opportunity to meet other men and work here together for the things that we believe are for the best interests of the people. We differ, but there is no reason why that difference should go down into anything personal. We ought to respect each others opinions as long as those are honest opinions and as long as they are formed after consideration, and if we can get together with the other fellow for breakfast I think it wears away edges, and it encourages an esprit de corps in the House. I know from past experiences whenever I meet members of the Legislature who have not been back to these recent sessions that the first thing that they ask is "How's the scrapple and sausage." Now that warms my heart. I am interested that they have had a good time and I am more interested in knowing that there is a feeling of friendship between us even though it comes from the lowly hog.

He was a newspaper publisher, legislator, school director, justice of the peace and engaged in the real estate and insurance business.

He began his useful career at the age of 14 when he entered the employe of his father who publishd the "Neutralist" in the German language. Realizing the growing need for a local English newspaper he founded, after his father's death, the "Montgomery Transcript" in 1888, which is still published by one of his brothers.

Institutions in which he served as a trustee or director were the Penhurst State School, The Montgomery Trust Company of Norristown, Ursinus College and the Perkiomen Valley Mutual Fire Insurance Company. He was a charter member of the Press League of Bucks and Montgomery Counties and its treasurer for 32 years.

He had at all times an absorbing interest in the history of his community, was recognized as an authority on local history and the author of a number of important historical papers. He was a devout member of the Reformed Church.

His passing was not only a severe blow to his immediate family but also a loss to his community in which he was untiring in his efforts to improve its moral, religious and civic interests. His life was one of service to his fellowmen.

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives express their sincere sympathy to the family of the late B. Witman Dambly in the loss they have sustained by his death, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the widow, Mrs. Hattie A. Dambly, 910 E Stafford Street, Germantown, Pa., by the Chief Clerk this House.

RESOLUTION

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Messrs. FRANCIS T. BAKER, SIMPSON and FISS offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 30, 1937.

It is fitting that this body pause from its labors to pay respect to the memory of a veteran law maker, the Honorable Benjamin K. Focht, Congressman from the Eighteenth District of Pennsylvania, comprising the counties of Bedford, Fulton, Mifflin, Union, Snyder, Juniata, Perry and Huntingdon, who died of a heart attack in Washington on Saturday, March 27, 1937.

Congressman Focht was born in New Bloomfield on March 12, 1863. He commenced his public career at an early age, simultaneously with the founding, in 1882, of a weekly newspaper in the borough of Lewisburg. From 1892 until the day of his death, he was, with a few interruptions, engaged successively as a member of the State House of Representatives, a State Senator and a member of Congress.

He was one of the original advocates of pensions for the aged, having introduced his first bill on the subject twenty-two years ago, and recently in a speech on the floor of the House at Washington commended President Roosevelt for his stand in the matter.

The loss of Congressman Focht is keenly felt by his constituents, his associates, his friends and especially by his widow and immediate family; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania hereby record its regrets over the passing of another of its former Members, who has succeeded to higher honors, and has now entered the status of enternity; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the widow and surviving children of the Honorable Benjamin K. Focht with the sympathy of the Members of this House.

RESOLUTION

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Mr. MARINO offered a resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives April 5, 1937.

Born in Pittsburgh, he became a resident of Washington in 1890. He was a blacksmith by trade, learning his trade under the direction of his father and the year he landed in Washington he set up his own shop.

He took an active part in the civic affairs of his city and was one of its best known citizens, and was also active in fraternal circles.

Vol. 21. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 6, 1937. No. 39.

SENATE

TUESDAY, APRIL 6, 1937

The Senate met at 12 o'clock a. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. George Walker Buckner, L. LD., offered the following prayer.

Our Father, we come before Thee with the passion of appeal within our hearts. Within our small horizons, a universe of worlds crowds in, an eternity intervenes within a score of years. With music and banners, amidst wild acclaim of millions who knew not why, a peace-loving nation marched into the horrors of war. As its aftermath, we find ourselves in a crazy world. God pity the warring, bleeding nations. Hasten the day when men shall beat their swords into plowshares, their spears into pruning-hooks. Help us here to study and apply the ways of peace. When the hungry ask for a fish, forbid that we offer a stone. May we press the message of Thy fatherhood, and the kinship of nations, the message of the Price of Peace. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT—A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. RUPP, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, in presenting these bills, I would like to make a statement. For a number of years it has been an embarrassment to attorneys that there has been no codification of the Criminal Code in this State. With that in view, the Attorneys General Crime Conference which has been working for the past four months, and previous to that time the Attorney General designated three members of the faculty of the Law School of Pennsylvania to prepare a codification of the law for presentation of the legislature. That codification is now ready for presentation.

As to the codification of the Penal Laws, it has been prepared by former Dean Michael of the Universtiy of Pennsylvania, and as to the criminal procedure, Mr. Edward R. Keating. In the main, as to the Penal Code, it is simply a codification of the law as it stands. There has been an attempt made to relate various provisions of punishment to each other, so that no longer no minor offense will be punishable with three or four times the penalty given for some grave and serious offense. However, these bills are very important to the legal profession and to all the people of Pennsylvania, and I know they will be given an extensive study and hearing before the Committee on Judiciary General.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 58 on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section eleven as amended and to repeal section ten of the act, approved the twelfth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 711), entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia; prescribing its jurisdiction and powers; providing for the service of its writs, process, or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia; regulating the procedure therein, and appeals therefrom; and providing for the expenses thereof," taking from said court jurisdiction in civil and criminal actions and in equity.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 78 on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred thirty-seven) entitled "An act affecting marital relations prescribing grounds and regulating proceedings for divorce and the annulment of bigamous marriages and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" as amended, conferring jurisdiction on the Family Court of Philadelphia in proceedings for divorce and the annulment of marriages.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if there is not a hearing to be held on these three bills.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator further if he does not think it proper, when the hearing is held, that the bills should be in the hands of the Committee, and, therefore, that they should be recommittee so that they will be before the Committee, for this purpose.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not think so; I do not think it proper or necessary that they should be in the hands of the Committee at that time, because these bills transfer jurisdiction from the Municipal Court to an independent court to be created; and, inasmuch as the bill, the important bill, by which it is to be created is in the hands of the Committee, and this is a joint hearing, and the bill to abolish the existing court is also in the hands of the Committee, I see no reason why these bills on jurisdiction should be.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator if the hearing is not to be held on the subject matter of these bills as well as on the subject matter of the bills by which the new court is to be established.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I suppose, whether or not there should be a new court created, the question of jurdiction might become the subject of a discussion, but in a collateral way only.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, inasmuch as the Senator admits these bills may become the subject of discussion, does he object to having the bills recommitted, so they will be in the hands of the Committee at the time of the hearing?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do, because I do not think it is essential to the hearing for the bills to be before them; otherwise I would not have asked that they go over in their order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 235 (House Bill No. 50), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend Article twenty-four of the act, approved the twenty-fourth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. RESOLUTION

URGING CONGRESS TO ENACT LEGISLATION TO PROVIDE PERMANENT FEDERAL AID FOR EDUCATION

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. HALUSKA offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, April 6, 1937.

Whereas, It is a primary function of a nation to offer equal educational opportunities to the nation's children whenever they may live and,

Whereas, The continued lack of progress in improvement of school conditions throughout numerous States indicates their inability to maintain an adequate standard of education and,

Whereas, Nationally known educators favor Federal aid to Education and,

Whereas, Under Federal aid legislation now being considered in Congress, the State of Pennsylvania would benefit by approximately eight million dollars in the first year after enactment to twenty-three and a half million dollars in the fifth year and thereafter, therefore

Be It Resolved, That the State Legislature urges the Congress of the United States to enact such legislation as will provide permanent federal aid for education.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires that concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee be suspended and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Corporations for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. STACKPOLE. Mr. Speaker I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Elpern.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ELPERN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. STACKPOLE. Mr. Speaker, may ask the gentleman to what committee he wishes to commit this bill.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, the same committee that brought it out.

Mr. STACKPOLE. Mr. Speaker, what is the purpose of the recommittment?

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker, for the purpose of further study and possible amendment.

Mr. STACKPOLE. Mr. Speaker, may I make a statement?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman wish to discuss the motion before the House?

Mr. STACKPOLE. Yes, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. STACKPOLE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that the motion to recommit this bill is unnecessary at the present time. The bill itself is perfectly obvious. It merely is to cut the expenses, the county expenses of constables from ten cents a mile to six cents a mile. The present milage allowance of members of this House is only five cents a mile, and this bill would allow a constable one cent a mile more than is allowed the members of this House. I cannot see where this recommittment is anything but a desire to kill this particular bill or to table it. I think in line with our policy of cuting down expenditures in this State, when it has been proven that five cents a mile is adequate for members of the House, that it is not to much to ask that this motion be voted down.

Mr. ELPERN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill ought to be recommitted. I think the gentleman from Elk is out of order.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this motion. I think that the House ought to have an opportunity to vote on the merits of this bill, and I ask for a roll call if the gentleman from Westmoreland still wishes to have the bill recommited.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SPROUL and Mr. McDEVITT and were as follows:

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Counties for the purpose of further study.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Jirolanio.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JIROLANIO. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Jirolanio tell the House the purpose of this motion.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this motion is to give the bill further study.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Northampton know that this bill only contains four lines and that it has been in committee since February 16?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Allegheny, I do know that the bill contains four lines but those four lines contain a very, very wide implication.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say that I oppose the motion to recommit this bill. This is as simple a bill as has been introduced in this House regardless of the purpose sought.

The bill simply says this, "In all cases of summary conviction in which the evidence is not sufficient to convict and the defendant is dismissed the costs of the suit shall be imposed on the prosecutor or defendant."

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny is now discussing the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will discuss the motion before the House.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, in opposing the motion to recommit this bill I say that it is an attempt upon the part of the gentleman from Northampton to continue the present racket practiced by the justices of the peace and constables in this State and in opposing this motion—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I again rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is debating the merits of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The gentleman will confine himself to the motion before the House.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I never believed—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I again rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Northampton is now out of order. The gentleman from Allegheny will now proceed.

Mr. SAMUEL WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I bitterly oppose this motion to recommit this bill. The gentleman from Northampton says that the primary purpose of his motion to recommit the bill is for the purpose of further study. Let me say, Mr. Speaker and members of the House that this bill was introduced on February 16 and was in Committee on Counties from February 16 until it was reported out to this House last week. Every member has had an opportunity to study this bill and a motion to recommit this bill at this time is an attempt by this House, whether Democrat or Republican, to pickle the bill, and, as I said I oppose the motion. I think the taxpayers of this Commonwealth are entitled to this opportunity. I, therefore, oppose the motion to recommit the bill, which will save the taxpayers of this Commonwealth annually a million dollars.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I again rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, at this time the gentleman is not even discussing the bill, but he is discussing what might happen or what might possibly happen if this bill, as he would like to have it passed, is not enacted into law. He is still out of order and is not discussing the merits of the bill in its entirety.

The SPEAKER. The Chair has already ruled on the point of order. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the motion before the House.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask that the members of the House for the particular reasons I have enumerated oppose the motion to recommit this bill to the Committee on Counties for further study. I regard the motion purely and simply as an attempt to pickle the bill.

On the question recurring

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS and Mr. MOOMAW.

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

(During the verification of the roll.)

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, I was not in the Hall of the House when the roll was called. I ask unanimous consent to be recorded as voting "no."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman to say that he was not in the Hall of the House and asks unanimous consent to be recorded as voting "no?"

Mr. SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I will have to object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

Mr. ROTHENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I ask that my name be stricken from the negative roll and be placed on the affirmative roll.

The SPEAKER. The affirmative roll has been verified,

Will the House give its unanimous consent to the gentleman to change his vote? Is there objection?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, much as I dislike to object I feel that I must.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted.

Does the gentleman wish to have his name stricken from the negative roll.

Mr. ROTHENBERGER. I do, Mr. Speaker.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 678, entitled:

An Act to amend paragraph I of section seven hundred and two of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, (P. L. 103), entitled "An act concerning townships of the second class and amending, revising, consolidating, and changing the law relating thereto;" authorizing township supervisors to enter into ten year contracts for the purpose of lighting and illuminating the streets, highways and other public places.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at the request of certain townships who are able by a ten year contract to get a better price for their lighting and thereby save money for the taxpayers, I have introduced Bill No. 678. Certain objections were voiced against this bill and by agreement with the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, he took it over to the Legal Department of the Public Service Commission. I wish to read a portion of a letter from them as regards the bill: "It has been the policy of the Public Service Commission not to approve a ten year contract unless there was some advantage in the rate to the party contracting with the utility. The extension of the period from five to ten years, I deem, would give a bargaining power for securing a better rate to the township for lighting and illuminating its streets and highways."

In order to remove a further objection which I have heard against the bill in case a rate was reduced, if a township had signed up for a period of ten years, we found, in accordance with my own views, that that rate would be reduced to all regardless of the contract, otherwise it would be discrimination. In other words, any contract that might be signed for this period could obtain a better rate if such a rate were on file. Another objection, in case a municipal utility were purchased by the township, this contract would be set aside, inasmuch as the purchase of a municipal utility would have to be approved by the Public Utility Commission. I, therefore, ask the members of this House to support this bill which will enable certain townships to obtain better lighting contracts for their taxpayers.

On the question recurring

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the years and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The Chief Clerk, WILLIAM P. GALLAGHER, in the Chair.

CONGRATULATING HON. ROY E. FURMAN

Mr. CLIFF S. PATTERSON offered a resolution which was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 6, 1937.

This is the natal day of one who is known to each member of this house for his charm, poise, personality, general disposition and native ability. Arriving thirty-six years ago in the southwestern corner of the State, without much comment other than a wimper, he has since pursued a steady course, without blare of trumpets, until his colleagues decided they could safety invest him with powers of public office, secure in the knowledge that such powers would be wisely employed for the good of the Commonwealth and the benefit of its people. So they elected Roy E. Furman as their Speaker, a position he has graced throughout this session and the two preceding special sessions;

Resolved, That the members of the House of Representatives extend to their beloved Speaker Honorable Roy E. Furman their best wishes and wish for him many happy returns on this his birthday and many happy and prosperous future years;

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution, suitably engrossed, be presented to the Speaker by the Chief Clerk of this House in behalf of every member of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Chairman, it is with a great deal of pleasure that I rise to second this motion. Personally I think that the tribute is far too short. Our Speaker is a real perfect thirty-six. To us he exemplifies the ideals of leadership, youth in government, intelligent application to his work and a personality that is engrossing, and I join with the sponsor of this resolution, as I feel sure the other members of the House do, in extending congratulations from this House to the esteemed gentleman who wields the gavel.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Chairman, as one perfect thirty-six to another, I arise from that group whose heads are bloody but unbowed, to also ask for the opportunity to second this resolution. I think at the beginning of this session I had the distinct pleasure of moving that the nomination of the gentleman from Greene be made unanimous. At that time I said, as I have said before upon the floor of this House, that I think we have been particularly fortunate in the men we have been chosen to preside over us. I think that there exists in the hearts of each one of us a great respect and admiration for the men who have sat in that Chair. I have seen them rise and grow with their occupation of that office.

I was interested in the statement in this resolution that the Speaker of this House had arrived thirty-six years ago without comment, and as evidence of his growth and of the fact that he has progressed, I might say that on that occasion he arrived without either teeth or hair, that he was unable to speak, but today we hear from his lips from time to time some of the best repartee that has ever been put forward in this House. So, I too on this day want to wish him happiness, want to wish that he may go on to higher service, and I want to wish that he may have the opportunity as long as his party is in the majority in this House to preside over it, and I am sure that you have, Mr. Speaker, the very best wishes of all the members on our side of the House.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

THE SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The recipient of all these nice things that have been said this afternoon might, in the words of his good friend from Delaware, Mr. Turner, say that he was flabbergasted, had he not seen certain actions by a few of the members around the desk this morning and last night. Not being a very adroit politician, I did surmise what was going to happen, and for that reason I did not wish to recognize the gentleman from Washington. I again wish to say to these members and to those members who have spoken today that I appreciate more than words can express this sentiment and this recognition of the anniversary of my life. I feel that the greatest thing that I have received during my term as a member of the Legislature in Harrisburg is the friendship of the various members of the House, and I will never forget the association with all of the members here in the House during all of my terms. I appreciate that friendship and I hope to be able to return to them in some measure the friendship and the cooperation towards me and especially the cooperation of the members in this session and the two previous Special sessions. I again thank each and every one of you for this expression today on this anniversary of my life.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 2021, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (b) of section five hundred one of the act, approved the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty nine (P. L. 905), entitled "An act for the protection of the public safety; regulating the use of highways, and the operation of vehicles, tractors, street cars, trackless trolley omnibuses, bicycles, pedestrians, and the riding of animals upon the highways of this Commonwealth; providing for the titling, including liens, encumbrances, and legal claims; registration of certain vehicles and licensing the operators thereof, upon payment of prescribed fees; prescribing and limiting the powers of local authorities to deal with the subject matter of this act; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the Department of Revenue, the Department of Highways, peace officers, mayors, burgesses, magistrates, aldermen, justices of the peace, the courts and the clerks thereof, owners of vehicles, and garage keepers; providing that records are admissable as evidence; imposing upon owners, counties, cities, boroughs, incorporated towns, townships, within the Commonwealth, liability for damages caused by the negligent operation of their motor vehicles; imposing penalties; imposing certain costs upon counties; providing for the disposition of fines, forfeitures, fees, and miscellaneous receipts; making an appropriation; and providing for refunds," by providing for the issuance of special registration plates to members of the General Assembly.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, some time ago Mr. Habbyshaw and I introduced a bill providing for the issuance of special license numbers upon payment of certain fees. It was not limited to the members of the House of Representatives particularly, but included the Legislature, the Judiciary, the National Guard and any other person of the Commonwealth who through any reason desired to have a special number and was willing to pay for it. We felt if a person was willing to pay to have a particular type of license number, he should be entitled to have that number and we agree with that principle. But in consideration of the limitation of that principle to the Legislature alone, and then not providing for any special fee for this, we think that we cannot vote for this bill. We think that it should be extended to include everybody in this Commonwealth who desires to have a special license and is willing to reimburse the Commonwealth for the privilege of having that license.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, there was an agreement which will necessitate this bill being passed over in its order, and I therefore move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like some one to explain in detail the provisions of this bill. Perhaps Mr. Cohen or Mr. Turner can do so.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my understanding of this bill is that it is exactly of the same character as the bill which we passed for the City of Philadelphia which would provide for the deduction from the pay of municipal employes presented for the payment of taxes which they owe.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that this bill applies to municipalities or townships, employes of the political subdivisions?

Mr. TURNER. That is as I understand it, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1978, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" providing for certain additions to minimum annual salaries for members of the teaching staffs of schools in fourth class school districts and authorizing the suspension of this supplement in certain cases.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in understanding that we are now on House Bill No. 1978?

The SPEAKER. You are.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the lady from Lancaster, Mrs. Horting.

The SPEAKER. Will the lady from Lancaster permit herself to be interrogated?

Mrs. HORTING. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, this bill is for an increase in the pay of teachers in fourth class school districts, is it not?

Mrs. HORTING. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is this not the bill to which I offered an amendment last night to strike out section 3 which would provide that the increased payment was to come from the chain store tax?

Mrs. HORTING. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware please repeat his interrogation?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is this not the same bill as to which I offered an amendment last night to strike out section 3 which provides that the chain store tax is to pay the increased amounts to the teachers in the fourth class school districts?

Mrs. HORTING. It is, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, therefore, under this bill will the State pay all of the moneys which are necessary to pay the increased amounts to the teachers in the fourth class school districts, or will the fourth class school districts themselves have to pay a part of the increase?

Mrs. HORTING. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, I will state that the State will reimburse the districts on the same basis as the present reimbursement, whatever it may be, fifty, sixty or seventy-five percent, as at present.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if I understand the lady correctly, and my understanding of the intent of this bill is the same as she has stated, the State will not pay all of the increase but there will still be a part of the increase to be paid by the fourth class school districts.

Mrs. HORTING. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, under section 2 of this act it seems to me that the State is to pay all of that increase up to one thousand dollars, is that correct?

Mrs. HORTING. Mr. Speaker, that is not my understanding of it. I have taken the matter up with the Department of Public Instruction and also with the Governor's office and they are of the same opinion as I have previously said.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, as I interpret the language of section 2, the first paragraph of that section it says: "In addition to all payments which the Commonwealth is now by law required to make to school districts of the fourth class on account of the salaries of members of the teaching and superisory staffs of such school districts the Commonwealth shall pay for the fiscal year beginning the first day of July one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven and for each fiscal year after to each fourth class school district the following amounts on account of the minimum salaries of all members of the teaching staffs of all elementary schools an amount which together with the amount now required by law to be paid by the Commonwealth,"—that is what we are at present paying, supposing it is fifty percent,—and in addition to the amount now required by law to be paid by the school district,"—that is what the school districts now pay, the other fifty percent, "will equal for each member of such staffs the sum of one thousand dollars."

In other words, if at the present time the minimum salary is eight hundred dollars, and the State pays fifty percent and the school district pays the balance, that would mean four hundred dollars apiece, but if the State in addition to that is to pay an amount which will be equal for each member of such staffs the sum of one thousand dollars, that is a sum up to one thousand dollars, that would mean the State would have to pay the two hundred dollars additional, would it not?

Mrs. HORTING. That is not my understanding of the bill, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot read the language in any other way. In the second paragraph, however, it does say what you said in the beginning, in other words, that the State does pay as it does now under the Edmonds Act, that is, if it pays fifty percent, they pay fifty percent of the increase, they pay one hundred dollars above the eight hundred dollars, being one half of the difference between eight hundred dollars and one thousand dollars, is that the understanding of the lady from Lancaster, Mrs. Horting.

Mrs. HORTING. Mr. Speaker, my understanding is that the State will reimburse districts fifty, sixty or seventy-five percent on the one thousand dollar minimum, which we are now establishing.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, on the one thousand dollar minimum the State is to pay fifty percent, or it will pay five hundred dollars, and that will leave the local districts to pay five hundred dollars, would it not?

Mrs. HORTING. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the fourth class school districts would be required to pay one hundred dollars more than they are now paying to each teacher, is that not correct.

Mrs. HORTING. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is that the understanding of the lady from Lancaster?

Mrs. HORTING. It is, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think that is the clear intent of the second paragraph, but the first paragraph does not say that. It says the State is going to pay it all. I wonder if the lady from Lancaster can explain the two paragraphs. If the State in the first paragraph is going to pay it all, why do they say in the second paragraph it is going to pay fifty or seventy-five percent, or whatever the percentage may be?

Mrs. HORTING. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Delaware I would like to say that he is probably much more familiar with the language of bills than I am. However, I have the opinion of the Governor's office and also of the Department of Public Instruction that that is not contradictory.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have read this bill a number of times, I have tried to follow this language in the first paragraph and I cannot make anything out of that language other than the State is to pay the entire difference, because it says that in addition to the amount which it now pays and the amount which the school district now pays, the State will pay the difference up to one thousand dollars. If that is the case that means that the State is going to pay it all. In the next paragraph it says it is only going to pay fifty or seventy-five percent, or whatever the percentage may be. May I also call to your attention that in the first paragraph, or in section one, there is a provision that the teaching staffs in high schools shall receive eleven hundred and seventy dollars, but there is no mention of that at all in section two. In the second place the act provides for an increment to the teachers of fifty dollars as to the elementary grades for four years, and as to high school teachers one hundred dollars for four years, but there is no mention of that in section two at all. Therefore, as I understand the Edmonds Act the school district would have to pay these increments, and, therefore, in addition to the payment of the difference in increase, it would also have to pay the whole of these increments.

Therefore, it seems to me, Mr. Speaker that this bill ought to be placed on the postponed calendar or it should not be passed, because if the intent is to provide a tax on chain stores to pay for the increase of the teachers' salaries of the fourth class school districts, and then we turn around and load back on the fourth class districts, many of whom are unable to pay their way at the present time, and a number of them are in distress,—we are going to appropriate a couple of million dollars for distressed school districts during the next biennium,— we are only adding to the difficulties of the fourth class school districts. I therefore do not think this bill should be passed in its present form.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Turner,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 103, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand eight hundred and forty-nine (Pamphlet Laws five hundred thirty-three) entitled "An act to exempt property to the value of three hundred dollars from levy and sale on execution and distress for rent" declaring persons incapable of waiving their right to an exemption as to household goods

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HUNTLEY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I understand this bill it is an attempt to protect women and children from being put out on the street under what they used to call on the Sinnamahoning Shirt Tail Execution. A father gives his note in which he confesses judgment by power of attorney and waives his exemption inquisition to the amount of $300 which the law allows him He is sold out under this exemption. It is not the selling out of the maker of the note that we are trying to remedy in his bill, but it is the selling out of the wife and children who had nothing whatever to do with the giving of the note. However, I dare say that every hard working mother, who has a brood of children, had a great deal to do with the making and saving what little furniture that is being sold. For that reason I am for the underdog, with the Democrats across the other side.

Mr. McDEVITT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am opposed to this bill but for an entirely different reason, and I do not intend to argue it, but simply so that a bill won't pass under a misapprehension, this one applies to distress for rent. It does not apply to contracts that a man might have signed or a waiver for exemption on a loan or the financing of a car or something of that kind. It applies solely to distress for rent, and I might say, very briefly, I am opposed to it because I believe that the owner of a property also has some rights. By the time he gets through the procedure of an eviction probably the house will have been torn down. Now the general experience has been that in very few cases are household goods sold out on constable's notice, but such a notice of sale is a very good stimulus to a tenant who is not paying his rent, and in ninety-nine out of one hundred cases, he does get out, but this bill does only apply to distress for rent.

Mr. ECKELS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it has been my understanding that the exemption of $300 for distress for rent also applies to the notes and the execution and as I read the heading of the bill here it is to exempt property to the value of $300 from levy of sale on execution and distress for rent. I do not have the original act before me, but it is my understanding it applies to the shirt tail notes as well as distress for rent.

Mr. DAVID H. WEISS. Mr. Speaker I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Jirolanio.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JIROLANIO. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DAVID H. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, will not this proposed bill affect the future borrowing power of an individual who wishes to borrow money from a small loan company?

Mr. JIROLANIO. In answer to that question of the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Speaker, I would appreciate if he would be more explicit in just what he refers to, as to small loans.

Mr. DAVID H. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, people in Westmoreland County who want to borrow money in small amounts, fifty to one hundred dollars, sign a note against their household goods. If they were not allowed to waive their household goods they would not be able to borrow any money.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Westmoreland I wish to inform him that the present law as it now exists is if you borrow money from a small loan company, and the borrower then turns over the title to the small loan company, and they in turn lease the property back, which is practically almost a chattel mortgage, which is said not to be in existence in Pennsylvania, that sale would be void and of no effect or value whatsoever. Therefore answering the question, I would say that it does not exist under the law today.

Mr. DAVID H. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, will this not make it more difficult for the individual to rent a home, not being able to waive his or her household goods? In other words, will not the landlord be a little more strict in seeing who gets into his home.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, that might be so, but the conditions will apply to everybody in this Commonwealth, and the landlord should be in the same category and in the same position, no one will have any preference.

Mr. DAVID H. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, do you not think that the landlord might be more cautious in allowing some individuals to get into the home, and thereby work a hardship on them?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Westmoreland, I cannot determine what the mental operations of the landlord will be when this bill is passed.

Mr. DAVID H. WEISS. Mr. Speaker, I wish to make a statement. Mr. Speaker, the idea back of House Bill No. 103 is pretty good, but I am afraid that in trying to help the small fellow, in certain respects you are doing him just as much harm and I feel that this bill should have more consideration than it has received up to the present time. It is going to hurt the borrowing power of the small person, the man who really needs fifty or one hundred dollars in an emergency. It is going to hurt the small person's ability to get a home when he is chased out or evicted, from his particular place. Therefore, while I am not opposed to the idea back of this bill, I still feel that the bill in principle is drafted incorrectly.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to make a statement in favor of the present bill as it now stands.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, if memory serves me correctly, the original purpose of the $300 exemption law was to protect an individual from becoming a pauper, in order that the Commonwealth or the municipalities would not have to bear the burden of seeing to it that he would not become destitute. That original provisions has been embodied in our laws, and I know that no one in this audience today nor any of the members of the House in this body today is against the original provisions and purposes of the act as originally passed. Since that time there has grown up the practice of waiving these provisions of the exemption. By waiving the provisions of the exemption we are defeating the very purpose for which this act was passed, and therefore I say to all the members of this House that in order to carry out the original purpose of this act we should forbid anyone from waiving the provisions, because by waiving the provisions they will then place themselves in such a position that they may become paupers and become destitutes and become charges upon the Commonwealth and the municipalities.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1754, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (Pamphlet Laws two hundred eighty-nine) entitled "An act relating to non-profit corporations defining and providing for the organization merger consolidation and dissolution of such corporations conferring certain rights powers duties and immunities upon them and their officers and members prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the first class within the provisions of this act prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign non-profit corporations may be admitted or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas prothonotaries of such courts recorders of deeds and certain State departments commissions and officers authorizing certain local public officers and State departments to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act imposing penalties and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations" by providing for and regulating the incorporation of non-profit corporations organized to provide hospital care and service for subscribers and conferring powers on the Insurance Department with respect thereto

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TUMULTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman from York explain what is meant in section 218 that "A majority of the directors of such corporations must at all times be directors, trustees or administrators of any hospital with which such corporation has a contract for such care and service."

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in explanation of the paragraph just read by the gentleman from Philadelphia I would say that prior to the formation of a non-profit corporation to engage in what is known as the three cent a day plan the members of the directorate of that non-profit corporation must be intimately connected with hospitalization and therefore this act requires that a majority of the directors of the non-profit corporation be affiliated with a hospital either in their capacity as trustees or administrators.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York if a person who takes out what I presume would be a policy in this corporation would have the right to choose the hospital he wished to go to.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia has not quite yet arrived at the bridge whereby that question would be in order. This bill only provides for the formation of the corporation. The regulatory measure is still in the committee on Insurance. That bill at the present time requires that the insured go to the hospital that is a member of the subscribing group. However, it possibly might be amended and, as a matter of fact, amendments are being prepared along those lines, which would allow the insured to go to any hospital of his own choosing. However, that is not a part of this bill.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, due to the fact that this bill calls for contracts and hospitalization it is absolutely necessary to know what else is going on follow this bill up and in order to properly vote on the bill. So, I would like to ask the gentleman from York, if a person had a policy in such a corporation and such a corporation did not have a contract with a cancer hospital, for example, and that person developed cancer and desired to go to a very high grade cancer hospital, what could he do about it?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. He would go to the cancer hospital, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TUMELTY. But they have no contract with them, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, it all depends on the regulatory measure of the bill and the contract itself must meet with the approval of the Insurance Department.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe this bill is the first step in the socialization of medicine. I do not approve of the socialization of medicine in any form in any part of the United States, and, therefore, I am going to vote against this bill and I will ask everyone else who disapproves of the socialization of medicine to stop this first step and vote against the bill.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from York tell me whether or not this is a step towards health insurance?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not understand the interrogation of the gentleman.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman believe that the passage of this bill will be a step toward health insurance or a step toward the socialization of medicine.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, personally I do not so think. I think that this bill is a very fine example of how individuals may take care of themselves. Of course all forms of insurance have the implication of a group banding together to meet a common hazard. The history of fire insurance companies would indicate that. This bill does not involve the question of health insurance in that it does not supplement the income of the family as a result of illness. All that will be provided by the group hospitalization plan is the method whereby the incident of illness can be paid for without an enormous budgetary requirement.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, would it have a semblance to health insurance or socialized medicine if the cash benefits were eliminated?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the bill does not provide for the payment of cash benefits. The bill only provides for the payment of hospitalization for twenty-one days.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I want to correct my question. I was referring to the elimination of cash benefits in health insurance or socialized medicine.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would say in answer to that question, my conception of the bill that the gentleman from Allegheny has introduced in this House is that it requires a contribution by the Commonwealth. This bill does not require any contributions whatsoever by the Commonwealth and is different from socialized medicine or health insurance in that respect.

Mr. TRONZO. Is that the only respect, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Yes, Mr. Speaker, that it does not supplement the income of course during illness.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at this time I would like to read into the record an editorial appearing in "Labor" which is a weekly newspaper, under date of April 6, 1937, bearing the title "Possibilities of Health Insurance".

"The possibilities of health insurance on a state or national scale is revealed by an experiment which is being carried on in New York. Subscribers to a hospital service pay three cents a day, or $10.80 a year, and are entitled to twenty-one days of free care in a semi-private room in any one of two hundred and forty hospitals within a fifty mile radius of New York.

"This does not take care of doctors' bills, however. It is said that 270,000 persons in moderate circumstances have already subscribed. LABOR is not vouching for this particular plan, but is apparently a financial success.

"Great Britain and other countries have gone much farther, and comparatively small contributions from the worker and the employer pay the doctor, the dentist and the oculist, in addition to hospitalization.

"Of course, any health insurance scheme would have to be adapted to the idiosyncracies of America—and God knows we have a lot of peculiarities—but a plan can be worked out. In fact, it must be worked out, for today the citizen with ordinary income finds it next to impossible to secure adequate medical care unless he wrecks his savings account or mortgages his future."

That is exactly the way I feel about it. This is a step in the right direction but it does not go far enough. It does not give us what we want, and I do have a bill in committee, in one of the committees of this House known as Health Insurance Bill No. 622. I am sorry that that is not the bill under discussion today, but I say that the bill presented to this House and now before you on third reading will not finally meet the needs of the people of this Commonwealth, but is a step in the right direction, and I hope that we pass this bill and later pass House Bill No. 622.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am gradually being convinced that this is a very fine bill. The gentleman from Philadelphia found fault with the bill that it goes too far; the gentleman from Allegheny found fault with the bill that it does not go far enough. Possibly the bill is just right, in fact it has been satisfactory in a tremendous number of our States. The City of New York has a plan of group hospitalization, as the gentleman from Allegheny indicates, which is already flourishing and has approximately three hundred thousand subscribers. I understand that any number of communities outside of the Commonwealth have already started this plan and I further understand that a great number of communities within this Commonwealth, namely the hospital at Easton and the Abington Memorial Hospital, have adopted this plan. You cannot say, as the gentleman from Philadelphia indicated, that this is a step toward socialized medicine and attempt to throw cold water on it by using the words "socialized medicine"—you cannot detract from the merits of the plan in that manner. This will give the average individual, the great mass of people who are not in the wealthy class and the great number who are not in the indigent class, an opportunity to insure themselves at low cost against the incident of illness. This will provide an opportunity for hospitalization for thousands of people in this Commonwealth who now cannot budget themselves so that when they are visited by a situation which requires hospitalization, they cannot do so. This bill will give to the seekers of proper medical and hospital treatment an opportunity to get them.

I am sorry both for the gentleman from Philadelphia and the gentleman from Allegheny that they find some method of criticising this bill, but the fact remains that it takes care of the people of this Commonwealth and gives them an opportunity to get real hospital service at real low cost.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I accept the apologies of the gentleman from York.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, in order that people may not get the wrong impression, I did not say that this bill went anywhere; I merely said this bill opens the door to allow something to creep in. but I did hear from the gentleman from York that the bill goes down the middle of the road, and any time you are going down the middle of the road you will find a lot of people in the ditches on both sides, and that is probably what this bill will do, put them in the ditches.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. JAMES W. PATTERSON.

(Concurrent) RESOLUTION No. 63.

In the House of Representatives, April 6, 1937.

A Resolution memoralizing Congress to enact S. 1685, known as the Wagner Housing Bill

Whereas large numbers of the citizens of Pennsylvania are forced to live in slums and blighted areas in the midst of fifth, insanitation and squalor, in congested tenaments, and on narrow courts and alleys with inadequate light, air and play space, in houses which are often firetraps, or in danger of collapse; and

Whereas, all citizens are affected by such conditions through the disease, ignorance, immorality and crime which they nourish, and through the tax burdens which are placed upon the remainder of the community to support the governmental functions therein; and

Whereas, a bill has been introduced in the Senate of the United States by Senator Wagner, entitled:

> "A bill to provide financial assistance to the States and political subdivisions thereof for the elimination of unsafe and insanitary housing conditions, for the provision of decent, safe, and sanitary dwellings for families of low income, and for the reduction of unemployment and the stimulation of business activity, to create a United States Housing Authority, and for other purposes;" now therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), that the General Assembly of Pennsylvania urges the Congress to adopt the said bill, and particularly urges the representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania therein to vote in its favor, and be it further

Resolved, that copies of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States and to all members of the Congress of the United States.

Referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

RESOLUTIONS

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATIVE CORRESPONDENCE DINNER

Mr. GEORGE I. FISHER representing the Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondence Association presented a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

Pennsylvania Legislative Correspondents' Association
A PLAGUE ON BOTH YOUR HOUSES
(Also the Executive, Judicial and Lobby Branches)

RESOLUTION No. 2-time Binge of 1937

TO BE INTRODUCED BY THE PLCA, APRIL 21, 1937.
PLACE, PENN-HARRIS HOTEL, 6:30 P. M.

In a Daze, Any Day, 1937.

Whereas, Members of the so-called Legislature, the so-called Administration, the so-called courts, the so-called Democratic Party, the so-called Republican Party, the vested interests, the sugar-coated interests, the shoeless interests and all other non-interest-bearing interests have been raising hell hereabouts for more than three months; and

Whereas, This hell-raising has included so-called investigations of everybody, risings to personal privilege, mandates of certain people, caucuses, rumors, so-called politics, statements by unanimous consent, committees of the whole, reconsiderations and other horseplay at the expense of the taxpayer according to his inability to pay; and

Whereas, All this hell-raising has disrupted, interferred with, postponed, annoyed and otherwise inexcusably invaded the civil, human and property rights of newspaper correspondents to an abundant life of poker games, social engagements, slumber, meals, refreshments and other matters essential to welfare, health, recreation and good living; Therefore

Be It Resolved, and it already is resolved (the House of Representatives and the Senate notwithstanding), that a committee be appointed, and already has been appointed, to arrange, promote, concoct and otherwise cook up a dinner, show and debauchery to be facetiously known as The Sizzling Skillet, to be greased at the Penn-Harris Hotel, April 21, 1937, at 6:30 P. M., and

Be It Further Resolved, and it is so resolved, that this Committee be empowered to issue credentials under the sign and seal of damnfoolishness, commanding all legislators, bosses, lobbyists, politicos, office-holders and sundry others who have five dollars in cash to appear at said Sizzling Skillet on said date to view an investigation of legislative and administrative hell-raising for purposes of additional ripping; and

Be It Further Resolved, and it is so resolved that all persons entitled to said credentials (all persons with $5 are so entitled) be required to pay said $5 in advance and in legal tender to Walter D. Roos, secretary-treasurer of The Sizzling Skillet Committee, who may be addressed at Postoffice Box 221, Harrisburg, or to any newspaper correspondent, all of whom may be found in or about the Capitol Newsroom No. 524, E Floor, Capitol Building, Harrisburg.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. MOOMAW. Mr. Speaker, I wish to offer an amendment consisting of three words, following the words, "five dollars in cash" by inserting the words, "or in postage."

The amendment was unanimously adopted.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution as amended?

It was unanimously adopted.

RESOLUTION No. 27

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 27, Printer's No. 490.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 15, 1937.

Whereas, The City of Pittsburgh, through its Board of Public Education, maintains at the expense of all of the taxpayers of said City approximately 162 public school buildings; and

Whereas, The said Board of Public Education employs annually to teach in the said school system approximately 3,000 school teachers; and

Whereas, Among the taxpayers of the said City of Pittsburgh are many thousand Negroes whose children attend said public schools and who pay taxes to support said schools; and

Whereas, There is not now, neither has there been in the past, a single Negro teacher employed by said Board of Public Education, although many persons of said race have applied for said positions; and

Whereas, It is alleged that the said Board of Public Education has steadfastly refused to employ any Negro teacher, said refusal being contrary to the laws of this Commonwealth; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Speaker of the House appoint a Committee of five members of the House of Representatives, whose duty it shall be to make an investigation bearing upon the question as to whether or not the said Board of Public Education of the City of Pittsburgh refuses to employ Negro teachers on the basis of color; said committee to make its report to the House of Representatives before the close of the present session; and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

RESOLUTION No. 62

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 62.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas, Differences have arisen between the Hershey Chocolate Corporation and the United Chocolate Workers Union resulting in a sit down strike and the closing of the corporation's factory located in Hershey, Dauphin County; and

Whereas, The differences arose over the discharge of employes and not over hours of work or wages; and

Whereas, No employees were discharged in the Department of the factory where milk is reduced to powdered form; and

Whereas, As a result of the closing of the said department over 5300 of the farmers of Pennsylvania have lost a market for their milk totaling over 700,000 lbs. a day with the resulting loss of nearly $15,000 a day to said farmers; and

Whereas, This vast amount of surplus milk totaling over 350,000 quarts a day may seriously affect the entire milk market of the Commonwealth causing a substantial loss to all dairy farmers of this State; therefore be it

Resolved, by the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that this House does hereby urgently request the Hershey Chocolate Corporation to immediately open the Department used for the reducing of milk to powdered form and continue to purchase from their farms their usual supply of milk, for storage in powdered form or for such other disposition as may be found available; and be it further

Resolved, That this House urgently request the United Chocolate Workers Union to permit the operation of the said Department upon the company's retention therein of all of the said workers at the wages and for the hours agreed upon between the said Union and the said Company on St. Patrick's day; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of the said Resolution be immediately forwarded to W. F. Murrie, President of the Hershey Chocolate Corporation and to Russell Behman, President of the Hershey branch of the United Chocolate Workers Union.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I make only technical objections to the resolution. I cannot vote for the resolution because of having been a party to the agreement that was carried into effect yesterday on the part of the farmers and milk producers. I must call attention to the second resolve clause in which the House urgently requests that the Hershey Chocolate Corporation will open that department which handles powdered milk. I feel it is my duty to make this expression today because of the very intent of this resolution, or the intent of the committee that met to negotiate yesterday, and this thought must be carried forth to the membership here before you can intelligently vote upon this question. The hitch came on this second whereas clause, because the powdered milk department of the Hershey Corporation is not a powdered milk department, but it is a department for the production of a mixture of milk and chocolate and sugar and cocoa butter instead of milk alone. I have no distinct aversion to this resolution, but as I have explained to the House I cannot vote for it because of the agreement that was entered into yesterday and my being a party thereto.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I have here a number of bills, which I am about to introduce, pertaining to the problem of relief and assistance legislation. These bills, as may be observed from the covers, have the blessing, so to speak, of the Administration. This morning they were before the Joint Legislative Committee on Relief for hurried consideration, and while the committee at that time did not want to indicate their approval or disapproval of any one of them, because they have not been before the committee for close inspection, the committee did want the bills introduced, in order that they might be printed as distributed to those interested.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Chair understand that all of the bills referred to relate to the welfare and relief agencies?

Mr. THOMPSON. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, it having been impossible for some of the members of the committee studying relief to hear just what the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, said, we would like it understood that they are not in any way the act of the committee, because the committee has not had an opportunity to read those bills, and there has been no action by the committee. I think, perhaps, the Senator made that plain, but we were not able to hear what he had to say. The committee, did not as a committee direct him to introduce the bills.

The PRESIDENT. The observation of the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, will be noted in the Journal.

RESOLUTION FOR THE PRINTING OF 1000 COPIES EACH OF SENATE BILL No. 850 AND SENATE BILL No. 851

Mr. LAW offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Resolved, that the Public Printer be directed to print 1000 extra copies each of

Senate Bill No. 850
Senate Bill No. 851

introduced April 6, 1937.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, what did the Senator state as the purpose of printing a thousand copies of these bills?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, these bills comprise the Criminal Code and Code of Criminal Procedure. The purpose is that, in order that they may be studied by the various Bar Associations, the judges and members of the bar, a thousand copies of each bill will be needed so that they may be sent to each district, each judge and the secretary of each Bar Association in the State.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator have any idea of the cost of printing a thousand copies of each bill?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I know it will be considerable, and I know it is a serious proposition; but I think it more economical to have them printed now, all at one time, rather than wait until the first lot has been printed for the use of the Senate and House.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this Criminal Code alone will run, probably, to 250 or 300 pages, will it not?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, the bills are very long; no question about that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, what is the cost of printing a thousand of each of them?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I do not know. I know it is a serious item, but it will cost much less than it would if the original supply is exhausted and we have to print more to fill the demand.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there are a lot of people who get bills but do not even read them.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, these extra copies will be sent to those directly interested in the subject.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Bar Associations could print the bills themselves,—as they print a lot of other legislation around here that does not mean anything.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his point of order.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, there is a misunderstanding as to the numbers of these bills. I think Bill No. 850 is the Public Service Bill.

Mr. LAW. No, Mr. President, that is House Bill No. 850 which is the Public Service Bill. This is Senate Bill No. 850,—and Senate Bill No. 851.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO HOLDING COMMITTEE MEETINGS ON MONDAYS

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, in offering the following resolution, I have been very much impressed by the multiplicity of bills with pink checks. I understand that every bill with a pink check is an Administration bill. They are also called "must" bills; but this resolution of ours will prevent the "must" bills from becoming musty. It is of first-aid to the Administration.

Mr. WOODWARD offered the following resolution, which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 7, 1937.

Whereas, there are in the Senate Committee's large number of bills accumulating each week and

Whereas, the opportunities available for Committee meetings between Monday night and Wednesday afternoon are so limited

Resolved, that the Chairman of all Committees having a large number of bills, request members of the Committee's to meet regularly Monday afternoon between 4 and 6 o'clock and the Chairman of these Committees arrange the hours to avoid over-lapping.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I have a list of the bills that have been referred to the Committee on Judiciary General. I will not read the list, but there are now over sixty bills in that Committee; and in the Committee on State Government there are over thirty bills. As we all know, on Wednesday of each week the Senators are making plans to go home; but on Monday we feel fresh and happy,—we could come a little earlier and hold these meetings, and that would aid in the transaction of business.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objections. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Rules.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I should like to have explained the purpose of this bill.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this bill has to do with penalties and interest on taxes for 1934 and 1935. It is a tax abatement bill.

Mr. HALUSKA Mr. President, I should like to know whether this bill includes the abatement of penalties and interest on taxes for the years 1935 and 1936.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I understand it includes the abatement of penalties and interest on taxes for the year 1935. It also is in abatement for 1934 and preceding years, and permits the abatement of penalties on taxes for the years 1935 and 1936, but does not abate the interest.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it is my thought that as long as we intend to pass tax abating bills we should pass them including the years 1935 and 1936.

REQUEST THAT SENATE BILL No. 384 (HOUSE BILL No. 476) GO OVER IN ITS ORDER

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 384 (House Bill No. 476), on final passage, go over in its order, for the purpose of amendment.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I might say just a word to clarify the situation with respect to this bill As far as the 1934 tax is concerned, both the penalties and interest are abated; but with respect to the 1935 and 1936 taxes the penalties are abated but not the interest. The 1937 taxes must be paid currently, and then there is a five-year plan of amortization, the same as in former bills. The only difference between this bill and the bill passed at the last Session, two years ago, is that the interest for the two preceding years, 1935 and 1936, is not abated. I see no reason to delay the passage of this bill at the present time.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 625 on final passage, entitled:

An Act to add section four hundred and ninety-six to the act approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled, "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto," authorizing counties to place in good condition and to care for neglected cemeteries.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 49 on third reading entitled:

An Act to amend clause one of section one of the act, approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 1433), entitled "An act defining the powers of the courts of quarter sessions, the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, and the County or Juvenile Court of Allegheny County, with respect to the care, guidance, control, trial, placement and commitment of delinquent, dependent and neglected children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging the delinquency, neglect and dependency of children; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," defining the Family Court of Phildelphia as a court having jurisdiction with respect to the care, guidance, control, placement and commitment of delinquent, neglected and dependent children under sixteen years of age; and eliminating the Municipal Court in the County of Philadelphia as a court having such jurisdiction.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to explain that these two bills on third reading today, Senate Bill No. 49 and Senate Bill No. 58, do not accomplish any general plan in connection with the Municipal Court of Philadelphia,—the passage of these bills, I mean, at this time, would not affect the situation in Philadelphia; it would mean merely that if a Family Court be created the jurisdiction referred to in this bill, Senate Bill No. 49, would be transferred to that court.

In order that the situation may be made clear, I should like to say to the members of this Senate, first, that some members had the idea that one of these bills is one of the bills creating a Small Claims Court. It does not. And so far as the committee that has had these matters in charge is concerned, the bill creating the Small Claims Court will not be pressed, but will be abandoned. It has been so determined.

If time permits, by next Monday night, in connection with small claims, we will have for consideration a bill which will amend the Magistrates Act in Philadelphia, so that a citizen in that city, having a small claim, can appear before a magistrate and have a summons or statement filed, and service on it, for less than one dollar; and in order to avoid the difficulty, and the criticism, on magistrates' hearings, and to take away from the person who gets the summons the hearing of the case, the Magistrates Act will be amended to provide for the creation of a central hearing system of three magistrates, appointed by the Board of Magistrates, for one month. So that, in the City of Philadelphia, every month there will be sitting a combination of three different magistrates, appointed by the Board of Judges, to hear civil cases in the various districts.

And there will be an amendment offered to the Common Pleas Court Act to provide that a jury trial may be waived by litigants, and, if not waived, the four dollar jury fee shall be paid.

Bringing the Common Pleas Court into line with the present Municipal Court, the trial by jury may be had in that court, and actions speeded up in the trial.

These bills will be prepared and presented, and on next Monday night I shall ask the Senate to act upon two of these bills which are now on the callendar, for the purpose of bringing the matter to a head, so that they may be passed over to the House for action on any plan that the committee may adopt.

The bill under consideration at this time, Senate Bill No. 49, will, of necessity, require action by the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to the bill going over in its order? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 58, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section eleven as amended and to repeal section ten of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred eleven) entitled "An act establishing a court for the county of Philadelphia prescribing its jurisdiction and powers providing for the service of its writs process or warrants by the proper officers of the county or city of Philadelphia regulating the procedure therein and appeals therefrom and providing for the expenses thereof" taking from said court jurisdiction in civil and criminal actions and in equity go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL DROPPED FROM CALENDAR

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 78, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (Pamphlet Laws one thousand two hundred thirty-seven) entitled "An act affecting marital relations prescribing grounds and regulating proceedings for divorce and the annulment of bigamous marriages and amending revising and consolidating the law relating thereto" as amended conferring jurisdiction on the Family Court of Philadelphia in proceedings for divorce and the annulment of marriages.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

We bless Thy name for all of the men and women who have consecrated their strength to the highest good and who have helped to usher in the bright day in which we live. We ask Thy blessings upon the President of our country, the Governor of our State and all who share in the responsibilities and the cares of this government. Especially do we pray for these individuals who by the confidence of their fellowmen have been called to the stewardship of the affairs of this State. Give them wisdom and understanding in all their deliberations. Take from them all selfish ambitions. Grant that they may hold sacred the trust that has been placed in them and have a keen sense of their duty. Grant them faith and daring to do the right against all opposition. BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise at this time to ask the unanimous consent of the House to introduce a bill. It is the tax anticipation note bill which might possibly be construed as a revenue bill, but in view of the fact that we have passed a resolution restricting the introduction of bills other than revenue bills and appropriation bills, I feel that I require the consent of the House for the introduction of this bill and I so request.

The SPEAKER. May I ask the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, whether the bill could not be introducted in the Senate?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. That is quite possible, Mr. Speaker. However, we have had a very fine example of the effectiveness of the way in which this House operates by the gentleman who is now occupying the Speaker's chair and we feel that the House can give better consideration to such a weighty measure.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN obtained unanimous consent to introduce a bill the title of which was read as follows:

An Act authorizing the Commonwealth to negotiate temporary emergency loans to defray the current and other expenses of the State government during the two fiscal years beginning the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven, evidenced by tax anticipation notes secured by, and payable from, current revenues, levied, assessed, collectible and accuring during such two fiscal years; defining the powers and duties of the Governor, the Auditor General, and the State Treasurer in relation thereto; providing for the payment of interest on, and the payment of, such loans; and making an appropriation.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, would it be proper if there were objection from the gentleman who is presiding over the House at this time to the introduction of this bill—would it be proper for the Chair to make objection if the Chair had objection?

The SPEAKER. I would say to the gentleman from York, as the present Speaker of the House, that if the Speaker had objections he would make them whether it was proper or not.

The SPEAKER (Roy E. Furman) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to thank the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner for presiding during the first and second reading calendar.

BILL SIGNED BY THE SPEAKER

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have a very brief communication that in view of the important circumstances that are surrounding the Commonwealth at the present time, I would like to ask the indulgence of the House to read. It is addressed to "Dear Governor."

On account of how you are interested in all kinds of sports, including flying, even if you don't use a parachute often enough to get your feet back on terra firma very often, some of us Republican boys have been wondering if you couldn't see that we get passes to some of the games being played around here these days. The racket coming out of some of the Democratic committee meetings and the caucuses sounds like Bronx cheers to us and you'd better have the State Police on hand so they don't kill the Umpire, for you certainly are going to need Davy Lawrence a lot before this session is over.

We were sorry to miss that game over in Somerset County where Charlie Margiotti got called out by the judge on the third strike for crowding the plate, just as he was all set for a home run. Of course the Supreme Court took care of that one when it benched both him and the District Attorney for bawling out the umpire.

But what us Republicans need is a handful of passes to the games right here in Harrisburg. We used to get in to see the Committees play, but last week our boys on the education committee couldn't even find a crack in the fence when the Committee went into a huddle on the teachers' tenure bill. Up to that time your boys had been treating our boys pretty well, listening to our arguments and occasionally letting us knock out a little scratch hit, or giving us a base on balls. Of course they didn't let us make any runs, or anything, but it made us feel good.

Then along comes "Davy" Lawrence, and Governor, the boys would like to know if he is the owner of the team, the coach or just the umpire? Sometimes he acts like all three, and if you ain't a lettle careful, first thing you know he will be telling the boys on the gate your tickets ain't any more good than ours.

Well, Dave took the Democratic players over in a side room, gave them the old "pep talk" and told 'em to keep the dam Republicans off the bench. Some of your boys didn't think that was playing the game on the level,, but Dave he got the rubber-stampers to put their O'K on the tenure bill, sent them back on the field, and then went and called the game without giving us our turn at bat. What we would like to ask you, Governor, is that sporting?

Which ain't the worst of it, either, Governor, for when the bill comes up on second reading, in comes "Dave", and when some of our boys see him they were scared because they thought mebbee he was going to keep us out of the House, like he did out of the committee, but he must have been feeling pretty good natured that day for we was allowed to stay. But he sure did put the bug to the Democratic members, except Westrick and some of them who had the guts to fight back. The others just looked at him, and being all chocked up so they couldn't make themselves heard most of them didn't even vote, leaving all the responsibility on Billy Gallagher.

Confidentially Governor, this Lawrence was coaching from the side-lines the whole time.

I read the other day that you say you are for the underdog, well there are 54 of us Republican under-dogs in the House, and we get chewed up bad enough by the 154 Democratic members, which is why we feel pretty bad about it when this here Lawrence comes along and hisses them all on us at one time. Or are you in favor of under-dogs only when they are Democrats?

But, be that as it may, Governor, wouldn't it be possible for us Republicans, now that we ain't going to be allowed in committee meetings any more, to get some free passes to the Democratic caucuses, on account of how the noise coming over the transoms makes some of the boys think they are missing something good. Us Republicans hear that the way Dave Lawrence puts on his act would make old Simon Legree green with envy.

They tell us Jack Kelly don't like how Dave is staging the show. He was fit to be tied when he heard how Dave hung up that one on him on the Holland bill. And was Dave's face red when Jack grabbed an oar and knocked off the right to collect the personal property tax!

Of course, we don't ask for any ringside seats, just near enough to see the blood and hear 'em groan.

Most of us are old-fashioned. We thought when we got elected we were entitled to our rights as members of the Legislature. Of course we didn't benefit none from WPA money and we didn't make any fancy promises to Mr. Farley before election, but still we feel we got a right to seats instead of being just what you might call key-hole crashers. Or has this here Supreme Court thing given you the idea you and Dave ought to do the same with the Legislature?

Now, Governor, have a heart and give us passes for the next fight between Philadelphia and Allegheny. They do say it's going to be a honey. Of course we are not vouching for what the Democratic members say, but we hear that Dave played the caucus game under the rules they use in Allegheny elections, where you give the other fellow about forty per cent of what you thing the total vote is going to be and then declare your own man elected. A sort of Jacksonian theory that to the victor belongs the count.

You know, Governor, you can catch more flies with molasses than with vinegar and it begins to look like the New Deal is going to be vinegar to a lot of people along about 1940, but a Fair Deal is always molasses to the voters.

Yours for bigger and better Democratic fights,

FAIR DEAL REPUBLICAN

Mr. HARKINS. I do not have those figures with me now, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, it was something like eleven million dollars, was it not?

Mr. HARKINS. I cannot either agree or disagree, Mr. Speaker, because as I say I do not have the figures here, so that I cannot state what they were.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me the estimated revenue under this bill.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, as I understand it, the estimated revenue under this bill is thirty-four million dollars.

Mr. TURNER. And that is four mills, Mr. Speaker, so that one mill woud be something over eight million dollars?

Mr. HARKINS. I think that that is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, so that instead of an estimated revenue of eleven million dollars, as I supposed, the gentleman thinks that the estimated revenue will be about seventeen million dollars a year from the tax?

Mr. HARKINS. I do not understand the interrogation, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. In other words, Mr. Speaker, if the State collects four mills it is supposed to return about thirty-five million dollars in the biennium and that would mean that in the biennium the counties would collect that sum on four mills, which would be seventeen and a half million dollars for one year.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman's calculation is correct, one-fourth of thirty-five would be approximately eight million and a half—yes.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, two into thirty-five, as I recall it makes seventeen and a half.

Mr. HARKINS. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. And, Mr. Speaker, if thirty-five is four mills for the biennium then seventeen and a half would be four mills for the one year period.

Mr. HARKINS. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in the first place, I think there is a great amount of opposition in the State to the personal property tax as being a very severe tax and which amounts to something between twenty and twenty-five percent of the income tax on income from securities.

In the second place, the Governor has said that this tax would fall on those best able to pay it. I wish that I had with me, at my desk at the present time, a number of letters which I have received over the past two or three months since the Legislature has been in session in which any number of people have written to me protesting against this personal property tax, because they say that all they have left are a few shares of some stock or that they have some little mortgage, that that is all they have have left to carry them on through their old age and the rest of their days. If there ever was a fallacy that this tax was falling upon those best able to pay it I think the past few months, since this tax was levied in the 1936 Special Session, at least it was increased so heavily in that special session, have demonstrated it is not falling heavily upon those best able to pay but that it is falling most heavily upon thousands of small investors in Pennsylvania, men and women who are mature in years, who have grown old and who only have some little security to protect them.

In the third place, there are lots of these people who are not receiving any income on their securities and they are not only not receiving income but they are bound to take from their pocketbooks the amount of money which is necessary to pay this tax

Now, I think another bad feature of this bill is this: That you are going to collect by this bill—that is the State is going to collect—the four mill tax that was formerly collected by the counties, which has always been considered a county tax, which has always been considered as something upon which the counties could rely to help out on their real estates taxes and to keep down their real estate taxes. It has always been considered as a part of the estimate of their assets in determining their borrowing capacity, and I am wondering whether you realize that you may be jeopardizing the borrowing capacity of many of your counties by permitting the State to take over this tax and to collect it, even though they do return this income to the counties.

In the next place, the four mills which the State by the 1935-36 Legislation was given the authority to collect, that increased tax was supposed to be an emergency tax. Now it is originally introduced in this session as a permanent tax measure and it has now been restored to the place of an emergency tax measure, but suppose the time comes, after a few years, and you desire to take off the four mills and levy only four mills which the counties are going to collect, may there not be a danger on the part of the counties that they will then lose the four mills and that the State will retain it? Legislation, of course, will be necessary for them to make such a change in the law so that they retain the four mills, but once you have placed this money in the State Treasury, after you have taken the collection out of the hands of your local people, you are endangering your own county and you are putting it in a place where you may never get it back and where you may lose it for all time to come.

I think there is another feature about this bill which we all should take into consideration. If these funds are going to be placed in the State Treasury of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, we have seen times in the past and we will see times in the future perhaps whereby as a result of a stringency of funds in the Commonwealth, we will say, the Treasury or the Legislature may utilize a lot of those funds. I understand that under the provisions of this bill we are to receive the payments in the counties on June 1 and December 1 of each year; that is the time when the State Treasury will make the return.

If you have had any experience with funds that have been paid out by the State Treasurer, you will know how the school funds, for example, have been held up, and how some of the hospital funds have been held up, and you will know how the tax moneys on foreign insurance companies have been held up and delayed for many months in getting back to the fire companies. You will realize that there will be times when this money will not be paid on the dates set forth in the bill. I think aside from any question of home rule, I think aside from any question of the desirability of retaining the collection of this tax within the counties, where we may have that much lien upon its retention, I think aside from any question of our borrowing capacity and whether it may be impaired under an act of this kind, and if it should be impaired, you are going to create chaos in the State of Pennsylvania.

I think there are many other questions that enter into this bill, which make it unjust and unfair to have this tax collected by the Commonwealth instead of by the counties. I have never seen any statistics covering the cost of collections to the counties, but I understand it is going to be fixed at one percent under this act, but that cost is going to be paid by the State. If there is any reason why this should be taken over by the State then it ought to be a reason of economy. One percent of this amount will be $175,000 a year that the State is going to get from the counties for the collection of this money, which they are already collecting in the sense that it is just as easy for the State to collect eight mills as it is to collect four mills. If the State collects the eight and the county collects the four mills, then the only cost to the State will be the remittance to the counties twice a year, and it does not seem to me that $175,000 should be necessary to remit the funds to the counties at the expiration of the term. Therefore, personally, I am going to vote "no" on this bill.

Mr. HARKINS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to support this bill and ask the support of the members of the House for it. This bill continues for a two year period the emergency tax in the amount of four mills on personal property, with some modifications and refinements which are beneficial to all the people in the State, namely, the exemptions of shares of building and loan stock. This tax is an equitable tax, regardless of the statements that may be made to be contrary.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we hear from time to time opposition to this tax because some shares of stock in corporations which are not paying dividends may from time to time pay a tax on their value. It sounds good,—it is a plausible argument, but when you enter into an analysis of the situation it is not as plausible as it first sounds. I can think now af a certain stock which in the last year and a half has risen from the figure of twenty-two until it sold the other day at the value of one hundred and nine dollars a share. That particular stock has paid no dividends whatsoever, but the owners of that stock certainly could not be said to be people who were poor if they owned very much of the stock. Certainly it would be unjust and unfair for them not to be taxed.

Now, this bill merely continues in force the present existing four mill levy which is now being collected by the counties. It transfers the collection of those four mills to the Department of Revenue of the State, and it of course continues for another two year period the four mill levy now being collected by the Department of Revenue for State purposes.

With regard to the question of constitutionality there have been numerous opinions form authorative sources that the constitutional power and borrowing power of the counties will not in any way be endangered by the act as it is drawn at the present time.

The consideration that old couples protest about this tax certainly is not to be considered, because the few old folks who happen to have stocks and securities will be more than benefited in return by the amount of tax that will be returned to their particular counties caused by the increase of the collection of this tax, this personal property tax. The county commissioners in those counties will be able to return it to those aged persons and to those widows who own a few shares of stock by reducing the levies on real estate in those counties. The bill is a necessary part of the tax program that we have here, and it is absolutely essential for us to give this bill our support.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I ask your support for this bill.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in debating with Mr. Harkins two years ago on the enactment of this tax, I called the attention of the members of this House to the withdrawal of money from the State of Pennsylvania to other state and even other countries. I think the gentleman replied at that time that it probably would not have any effect on such withdrawal, or such withdrawal would not occur. Since the enactment of this tax, in the business in which I happen to be, I know that hundreds of millions of dollars have been withdrawn from the State of Pennsylvania, either by the withdrawal of funds or that the people owning such securities have moved elsewhere, including the State of New Jersey, Canada, Florida and some more, and if any of the gentlemen here would like to know where they went and who they were I think I can supply them with the names and take them to the trust companies for the purposes of verifying my statement.

I wish to reply to the remarks concerning persons owning mortagages and stocks. Mr. Harkins has stated that he knows about a stock which ran up from twenty-two to one hundred nine. The owner of such stock could probably have no complaint against this tax, but I think I could name many stocks including utilities against which a national policy has been adopted, which have dropped many points in their value during the last year or two.

Let me tell you too, the effect on mortgages held by widows, who may have some small mortgages. This is a distinct capital levy on those widows. I have had pathetic letters from widows in which they state that no interest was being paid on their mortages with the result that in some cases they had to borrow money to pay the taxes.

I might call your attention to this, that these people holding these mortgages and having no other income were forced to foreclose those mortgages, and the people owning them lost their homes because they could not afford to keep those mortgages. I think that alone is one of the best arguments against this bill.

I am against the tax on life insurance annuities as much as I was against the tax on building and loan stocks, which, thank goodness, has been eliminated. I believe that it is a tax on the thrift of the people of Pennsylvania. In accordance with the arguments which I have advanced, which are based on facts, I conclude and I cannot help but think otherwise, that this tax is inequitable, it is not an equitable tax. Those persons holding securities and mortgages paying interest can afford to pay it, but those litle fellows holding securities and mortgages not paying interest can ill afford to pay it, and I intend to vote against this bill for the reasons advanced.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

REASON FOR VOTE

Mr. ACHTERMAN filed the following reason for his vote.

I am voting "yes" on this bill only because the State sorely needs the funds raised by this bill. In all other respects this bill is very dangerous. It endangers the borrowing capacity of the municipalities and it violates every Democratic concept of Home rule.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1058, (Senate Bill No. 151), entitled:

An Act relating to the protection of agriculture and horticulture including all field crops, vegetables, trees, shrubs, vines, florist and nursery stock and all other plants and parts or products thereof from plant pests, and revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto; defining the powers and duties of the Department of Agriculture relating thereto; providing penalties and repealing present laws.

Our Father, Who art in Heaven, hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven.

Thy Kingdom, O God, whereof we speak, and for which we pray, is not a realm of glittering crowns, nor of mighty throne; but a kingdom wherein is righteousness;

In which every man is of the royal line, every woman a queen; every daughter fair a princess, every son a prince;

No crouching slaves; no master's lash; no tyrant's vain caprice. Its rule is right, its law is love; its dominions the uttermost regions of truth.

RESOLUTION

ON THE DEATH OF HONORABLE CHARLES JOHNSON

Mr. BEAN offered the following resolution which was twice read and agreed to:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, April 12, 1937.

Charles Johnson, famous political leader and prominent in the affairs of the State Government for many years, has passed away at the age of eighty-three years. He was born on a farm in Montgomery County where he spent his early life filling various local township offices. Later he engaged in real estate business and was elected sheriff of Montgomery County. Subsequently, he became Resident Clerk of the House of Representatives, then Insurance Commissioner, Deputy Auditor General, Secretary of the Commonwealth and Secretary of Revenue. He was for many years the Republican leader of Montgomery County, was at different times Treasurer and Secretary of the Republican State Committee, and attended National and State Conventions of the Republican Party.

He was president of the Peoples National Bank, a director of the Norristown Penn Trust Company, and of a number of industrial corporations.

Quiet and unassuming in his private and public life he yet possessed a quality of leadership equaled by but few men in the history of the Commonwealth.

Resolved, That the Members of the Senate express their sincere sympathy to the members of the family of Charles Johnson in their bereavement and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family by the Chief Clerk of this House.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING CHANGE OF NAME OF HIGHWAY KNOWN AS UNITED STATES ROUTE NUMBER SIX TO THE GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC HIGHWAY.

Mr. RICE offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate of Pennsylvania, April 12, 1937.

Whereas, there is a National Movement to name a transcontinental highway as the Grand Army of the Republic Highway, and

Whereas, several other states have already designated in their states such a highway which connects up with United States Route Number six in Pennsylvania, therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur) that the General Assembly requests the Secretary of Highways in the exercise of the powers conferred upon him by law to change the name of the Highway known as United State Route Number Six to the Grand Army of the Republic Highway.

Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Secretary of Highways by the Chief Clerk of the Senate.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39 which requires concurrent resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended and that the Senate do now proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Ordered, That the Clerk present same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION TO FORMULATE POLICIES ENCOURAGING INDUSTRIES.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of Senate Resolution reported from the Committee on Labor and Industry on April 7th.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The resolution was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 5, 1937.

Whereas, We have in Pennsylvania many diversified industries engaged in the business of manufacturing, producing and selling various products and commodities; and

Whereas, The State Government through its various agencies is a large consumer and distributor of many of these products and commodities; and

Whereas, In certain instances discriminatory practices have been set up by certain administrative agencies, which tend to handicap Pennsylvania industries which are in competition with certain foreign state industries of like nature; and

Whereas, This practice results in a lessened employment in the State; and

Whereas, It is the duty of the General Assembly to deal with the problem of unemployment and relief, and particularly when such problems are directly traceable to the question of unemployment; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That any economic advantage granted to foreign industries works to the disadvantage of Pennsylvania industry and tends to increase unemployment in this Commonwealth, and where such advantage results from policies adopted by an administrative agency, it is hereby declared that such policies are deemed contrary to the spirit of the discretionary powers vested in such agency.

Resolved, That the General Assembly believes that the policies of all administrative agencies should at all times be formulated to encourage and foster Pennsylvania industry by requiring it, in order to gain a market, to sell certain products and commodities below a price charged by and paid to industries outside Pennsylvania for products and commodities of the same grade or character.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move the adoption of this resolution.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING THE GOVERNOR, THE SENATE OF PENNSYLVANIA AND SENATE COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS FOR SPEEDY AND FAVORABLE ACTION ON SENATE BILL APPROPRIATING $25,000 TO JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE TO INVESTIGATE TAX BURDENS UPON PENNSYLVANIA INDUSTRIES

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read.

RESOLUTION

April 12, 1937.

Whereas, pursuant to the adoption of Senate Resolution No. 4, (Senate Printer's No. 64) and the concurrence therewith by the House a Joint Legislative Committee to investigate tax burdens placed upon industries in Pennsylvania and other industrial and mining states has been created, and,

Whereas, the membership of the Senate Committee on Labor and Industry is of the opinion that the activities and the investigation by the above mentioned Joint Legislative Committee will be conducive to the welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania generally and to the industries of Pennsylvania particularly, and,

Whereas, a bill is now pending in the Senate and the Committee on Appropriations thereof providing for an appropriation of $25,000.00 for the purpose of investigations embraced by the proposed scope of the activities of said Committee, and,

Whereas, the membership of the Senate Committee on Labor and Industry is of the opinion that such appropriation is of vital importance to the success of the activities of said Joint Legislative Committee and the ensuing benefits to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Now be it Resolved, that the membership of the Senate Committee on Labor and Industry memorialize his Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania, the Senate of Pennsylvania, and the Senate Committee on Appropriations that favorable and speedy action be given to the bill now pending in the Senate Committee on Appropriations providing for the appropriation of the sum of $25,000.00 for the activities of the Joint Legislative Committee to investigate tax burdens placed upon industries in Pennsylvania and other industrial and mining states, and,

Be it Resolved, that copies of said resolution be sent to his Excellency the Governor of Pennsylvania, the Speaker of the House, and to the Chairman of the Senate Committee on Appropriations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, may I ask what the purpose is in sending such a simple resolution to the Committee on Rules?

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it is for the purpose of giving the resolution some consideration.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to make a short statement.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will confine his statement to the motion, which is to refer the resolution to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, on the motion to refer this resolution to committee, I might state this is merely a resolution urging the Committee on Appropriations to give favorable and speedy action to the bill which is now in that committee, appropriating the money to enable the Committee on Labor and Industry to carry out the work authorized by Senate Resolution No. 4. The withholding of this appropriation at this time makes it difficult for this committee to get the necessary information to act intelligently upon certain legislation pending in the Senate Committee on Labor and Industry. We feel that this resolution is nothing more nor less than an expression—an expression of the opinion of the Senate Committee. I see no sense in sending this resolution to any committee of the Senate, whereas it is nothing but the action of a committee of the Senate.

QUESTION OF LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to a question of legislative inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, will state his question of legislative inquiry.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, as I heard this resolution read it sounded very much like a committee resolution rather than a Senate resolution. I would like to ask if that is what it is.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is a committee resolution presented to the Senate, for the information of the Senate.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I suggest it is not in order, under the rules of the Senate, to present it as a resolution; but that it should be brought in under petitions and remonstrances.

The PRESIDENT. It is a resolution from a committee of the Senate memorializing the Governor and the Senate on matters of legislation now pending.

The Chair rules that the resolution is pertinent to that legislation, and is, therefore, properly before the Senate. The motion is in order, to refer the resolution to the Committee on Rules.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on the motion to refer this—what is it, a motion to refer or only an objection?

The PRESIDENT. The motion is to refer the resolution to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on the motion.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his point of order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there is nothing in order before the Senate at this time but the calling of the roll.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Philadelphia is well taken.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. DENT and Mr. McCREESH and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—15

Deitrick,	Law,	Reed,	Rupp,
Huffman,	Mallery,	Rice,	Ruth,
Kilgallen,	McCreesh,	Roberts,	Sones,
Lanius,	Pytko,	Rodgers,

NAYS—34

Bean,	Gelder,	Kahle,	Scarlett,
Buckman,	Gilson,	Kunkel,	Shapiro,
Cavalcante,	Haluska,	McGinnis,	Sipe,
Dando,	Henney,	Mundy,	Sordoni,
Dent,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Thompson,
Ealy,	Howell,	Rankin,	Wolfenden,
Eroe,	Jacobs,	Salus,	Woodward,
Frey,	Jaspan,

So the question was determined in the negative.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, will state his point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, my point of order is that this, being a resolution which is not privileged, must be referred to committee by the Chair unless unanimous consent is given otherwise.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Bucks is sustained.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE No. 39

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate do now proceed to the consideration of the resolution just read.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I ask that the roll be called.

Whereupon, a viva voce vote was taken.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair is of the opinion that the motion is carried—

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it takes a two-thirds vote to suspend a rule of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. —and it is so ordered.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, a roll call was asked for before the decision of the Chair was announced.

The PRESIDENT. It is not too late for a roll call.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, it was asked for.

The PRESIDENT. A roll call was asked for on the motion to suspend rule 39.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, was the request for a roll call seconded?

The PRESIDENT. A request for a roll call on a motion does not need a seconder.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, this is a resolution asking that the Committee on Finance, or rather, the Committee on Appropriations, send out a bill before it has been considered. There are twenty-nine members on this committee, and it is a very unusual thing—in fact, I have never heard of its being done—for a resolution to be offered directing a committee to send out a bill that is in the committee. I should think that a matter of this importance would take its regular course.

I have been in favor of this appropriation, and I see no reason for a resolution to be put through to repremand this committee that has this bill in its charge. It seems to me that is a matter that should be taken up in the regular order; and there is no demand for this particular appropriation to go through at this time; I expect the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations will call a meeting of his committee in the regular way, and therefore this resolution should not prevail—because of the precedent it would set.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, the bill referred to in this resolution is in the Committee on Appropriations. It seems to me—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Salus, will state his point of order.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, my point of order is, there is nothing before the Senate but the roll call now.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Philadelphia is well taken.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I withdraw my request for a roll call.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. On the withdrawal?

Is there any demand for the calling of the roll?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. RICE and Mr. RODGERS and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—30

Bean,	Ealy,	Jacobs,	Shapiro,

The PRESIDENT. The vote lacks a two-thirds majority, and the motion is lost.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, upon this last vote taken relative to this resolution, I may state this: This was not a discharge resolution, it was simply a resolution letting the Committee on Appropriations of the Senate know—letting the members of the Senate know the sentiment of the members of the Committee on Labor and Industry.

I want to read into the record at this time something relative to this resolution, something received by a very close friend of mine during the past week. We are dealing with legislation, in this Senate today,—and particularly in the Committee on Labor and Industry—that may have a serious effect upon the future welfare of the State of Pennsylvania. That Committee, in trying to deal with these particular questions, have tried to come to some sound basis upon which to act. Early in the session a resolution was introduced calling for an investigation of the tax ratio set, between this and other States, with regard to industries, particularly the mining industry; later we introduced an act asking for an appropriation to enable this committee to work. I have been a member of the State Legislature for a couple of years, and I have voted for many resolutions, and for bills appropriating money for the purpose of investigating certain phases of State Government. Right at this session we have voted for money to investigate the Judiciary. Upon outcome of that investigation nothing serious will happen insofar as the State of Pennsylvania is concerned; but if we, in this Senate, vote for a group of bills that may send one industry out of the State, because of over-taxation, then I say to you we will be derelict in our duties to the people who sent us down here to represent them.

I do not know whether there is any truth in the charges that we are voting for tax measures that may send an industry out of the State, and I doubt whether any member of this Senate can tell truthfully whether it is or not. I have often been told the story of the kid who was sent to watch the sheep, and who was told that if a wolf came he should call out and the men in the neighboring field would come and help him. So, the boy got lonesome the first day, and hollered "Wolf! Wolf!" and the men came over from the field, but found no wolf; the boy was just playing a prank. They repremanded him, but the next day the boy played the same prank. Finally the men got tired of running over, and would not run over any more. One day a real wolf appeared on the scene, and, when the boy called for help nobody same, and the wolf eat up the sheep.

I am of the opinion that letters sent out to stock-holders by industrial companies are serious matters; I do not believe they are just idle propaganda, spread for the misinformation of the Legislature or of any particular group. This was given me by a friend of mine, who asked me to answer the questions contained in the letter. Personally, I cannot them; some of you who voted on this resolution in the negative probably can answer them; I admit I cannot. I want to read, for this particular discourse, two paragraphs out of this letter:

"During the past year, the Pennsylvania State Legislature has established a ten per cent. income tax, in addition to the Federal income tax, which for 1936 cost approximately $310,000, and has established a capital stock tax which for 1936 cost approximately $406,000. These taxes are included in the foregoing figures, but both were new taxes placed on industry during 1935 and 1936. (The State income tax has recently been reduced from ten per cent. to seven per cent.)

"The most graphic way of presenting the Pennsylvania State taxes to stockholders is to say that for 1936 they are approximately $716,000 as against the 1934 tax of $6,000. If we were located in New Jersey, the similar tax for 1936 would have been about $8,000. If in Delaware, the 1936 tax would have been about $7,000. These are merely examples for comparison. Many other states offer an equally attractive opportunity.

"In addition, we will, of course, pay our share of the new Social Security taxes, which will total $270,000 for the year 1937. There is other state legislation pending which, if adopted, will further increase our expense.

"Many of these taxes are based on volume of business and therefore will increase in future years as the volume of our business increases. Because of this situation, your officers are actively canvassing the possibility of removing your corporation from the State of Pennsylvania. It is, however, too early for us to make any definite statement in this connection. We shall move from our present location with great regret and only if the condition continues to be intolerable."

Now, I do not know whether these figures are true; I do not know whether they are just propaganda; but I want to know,—and I think this Senate wants to know, and that is the only reason for memorializing the Committee on Appropriations to act upon this piece of legislation. We have spent much money in the past, and I assure this Senate that, whether the appropriation is forthcoming or not, this is a very important matter to the people of Pennsylvania—to find out the truth of the situation in the neighboring States.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, this bill, providing for an appropriation, was referred to the Committee on Appropriations, some time ago. The Committee on Appropriations, very obviously, cannot report out such bills without due consideration as to where the money is to come from. Last Tuesday or Wednesday the Chairman of the Committee on Labor and Industry informed me that his committee had taken action requesting that this bill be reported out of the Committee on Appropriations. Very obviously, up to this moment, there has not been time, since that request for the Committee on Appropriations to hold a meeting for the purpose of considering the bill in question.

It seems to me that it is entirely unnecessary for the Chairman on Labor and Industry, or for the Committee on Labor and Industry, to memorialize the Committee on Appropriations to have the bill reported out. I can assure the Chairman of the Committee on Labor and Industry that at the first opportunity, which will be this week, the Committee on Appropriations will meet, as was requested last Tuesday or Wednesday—will meet and consider this bill.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I would suggest that the best way, perhaps, to memorialize the Committee on Appropriations would be to refer this resolution to the Committee on Appropriations.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Adams, Mr. Rice, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations if it is not a fact that the Committee on Appropriations has appropriated a large sum of money for the investigation of the Anthracite Industry, which the Governor of this State investigated before this Legislature convened.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I might answer the Senator from Tioga by saying that the Committee on Appropriations did report out such a bill, which was passed by the Senate; but the Budget Officer informed the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations that that item would be taken care of in the budget.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would also like to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations if it is not a fact that a large appropriation has already been made for the investigation of the Courts of Philadelphia, with the idea of ripping them out .

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, it is true; and the same answer I made to the other question applies to this one.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the position taken by the Senator from Westmoreland County with reference to the serious situation in this State by reason of the various pieces of legislation that have been passed in the last two years is the position that has been taken by the Republican members of this Senate, who have called attention, time and time again, to the fact that this is a great industrial Commonwealth, whose very life depends on the industries in the State.

It seems to me that the time has come when we as legislators should know whether these reports of industries moving out of this State are true. If they are, it is time to call a halt on the kind of legislation that has been passed here. It is for that reason I supported the Senator from Westmoreland on this attempt—an attempt merely to give the Senate of Pennsylvania the information with reference to the moving out of industries from this State; and it seems to me, Mr. President that this great Commonwealth might better spend its money finding out whether we are driving industries out of Pennsylvania than spend it, at a thousand dollars a month, on an investigation of the Anthracite Industry, that everybody knows about, and spending it on a committee investigating the City of Philadelphia, so that they can rip out all the Republicans and put in Democratic job-holders, and spending it trying to bring disrepute on the Courts of this Commonwealth . It is time to call a halt on that kind of legislation, and appropriate a little sum to find out what is happening to the industries of this Commonwealth.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga has minimized the investigation of the Anthracite Industry. Let me say that the Anthracite Industry represents an investment of about two billion dollars, and it affords employment to nearly a hundred and twenty thousand men. Certainly the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should not regret spending a small sum of money to investigate an industry of this size.

The Anthracite Industry is suffering now from three forces: first the high cost of production; second ,the high cost of transportation; and, third, from certain measures of taxation. There was a time when, if the men employed around the Anthracite Industry ceased to work most of the mills and most of the industries throughtout this country also ceased to function; but that time has passed, and, with competition from other fuels and through other elements, the Anthracite Industry is very sorely pressed, and I say to you, Mr. President, that the time has come when we must cease bleeding the Anthracite Industry, and when the industry needs a transfusion of new blood.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I merely want to say—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jaspan, will state his point of order.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, there is nothing before the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. OWLETT, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I merely want to say I agree with the Senator from Luzerne as to the condition of the Anthracite Industry. I would like to ask the Senator if he will permit himself to be interrogated.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy,permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Luzerne if he thinks it is necessary to bring five men, at a thousand dollars a month, from outside the State of Pennsylvania, to investigate the situation.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I think it is decidedly wise to spend the money to educate the Legislature as to the real condition of the Anthracite Industry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator further if he thinks there is anyone in Pennsylvania competent to make the investigation of the Anthracite Industry.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, at the time this Commission was appointed I filed certain objections to the Commission as appointed, but on investigation from every angle of this thing I find that we want to arrive at an opinion without prejudice, and if we seek our investigators from the Anthracite side of it we certainly shall receive some prejudice from the industrial side, and if we seek them entirely from the legal element we are liable to receive some prejudice from that side; so I think the Commission was fairly selected, I think it has been giving us a non-partisan, non-political view of the situation as it exists.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, falling into the same error as the rest of the members of this Senate, I also rise to a question of personal privilege—for a good reason.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I notice this discussion has deteriorated into the discussion of another point, and I would not rise at all if it were not for the fact that the Senator from Tioga has attempted to make capital out of this situation for his own purposes.

My view of the Anthracite proposition is that it is important that it should be stated that the reason for bringing outsiders in was during the Republican regime there arose a situation, that has continued since, that was never corrected or attempted to be, in which the marketing of bootleg coal in the Anthracite region was started, and it has continued for economic reasons, and the Republican organization was willing to forget about it because they were afraid that if the Governor of the State of Penn-slyvania would appoint a Commission composed of Pennsylvanians they would be declared to be Democratic—which are not my words.

Now, in our investigation into the government in Philadelphia we have found that the courts in Philadelphia have gotten so rotten they are a stench in the nostrils of decent citizens. And because we have found this rottenness in the courts there we are blamed, the fault is laid to us, for having found out the condition that exists, rather than the courts being blamed for having fallen into disrepute.

I think the Senator from Tioga would better wake up and realize that the election is over.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I am in this thing of personal privilege, too, tonight.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I want the Senator from Tioga and the other members of the Senate to know that I belong to no ripping-out committee. When I was appointed as a member of the Joint Legislative Committee to Investigate the Cost of Government in the City and County of Philadelphia I was appointed as one of the component parts of that Committee in order to get facts; and the Senator from Tioga knows that we found plenty of facts in this City of Brotherly Love.

I do not want anybody, and especially any of my constituents, to feel that I am "a ripper". If I do rip anything, I assure you it is for the benefit of the citizens of Philadelphia.

ORDER OF THE DAY

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I move the order of the day.

The PRESIDENT. The question before the Senate is on the reference of the resolution. Inasmuch as the resolution memorializes the Governor and a Senate Committee, the Chair is of the opinion that the proper Committee to which it should be referred is the Committee on Rules, and it is so referred.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I had nearly forgotten my speech on personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I read in this Evening's Ledger that the Senate Committee on Labor and Industry has rebelled against orders, and the fight against the "Little Wagner Act" in this State has been transferred to the floor of that body; and I rise to a question of personal privilege because I have the benefit of inside information about these Labor Relation bills.

On Wednesday of last week the Committee on Labor and Industry because a committee of labor only—it became a case of obstetrics. The committee were "lying in" with bills on Labor Relations. Their chief obstetrician was Dr. John Dent. The committee labored for an hour. At ten o'clock Dr. Dent delivered a healthy male child. Later it was named Billy Rodgers Richberg,—that is it, little Billy Rodgers Richberg.

All went well then, Mr. President, until noon, and at noon we discovered it to be a case of twins. There was a complication, also, in the fact that the second child is what is called "the breach presentation"—what the doctors call "the breach presentation".

Now, for the sake of the laymen, I would like to explain that the breach presentation is where everything is hind side before. Whenever the doctors have a breach presentation they always have a consultation; and this time there was a consultation. So, the consultation was held in the office of the Chief of Staff, and Dr. John Dent took his Democratic internes over there, and the Republican internes remaned in the Chamber and played solitaire—and did not have any lunch.

When Dr. Dent and his internes arrived at the office of the Chief of Staff they found there what I call a mighty midwife—Mrs. Davey Lawrence. Mrs. Davey Lawrence took immediate charge of the case.

The committee returned and went into labor again, and at 12:45 Mrs. Lawrence delivered another prefectly healthy male child, a lovely boy, who was immediately christened Barney McGinnis Lawrence.

We have tonight on the calendar little Billy Rodgers Richberg and little Barney McGinnis Lawrence. The Republican side of this Chamber is somewhat doubtful about the first twin, they are somewhat fearful that this first twin is somewhat rickety; but we are quite sure that the second twin is what I would call "rackety".

Now, we are all godfathers of these twins; it is our duty to provide for them, and fill the pap bowl of political patronage; and it must not be subject to any sterilizing of the merit system. Imagine any good Democrat submitting himself to the I. Q. test! Why, there are so many Democrats and so few offices I cannot, myself, understand why we should drag in Civil Service.

However, we Republicans, of the brass rail,—well, we wish to extend our sympathy, of course, to our obstetrician, Dr. John Dent. It is hard to have the obstetrician displaced by a mere midwife; but we wish him to know that Mrs. Lawrence is not a mere midwife; we see her going around the halls with a big pair of forceps, delivering many bills each day. She has a worried look—what I would call a hunted look, and if you do not do right you will get pinched.

Well, the Republican members of this Senate have decided to vote here for the rickety twin, and the party on the other side of the Chamber will, I have no doubt, vote for the rackety twin; and the Clerk will call the roll.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, as one doctor to another I would say to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, that he is violating the ethics by exposing that which happens in a maternity chamber.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Mercer, Mr. Law, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I rise to my question of personal privilege for the purpose of informing the Senator from Chestnut Hill that the look which he saw in the face of Mr. Lawrence was probably a hunting and not a hunted look.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, if there was any twilight sleep used.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, no, the only people who get twilight sleep are the Republican members of the Senate over here near the brass rail.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, further.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, may I ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, whether this was a Democratic boy that was born.

Mr. WOODWARD. Oh, yes, Mr. President, they are both Democrats.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, may I also ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, to inform me if this child should develop richets, and I will see to it that he gets Kahle's Vitamin.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I only want to say, in reply to Dr. Kahle,—finishing my reply to the Doctor, that one of the most conspicuous symptoms in rickets is a swelled head.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, before the vote is taken on this bill I wish to state my objection to the passage of it. This bill proposes a system for fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth class counties—an organization of tax assessors controlled completely by the Commissioners of the Counties, to take the place of the present system of elected assessors.

In Section 4 of this bill we see how thoroughly this system of assessments is subordinated to the wishes of the County Commissioners, where there is a blanket power conferred upon the Commissioners to create as many of these offices as the Commissioners desire. They can fix the salary of these officers at any figure they want to, and can outline the duties in any manner they want to. There There is apparently no limitation of any sort or kind upon the powers of thes officers, their compensation or the manner in which they shall make assessments.

In principle, by analogy to the old system, there certainly cannot be any improvement under this bill over the present system of assessments prevailing in fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth class counties; and there might be created, under the terms of this bill, an octopus in every one of such counties. At the same time, the system of assessments might become very much unequalized and very much abused.

I think it would be a mistake to pass this bill; and, Mr. President, in order to dispose of this bill I move that Senate Bill No. 226, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on County Government for further study.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I object to the recommitment of this bill; and in answer to the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, I shall state that this bill was a bill drawn by the Local Government Committee, authorized in the Session of 1935, composed of three members of the Senate and three members of the House. It so happened that that committee was equally divided politically. They went over this data and made certain recommendations, of which this Act is one. This Act is in effect today in counties of the first, second and third class.

The purpose of this act is to make uniform the assessments in these counties, and, incidentally, to get away from the ox-cart days when we had to have an assessor in each little political subdivision of a county.

This Act has saved the taxpayers considerable money in these counties. The Board of County Commissioners, which is the taxing body of the county—to level the millage certainly ought to have the right to level the assessments; they certainly ought to have the right to control the assessors, the elected assessors in each little political subdivision, where one township will assess at 20% and another district at 60%; where the taxpayers paying the 60% are in truth paying the taxes of the little township where the assessment is only 20% of the value.

It goes further than that, for it has the purpose, also, of eliminating duplication of assessments in every township, borough and city,—and if that is not a waste of the taxpayers money I do not know what is. There is no reason in the world why those townships, boroughs and cities cannot accept the assessments of the county as their assessments. And I therefore object to the recommitting of this bill, if that is the motion before the Senate.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Lawrence, Mr. Eroe.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lawrence, Mr. Eroe, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, is it not a fact that the Board of County Commissioners in each of these classes of counties have an absoulte right to readjust the taxes throughout the county and to make them uniform, under the present laws, without ripping out these assessors in the different townships and boroughs?

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I will answer the Senator from Bucks by saying that if they would do that they would have a practically unlimited power to make the assessments all over again.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, that is just exactly what has been done in my county, namely, making the assessments all over; and there is no reason why it should not be done in each and every county of the State.

In my county our Board of County Commissioners appointed a committee of real estate men, who went over the length and breadth of the county and adjusted those assessments to every situation, to make them equal all over the county. I see no reason why that could not be done with little refinancing and little expense in each and every county of the State; and I see no reason for the passage of this bill.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I think it has been well said that so far as the township assessments or county assessments are concerned the authority rest in the Board of County Commisioners at the present time. I would like to suggest to all members who represent cities of the third class that the passage of this bill will only serve to duplicate and embarrassment which we felt in the City of Erie last year.

As I understand this bill, it authorizes the County Commissioners to appoint Boards of Assessors to assess property for purposes of city taxation. Upon this assessment the school districts of cities of the third class must levy their taxes. I was importuned by the school districts of the City of Erie, because of a reduction in the assessments in the City of Erie, to secure an additional appropriation of $375,000, the amount of a deficit created by tampering with that assessment in the City of Erie.

Now, if this bill passes I think I can assure this Senate that I will be called upon to make an impossible request of that nature. I believe, in a matter of this kind regardless of how well intentioned it may be, that this Senate at this time ought to proceed very cautiously, and not involve our City of Erie school districts and the State of Pennsylvania in further difficulties of taxation.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Erie, Mr. Gilson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie, Mr. Gilson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Erie, Mr. Gilson, tell this body how the assessment would affect the taxes when the school board of the City of Erie have a right to set the millage?

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, if your assessment is appreciably reduced, as it was in the City of Erie, by appeals to the Court,—which is one other method, another Board of Assessors, if you please—you will find that you have a very much reduced assessment, and it will not be equalized. That was our experience in Erie.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Erie, Mr. Gilson, further.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Erie, Mr. Gilson, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I understand that the difficulty was due to appeals to the Court. Is that a fact?

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, that is part—

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, is it not true that they have the right to appeal under the present system?

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, they do.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, what difference would this bill have in the situation in Erie?

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, it would make a difference because we have now an assessment which has been fixed by appeals of over four or five thousand cases in the City of Erie. If we turn another Board of Assessors loose on that assessment again we are simply going to repeat the difficulties we had last year.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Erie, Mr. Gilson, further.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator will proceed.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, if this bill were to be amended to make the effective date of the Act next year, would that relieve the situation in the City of Erie?

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I am afraid it would not help very much, because the Legislature would not be in Session next year, and we might not be able to get any further remedy—which has been requested.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, what remedy would the Senator from Erie want? If the assessment for next year, for the school board and the City millage, were set, there would still be no control over the Court—unless we were to take away the right of appeal to the Court; and we do not want to do that.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, the difficulty is, you have one assessment fixed by the City Assessors, upon which two taxes are levied in cities of the third class—taxes for city purpoes and taxes for school purposes. When you have a more or less stable millage, or assessment, you have a prospect for the municipal authorities to map out their procedure over a period of two or three years. If you are constantly subjecting this assessment to the whim and fancy of any new board that might be created, you are simply adding difficulties to those which embarrass cities of the third class and school districts of the second class at the present time.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I doubt very seriously if there is a member of this Senate who, in obtaining his election to this body, did not promise to the home and farm owners of his district to do all in his power to help to reduce this tremendous burden of taxes which now rests on homes and farms in this Commonwealth.

The bill now before this Senate, as vividly illustrated by the Senator from Bucks, is a bill to eliminate a wastage of taxpayers' money.

The Senator from Bucks states that in his county now, under the present statutes, the County Commissioners have the power to make up a completely new assessment and disregard entirely the assessments sent to the Commissioners' office by this army of assessors that are elected by the people, some of whom may be butchers, some undertakers —people that know nothing about real estate values.

Now, this bill merely corrects that situation, a correction that, I say to my Democratic colleagues in the Senate, the party platform guaranteed to the people of this Commonwealth—that we would do all in our power to help reduce Government that are absolutely worthless; and there is the taxation on real estate, or to help to save the taxpayers' money by eliminating offices and agencies of the nothing more worthless in this Commonwealth than the system of assessing real estate, and this bill corrects that.

The impression has been justly created here tonight that under the existing laws the County Commissioners need not regard at all the assessments made by these property assessors; and if that be true, what justification can be given the people of this Commonwealth for continuing these assessors in office, where they drawn down thousands and thousands of the taxpayers' dollars in salaries for doing something that the County Commissioners can abrogate and disregard?

I think that this bill is a proper bill, a bill to which every Democratic Senator has been pledged by the party platform adopted by the State Committee.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Centre the purpose of moving to recommit this bill.

Mr. THOMPSON. Mr. President, the purpose for which this bill is being sought to be recommitted is to send it back to committee for further study. If the bill can be so arranged so that it will not defeat the very purpose which apparently it has been introduced to serve, perhaps there might be some justification for the passage of the bill; but in the present form of this bill, and the present system which would be created under this bill, it would simply be chasing a Will-of-the-Wisp for anybody to imagine that this bill is an economic measure.

In the first place, you start out with Section 1 of the bill, and right to start with you raise the salaries of the County Commissioners five hundred dollars apiece. There is five hundred dollars which you begin with,—with the expense of the administration of this item.

Then you give the same County Commissioners in addition to that, carte blanche power to appoint just as many people as they want to appoint, to make these assessments any place in the county.

Then, in addition to that you give the County Commissioners the right to appoint clerks and assistants, at such salaries as they see fit, or the Salary Board sees fit, to make, in addition to the other organization.

Where the personnel required for the functioning of this system is set, and the compensation of the persons performing the duties is set, we know pretty well what it will cost; but with this set-up we have no idea what it may develop into.

Now, Mr. President, in further answer to the interrogation of the Senator from Cambria, may I add this: that the only need for uniformity in assessments is not a county uniformity but the local uniformity of all the munipalities which levy taxes against real property—where you have your schol districts, your poor districts; and you have your boroughs or your townships; and the only one that levies taxes against real estate, which might be affected by lack of uniformity, is the county, which is a small percentage, as a rule, of the total taxes levied against real estate in any community. And if any lack uniformity does exist by reason of local prejudice against county taxes, as stated heretofore, the Commissioners remain as an added Board of Assessment.

This bill might create a dangeraus situation, a situation which might involve an upset of your whole assessment system in any of these counties; and it may develop to the point where it will cost ten times as much as the present system.

I, myself, am opposed to this measure; and I am opposed, also, to the bill's going back to committee. It has been on the calendar for almost three weeks, and I believe we all know the contents of this bill; and I believe it is a poor policy to defeat a bill by sending it back to committee for the purpose of pickling it.

Mr. President, I will withdraw my motion to recommit

The PRESIDENT. The Chair heard no seconding of the motion to recommit this bill and the bill is therefore still before the Senate on final passage.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I want to correct a statement on the part of the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, that the salaries of the County Commissioners will be increased. The bill was amended so that there would be no increase in the salaries of the County Commissioners.

Only a few days ago, this Senate approved a similar bill for third class counties. The difference between that bill and this bill is that in the bill providing for a Board of Assessors for third class counties a special board was set up. Now, in the smaller counties, we, the Commitee, appointed to study local government, thought that without any additional expense to the taxpayers in the counties of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth class, the County Commissioners, without any additional salary, could serve as the assessment board, and they would designate subordinate assessors who, in the first place would have to be property owners and must qualify to make the proper assessments. Now, everyone within my hearing knows that under our present system, properties of some of the people are assessed at 20% of their value, other 30%, 40%, 50%, on up to 80%, and it is the small property owner, the poor man, whose assessment may be 80% to 100%. That is the real purpose of this bill.

Only a few days ago, the majority of this Senate gave expression to the idea that everyone should own his home, that the little man should be encouraged in owning his home. Now, all we need in this Senate is a little bit of courage ourselves. The real opposition to this bill is the fact that a few assessors will lose their jobs. If they are competent and capable men, the commissioners no doubt will appoint them assessors. There are assessors who will be opposed to me, and will be opposed to every man in this Senate, but if this is a good bill, if it will effect economy, we ought to have courage enough to vote for it.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Blair what should be the qualifications of the assessors?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, he should be a property owner in the first place, and if I were a commissioner, I would give preference to a man who knows something about the value of property.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I cannot see how any man appointed by the commissioners could have better qualifications than a man elected by the people of the community. We have assessors now, property owners who make good assessments, and how can this be improved upon by the commissioners picking somebody of their own choice? To me it looks like a beautiful racket.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I am obliged to rise in opposition to this bill for the reason that I represent a rural section.—I think the largest rural district in the State—and the common cry of the people in that district is this: "Now, are you going to take away from us the last thing, the assessors?" are we going to listen to the voice of the people? That is the question. Are we going o take away home rule entirely and put it under the set-up of this bill? They objected to the taking away of the tax collectors, they objected to the tying of the school directors' hands, and now the cry is common among the people: "Do not tie our hands, but give us a little bit of home rule, give us some representation." What would be the inducement to the people in rural districts to go out to the polls if there were no one to vote for? Let us give them some voice, let us give them some oppotunity whereby they can vote their sentiments. What are we going to gain by this? First, the assessors are elected by the people, the choice of the people. That is not final, it goes then to the county courts after the county commissioners pass on that. They say also that not only the assessors are sworn to do their duty to the best of their ability, but the commissioners are likewise sworn, and I say when we are taking away from the people of our country districts all home rule as it is now, there must be something done.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Clarion, Mr. Kahle.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Clarion, Mr. Kahle, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Clarion, Mr. Kahle, whether or not he voted for the Mundy bill, ripping out the third class county assessors, appointed by the County Commissioners, thereby doing away with home rule, within two weeks, in this Senate Chamber?

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. President, if I did, it was under a misapprehension, because there has been pressure brought from the rural people since that time, and I now must change my mind, and a man who cannot change his mind is a very poor Senator.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I cannot see how this bill takes away home rule or the voice of the people back home. We elect our county commissioners in all of these counties; the voter will vote for the county commissioners. These county commissioners are held responsible, and if it is found necessary, they can be thrown out at the next election. However, if there is a desire on the part of an assessors in another township or borough to assess property at 20% of its value, and in still another township or borough at 80% of its value for county purposes, that is unfair, but you cannot throw out the other fellow in the other township, but if we have the county commissioners appointing the assessors, as we do in some of the counties, now, that would be uniform and business-like, and we are living up to our platform.

Mr. Preident, I say to you that if we do not start sometime doing as we promised the people back home on election day, we will hear from them, and I do not know of a better place to start than right here. Here is a bill that has been worked out by the Legislative Committee on Municipal Government. It has been worked out by Republicans and Democrats, and they gave considerable study to this. This idea of having these boards of little efficiency throughout the state of Pennsylvania, a lot of them incompetent, and insisting that they hold their jobs, I say to you, that unless we start sometime, that thing will continue forever; and we have heard this thing discussed throughout the state for years, that these hordes of officials, many of them not doing their duty—a little government that was established a hundred years ago—and to think now that we cannot make a change, it is silly, and I say to you, Mr. President, we ought to make a start and cut out some of this ox-cart government.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, a parallel was drawn tonight between the so-called Mundy bill and the bill that is now presented here. Now, in the Mundy bill, there was no provision for taking away of assessors from a community, nor was there any provision in that bill to take away centralized county assessors,—the only element depriving them of home rule was set up in a precedent by the Republican majority in the previous session of this Senate, when they took away from the judges the power of appointment and put it elsewhere, so we are only following a precedent which was established by an original Republican majority, and I do not feel that there is any parallel in the Senator from Clarion, Mr. Kahle, voting for my bill and the bill before us at this time.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate my colleague, the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, as I understand it, the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy just made the statement that a former legislature took away from the judges the power of appointing assessors in third class counties. Am I correct?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Luzerne if that covered Lackawanna County, if the bill had that effect in Lackawanna County?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, it was supposed to apply to all third class counties.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, the bill applied to third class counties, but I would like to ask the Senator from Luzerne if it took the appointment away from the courts?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I do not know the specific item in this bill that would make it apply to all third class counties.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, yes, but I would like to ask if it took away the appointive power of the judges?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, the appointive power was put in the commissioners.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, was it not true that, under the law, the 1930 census made several fourth class counties into third class, if they had a population of 300,000 or over?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, if Lackawanna County were not under the rule sufficiently as required in this bill, it did not come under the third class counties—and this bill applied to all third class counties—but if it did, then it came under the provisions of the bill.

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, it applied to five counties, Westmoreland, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Montgomery and Delaware.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Lackawanna?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lackawanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Howell, why Lackawanna County was exempted from the provisions of this bill?

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, we were not exempted.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Lackawanna who makes the appointments there now?

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, the county commissioners make the appointments.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Lackawanna who originally made the appointments?

Mr. HOWELL. Mr. President, they were elected by the people.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, that was not in effect in all third class counties. They were appointed by the judges in Luzerne County and the appointive power was taken from the judges and given to the county commissioners; but I am speaking about the application of my bill. After all, my interests, and our conversation—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, will state his point of order.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, we are not discussing the Mundy Bill, that is all over and we have another bill before us.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 49, entitled:

An Act to amend clause one of section one of the act, approved the second day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 1433), entitled "An act defining the powers of the courts of quarter sessions, the Municipal Court of Philadelphia, and the County or Juvenile Court of Allegheny County, with respect to the care, guidance, control, trial, placement and commitment of delinquent, dependent and neglected children under sixteen years of age and of persons over sixteen years of age contributing to or encouraging the delinquency, neglect and dependency of children; and amending, revising and consolidating the law relating thereto," defining the Family Court of Philadelphia as a court having jurisdiction with respect to the care, guidance, control, placement and commitment of delinquent, neglected and dependent children under sixteen years of age; and eliminating the Municipal Court in the County of Philadelphia as a court having such jurisdiction.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia tell me what will happen if he strips the court of all its powers to funciton as a court?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in answer to the question of the Senator from Delaware, as to what will happen if we strip the Municipal Court of Philadelphia of all its powers, I should say it will be of great benefit to the people of Philadelphia.

He also asked me what they will do. I am not concerned with what they will do.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, if the court is ripped out, and the judges not impeached, will the State not have to continue to pay them their salaries?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would say to the Senator from Delaware that if that were so and we would have to pay the salaries of the judges of the Municipal Court, there would still be a saving to the people of Philadelphia of $850,000 a year by the carrying out of the plan proposed and recommended by the committee which has been investigating Government in the City of Philadelphia; but I say to the Senator from Delaware that if he believes that unless proceedings are taken to impeach the judges we would have to continue paying them their salaries, there need be no concern on his part about the payment of these salaries, for it is not necessary to impeach judges; they can be recalled.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I was informed it would take a two-thirds vote of the Senate to recall or impeach a judge, and that we cannot get a two-thirds vote, and they would have to be paid.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, inasmuch as this is one of a series of bills which have for their object the ripping out of the Municipal Court in the City of Philadelphia, it is perhaps well enough for us to consider it at this time, rather than take up each bill as it comes individually upon the calendar. I am not unmindful of the fact that it is in the air, and that the orders are out, and that the Municipal Court of Philadelphia is going to to be ripped out. I am not unmindful of the fact that the principal motive back of that intention is to depose Republican judges and to depose Republican jobholders and to substitute for those judges and jobholders Democratic judges and Democratic jobholders.

On an occasion of this kind it is almost unnecessary to make an argument, but in order that there may be on the record something that would justify those of us who are going to vote on all this legislation, and in order to save the time of the Senate, I ask leave to incorporate in the record a brief upon this subject, prepared by one of the Municipal Court judges in Philadelphia, the Honorable Vivian Frank Gable, as part of my address.

The President. The brief will be accepted.

Established in 1914 in pursuance of the Act of Assembly of July 12, 1913, P. L. 711, and by amendments thereto, the Municipal Court was given co-ordinate jurisdiction with the Courts of Common Pleas in Philadelphia County:

1. In all civil cases, both at law and in equity, which involve sums in controversy of less than $2,500.

2. It was also given co-ordinate jurisdiction for the trial of criminal cases similar to the jurisdiction of the Court of Oyer and Terminer in all criminal actions and suits for penalties with certain exceptions, namely, arson, burglary, murder, voluntary manslaughter, treason or misprison of treason, or for violation or conspiracy to violate the election of registration laws of this Commonwealth, or for embezzlement by any public officer, or any offence involving breach of official duties of any public officer.

It also has exclusive jurisdiction over:

1. (a) All proceedings concerning or trials of charges brought against all persons, whether adults or minors, accussed of disorderly streetwalking; and, (b) in all proceedings or trials of charges brought against all minors between the ages of 16 and 21 who shall disobey their parents' commands or be found idle in the streets, and against all disorderly children,

2. All proceedings concerning dependent, delinquent, incorrigible and neglected children under the age of 16 years, as well as in cases of desertion and non-support in illegitimacy cases; this being the work of the Juvenile Division.

3. All proceedings in cases of desertion and non-support by husbands, fathers and grandparents, and by children of their indigent parents.

This last described branch of the Court's work falls in its Division of Domestic Relations.

The scope of the Court's work will be understood when it is known that in the Juvenile Division during the year 1935, 12,221 cases were disposed of; that in this department there were 38,645 investigations made by the probation officers in this division, and, incidentally, upwards of $38,000 collected from parents for the support of juveniles committed by the Court in relief of payments which otherwise would have fallen upon the county.

During the 22 years of the Court's existence from 1914 to 1935, 324,426 cases have been disposed of by the Juvenile Division.

In the Domestic Relations Division during the year 1935, 15,000 families came within the action of the Court, involving court hearing to the number of 5,394 with a much greater number of cases being disposed of through the agency of the Court without requiring a formal court hearing. There were in this department 6,042 active court orders under which there were collected for the relief of deserted wives and children or parents the sum of $1,354,260.66.

During the 22 years of the Court's existence from 1914 to 1935 the total amount so collected was $27,869,712.77.

In the Misdemeanors' Division the cases of 3,700 men, women, boys and girls were disposed of during the year 1935.

In the Criminal Divison there came upon the trial list $5,204 bills of indictment of which 3,884 were disposed of by trial during the year 1935.

Since the establishment of the Court in 1914, 67,441 bills of indictment have been disposed of in this division and of this number 37 per cent. were found guilty.

In the court for the trial of illegitimacy cases, 500 cases were disposed of during 1935. Since the establishment of the Court in 1914 to the end of 1935, 10,691 applications have been made to the Court for the support of children born out of wedlock.

In the Medical Department of the Court's work there were 18,888 medical examinations made during the year 1935. A great proportion of these examinations were neuropsychiatric and Psychological examinations.

During 1935 in the Civil Division there were 10,412 cases disposed of on regular lists of the courts and in the Small Claims Division, 4,500 cases were disposed of, with 130 adoptions, in which class of cases the Court has concurrent jurisdiction with the Orphans Court.

Since the court was established in 1914 up to and including the years 1936, 285,123 cases have been submitted to the Civil Division of the Municipal Court and in only 389 cases were the decisions of this Court reversed by the appellate courts.

A comparison of the disposal of cases by actual trial in the Civil Devision of the Municipal Court with those so disposed of in all of the five Courts of Common Pleas indicates that a considerably greater number of units are disposed of in the Municipal Court, the ratio being at least three in the Municipal Court to two in the Courts of Common Pleas.

This larger number disposed of in our court may be explained and understood by the fact that in the Municipal Court a large majority of the civil cases are disposed of before a judge sitting without a jury by agreement of the parties under the practice established in the Municipal Court.

Along with this goes a great saving in the cost to the county in fees of jurors, probably $200,000. These facts are set forth for the purpose of affording a substantially complete picture of the work that has been done by the Municipal Court in the twenty-four (24) years of its existence.

The organization required for the performance of this varied work (and it may be said that there is no other court anywhere else in the country which covers so broad a field) requires a large force of officers and employes who have developed expertness during the 24 years of the court's existence.

Beginning in the year 1925 the Bureaus of Municipal Research of Philadelphia made an exhaustive research into the processes, operations and personnal of the Court extending over a period of three years. The general set-up of the Court at that time was commended in this report. While there were criticisms of minor matters, many of which, being found justified, were corrected, the general set-up of the Court remained the same from that period until the end of the year 1936 when, owing to the drastic reduction in the budget of the City of Pehiladelphia for the year 1937, the appropriation for the Court was reduced to $800,00 instead of $1,115,000 the year previous and the personnel of the Court was reduced to about four hundred and five.

It is now proposed to abolish this Court by conferring that part of its jurisdiction which has to do with social relations upon a new Family Court, originally planned to be composed of five judges with salaries of $14,000 each as against the salaries of $10,000 each paid to the eleven judges of the existing court. I understand that it is now suggested to amend the proposed Family Court bill by reducing the number of judges to four. The work that is to be given to these four or five judges in the new court it at present performed by two judges, one of them being assigned annually in the Juvenile Division and the other by monthly assignment from among the other ten judges of the Court.

Since it is now proposed to jettison the proposed Small Claims Court, which would have been constituted of three judges, all the other work now done by the Municipal Court, both criminal and civil, will be thrown back upon the Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions Courts in the City and County of Pihaledlphia, and it is stated that this burden will be taken care of by the creation of an additional Court of Common Pleas consisting of three judges to be known as Court of Common Pleas No. 7, this in addition to the new Court of Common Pleas No. 6 established by this Legislature, which was designed to take up the overburden of litigation already upon the Common Pleas Courts.

The addition of one Court of Common Pleas with three judges, it is submitted, will not by any means provide for the performance of the civil and criminal work that has been disposed of by the nine judges of the Municipal Court whose time was devoted to the disposition of this class of litigation.

Before the Municipal Court was established in 1914 the civil lists in the Courts of Common Pleas of Philadelphia County were in such a congested condition that there was practically no chance of having any case tried and disposed of in less than two years after the inception of the suit and the average time required for the disposition of civil cases was not less than three years. At the present time by reason of the work done by the Municipal Court the civil trial lists in the Common Pleas Courts are in such condition that many cases are disposed of within one year and the average time for the disposition of cases has been very greatly reduced, perhaps to less than two years, while in the Municipal Court a great number of suits are disposed of within six months of their inception and the bulk of the business is disposed of in less than one year. The volume of civil and criminal litigation that would be thrown back from the Municipal Court to the Courts of Common Pleas would proably exceed the entire number of such cases which are at present disposed of by the Courts of Common Pleas and it can readily be seen that the creation of one additional court would not provide the means for the disposition of this volume of litigation. The Courts of Common Pleas would again be overburdened and the citizens could not possibly have their litigation disposed of promptly.

The motive for the ripping out of the Municipal Court is purely political. This is in the air and everyone is conscious of it. No intelligent person would deny it. This has grown out of the fact that there are a great many employees in the court, mostly placed in the social branches of the Court's work, whose appointment under the law developed upon the judges of the Court. This responsibility is one which the judges should be relieved of by the application of a proper merit system and there has been introduced by Senator Woodward a bill which would accomplish this purpose.

To support a movement or create an atmosphere which might appear to justify the passage of this ripper legislation a legislative sub-committee meeting in Philadelphia devoted four days of its sessions to an investigation of the Municipal Court. It presented a second preliminary report dated Monday, March 29, 1937. The hearings were ex-parte. No representative of the Court was permitted to cross examine or suggest questions which would have brought out the full truth from the witnesses who were summoned by the committee. No effort was made to get upon the record of the investigation a fair account of the work that was done by the Court in its various branches. The judges of the Court were refused the privilege of having a stenographic report of the proceedings, the statement being made that a copy would be provided by the committee. Although requested orally and in writing of the chairman of the committee, this transscript of testimony has not been made available to the Court.

Instances of imperfections in some of the employees of the Court who were summoned and examined, and it is well within the mark to say brow-beaten, without the benefit of counsel, were magnified and made to appear major delinquencies, if not crimes. A fair criticism of the investigation is that it was a valiant attempt to make not a mountain but a mountain range out of a mole hill.

The fact that the Court has grown to fill a large place in the judicial system of the City of Philadelphia under the wise provisions of its enabling Act is cited in that report as a reason for the destruction of the Court after twenty-four years of operation, with no substantial criticism of the manner of the performance of any of its judicial functions from any respectable source. The only criticism that comes and that is far from well founded is with relation to the patronage of the Court under the terms of the enacting law.

It is characterized as a million dollar court. Let it be so understood that any fair consideration of the work that has been done and is being done by the Court will warrant the conclusion that it is worth all that it costs and more money might be well expended in the further development of its functions.

The report, which contains a lot of conclusions without any particular supporting evidence, charges that money is spent through the customary channels of the Prothonotary's office, the Sheriff's office and the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions for the execution of the processes of the Court. No intelligent mind needs to be reminded that these officers of the Court, likewise being similiar officers for the Courts of Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions, are necessarily involved in this system of the administration of the law and their costs must be borne by the County. No one would assign it as a reason for the abolition of the Courts of Common Pleas, that the City must bear the expenses of these County offices for the performance of their functions in relation to the Courts of CommonPleas, and is it not silly to embody in the report the recommendation of a ripper of the Municipal Court based upon such flimsy argument.

In 1923 in order to relieve the pressure upon the Common Pleas Courts by the growth of the volume of ligitation, the jurisdiction in civil cases of the Municipal Court was increased to actions involving not more than $25,000.

The jurisdiction figure in such cases under the original Act of 1913 had seen $600. and in 1919 it was raised to $1,500. Since 1919 the budget of the court has been practically stationary. In the year 1920 all the employees of the City of Philadelphia were given a flat increase in compensation in the shape of a ten per cent. bonus. This embraced the employees of the Municipal Court. The appropriation for this bonus was a seperate item additional to the regular annual budget. This method was continued until 1928 at which time the ten per cent. bonus was added to the regular budget appropriation, which made the annual appropriation approximate a million to one million one hundred thousand dollars yearly at which figure substantially the annual appropriation has remained up to and including the year 1936, with the exception of the year 1932 when there was a flat cut in all departments of twenty-five per cent. owing to the condition of the City's finance's. In that particular year there was a fiat reduction in the pay of all the employees of the Court and none were discharged because of the diminished appropriation. In the following years until 1936 the normal budget allowance was made. There was no increase in the number of the employees of the Court since 1919. For the present year, 1937, the appropriation was reduced from $1,050,000. for the year 1936 to $800,000. Coupled with this reduction was a condition imposed by Council requiring the reducting to be effected by the dismissal outwright of a sufficient number of the employees of the Court to meet the reduced appropriation and forbidding the reduction of the pay of any of the employees who were retained. This necessitated the discharge of 140 employees, by reason of which the present operations of the Court have been greatly hampered and curtailed.

The second preliminary report referred to at the bottom of page 10 thereof cites as a cause for censure that while the annual budget of the Court provided for the payment of the salaries of ten court stenographers subterfuge was used to employ an eleventh stenographer. There are eleven judges in the Court and the services of eleven court stenographers are necessary and vital to the performance of the duties of those judges. The eleventh court stenographers referred to was the stenographer for the court held by Judge Gable, who was appointed to the Court in Januray, 1931. The stenographer who was assigned to him had been performing work as an assistant to the then appointed court stenographers. He was assigned to Judge Gable, whose appointment to the Court was made under the provisions of the enabling Act of the Court by reason of the growth in the population of the City of Philadelphia. At that period Council was of necessity curtailing every additional appropriation and from that time to this the Councils have failed to make provision for this essential service to the Court and the Court has used its legal power of mandamus for the payment for the services of this stenographer in accordance with the State law regulating the payment of court stenographers. Whether the services were paid for out of the City treasury by the avenue of appropriation by Councils or by the equally legal avenue of payment by mandamus the result is just the same to the City Treasury and no fair minded person would cite this case as a reason for ripping out the Court.

This report stresses the fact that salaries have been paid to the judges. That is quite true. The salaries were fixed by the Legislature of Pennsylvania and certainly are not excessive when compared with the salaries of the judges in this Commonwealth or elsewhere.

The findings in the report are most general without sufficient citation of evidence to afford a presumption of sufficient basis for the conclusion stated. From the set of facts that may have been adduced by the committee, which do not appear in the record, a man with a certain bias might naturally arrive at one set of conclusions that would be entirely different from those that would be arrived at by another.

For illustration, a few matters in the report are worthy of attention. At the bottom of page 13 the case of one employe of the Court is cited, setting forth that this man, who is still employed by the Court, was receiving and had received for five years compensation as an employee conducted and still conducts a private business. If there had been a desire to present a true picture of this case as a full and fair investigation into the facts would have shown, the compensation which this man received as an employee of the Federal Government terminated three years before the date of the investigation. The employee in question acted as a secretary for a Congressman, performing his duties outside the time of his business in the Court and the fact is that such additional employment was entirely unknown to each and every member of the Board of Judges of the Municipal Court. The citation of this condition, which terminated three years ago and for which the judges were not responsible and of which they had no knowledge, could hardly be cited fairly as a justification for the abolition of the Court itself.

Much is made of the statement which is not in accord with the fact and could not have been established if the full truth had been sought, that there was no meeting of the Board of Judges during the two years 1935 and 1936. This statement is wholly without basis in fact, notwithstanding the assertion in the report. There was a period of about seven months, including the Summer of 1936, during which time the Secretary of the Board of Judges was incapacitated by illness, when there were no minutes kept of the meetings. Meetings, however, were called and failed of a quorum, there being no business presented which required attention. During this period certain appointments were made in the nature of provisional appointments by the President Judge, which were brought to the attention of the Board at its meeting in December, 1936.

Under the Act of July 12, 1913, (P. L. 711), the President Judge appointed by the Govxernor, was vested with exclusive power to appoint all employees of the Municipal Court. Sections 2, 4, and 9 of said Act were amended by the Act of June 27th, 1923 (P. L. 850), which provided for the election of a President Judge by the Board of Judges and clothed said Board of Judges with the responsibility of making all appointments of employees in the Court.

This Act should be liberally construed for the purpose of carrying out the legislative intention, which was to transfer from the President Judge to the Board of Judges, the authority to make all appointments. The President Judge, as the chief executive officer of the Court, is not prohibited from making provisional or vacational appointments where vacancies occur, as, for example, during vacation or until a quorum of the Board of Judges may be called into meeting, at which time a majority may either ratify or reject any ad interim appointment. Vacancies have occurred which it is necessary to fill promptly in order that the various departments of the Court may properly function in the public interests. A majority of the Judges of our Court were of the opinion that the confirmation of de facto appointment validated them and was not contrary to any provisions of the Act of Assembly.

The reference to nepotism on page 16 of the report is manifestly an unfair and "hit below the belt" conclusion when the facts are known. A brother of the President Judge, who held the office of clerk in charge of the Domestic Relations Division at a salary of four thousand dollars and not that of chief probation officer at a salary of five thousand dollars, as erroneously stated in the report, for over twenty years, and who was retired in December, 1936, suffered the misfortune of becoming totally blind within the last six years. The only conclusion that can be drawn from the language of the report is that this man was blind when appointed twenty years ago and that it was necessary to appoint another relative of the President Judge to assist the borther as an assistant supervisor at a salary of three thousand dollars. The fact is that these employees came into the Court at different periods shortly after the Court was established. The duties of the two had no relation to each other and their services during the entire period of their employment were separate and distinct. Since the blindness of the brother has occurred he has carried on without any such assistance from the sister as is falsely implied by the terms of this report. The other sister, who is referred to as occupying an additional position, never was in the employ of the Court. And it is most manifestly unfair to refer to the employment of a daughter of the President Judge, who is a practicing lawyer of years excellent standing and who happens to have been appointed as an assistant in the office of the District Attorney of the City of Philadelphia, an independent branch of the City government.

The reference to relatives of other judges on the payroll of the Court might as well be leveled at high officials in the State and Nation of Democratic as well as Republican proclivities who happen to have relatives on public payrolls, who, if they are performing their duties as well as are those in the few instances of such employment on the Municipal Court payroll, should not to be pilloried for such relationship.

The assertion in the report at the bottom of page 19 where it is stated:—"We find in the department known as the Domestic Relations Division the Court received sums aggregating One hundred thousand dollars per month; that these monies are received through the Court through employees of the Office of the Clerk of Quarter Sessions stationed at the Municipal Court; that for more than 15 years no audit of the accounts was made; that no officer or member of the Board of Judges of the Municipal Court ever asked for such audit,"—is so manifestly unfair that it is sufficient of itself to discredit the entire report. No monies are paid into the Municipal Court. They are paid direct to the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions. The Municipal Court has no authority over the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions and no member of the Board of Judges could ever ask for an audit of such account. It is well to call to mind, however, that the collections which are referred to here are under orders for the payment by delinquent husbands and fathers for the support of their neglected and deserted wives and children. No case has ever been brought to light in which sums received by the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions under an order of the Municipal Court has not been received by the beneficiary of the order; and it is submitted that a very effective audit of the receipt and payment of such sums exists in the needy recipients of the orders if they had failed to get what was due them, especially since these monies are paid over to the beneficiary within twenty-four hours after they have been collected. The aggregate payments of such sums during the entire existence of the Court exceed twenty-nine million dollars ($29,000,000.00).

It is interesting to note a comparison of the work done by the Philadelphia and New York City Domestic Relations and Children's Courts:

	Population	Collections for Support
Philadelphia	1,950,961	$1,354,261.00
New York	6,390,446	$2,201,726.00

The average collections per capita, New York 35¢; Philadelphia, 69¢.

In the budget for New York for Domestic Relations and Children's Court alone $748,775 and in addition thereto there were 145 WPA workers employed in the work of the New York Court as against $800,000 for the entire work of the Philadelphia Municipal Court. In an extract from the annual budget report of the New York City Domestic Relations and Children's Courts appears the following quotation:

"At the present time this court is operating with the assistance of 145 WPA workers. With this assistance we are now shorthanded and without it we cannot run."

The assertion and further conclusion at the bottom of page 20 in said report that "we find that the buildings housing the misdemeanant and juvenile delinquents are neither adequate nor proper places for such offenders and that the surroundings are anything but conducive to the rehabilitation and future welfare of such persons," might well be characterized as "poppycock." There are inadequate housing conditions. Anyone can discern that. For years the Court has asked for the provision at the hands of Council of adequate facilities for the carrying on of the work of the Court and it certainly cannot be laid to the Court as its dereliction that those have not been provided by the appropriating body of the City of Philadelphia.

These brief allusions show the character of a report that is lacking in candor and fairness and manifestly made solely for the purpose of giving an excuse for ripping out the Court.

At the hearing before the Joint Commitete of the Senate and the House of Representatives of City Government held on the 6th inst. in the Senate chamber at Harrisburg, the Chairman of the committee charged that the Court had repelled advances made by the Bureau of Municipal Research to make a survey of the constitution and work of the Court. Such a survey was made by the Bureau of Municipal Research back in 1925 as herein above alluded to and the fact is that at the present time by the permission of the Court, the Pennsylvania Economy League has been engaged upon such a survey and is now prepared to make to the Court a partial report upon such survey containing recommendations which will be considered and, if helpful and practicable, will no doubt be put into effect.

When it is considered that, under the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the decisions of our appellate courts as well as cognate and pertinent decisions of the Federal courts, the present legislative proposals are probably invalid; that large sums of money would be uselessly drained from the State treasury; and in consideration of the chaotic condition into which the important litigation in Philadelphia County would be thrown until the questions of constitutionality might be determined, a thoughtful legislature would certainly thwart the passage of the present proposals.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, from what the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, says I take it this would be the proper time to answer, because I assume he will be bound by the result of this vote—at least, to the extent of not debating the matter of the Municipal Court any further; otherwise I would have waited until the Act creating the Municipal Court comes before the Senate.

I am sorry the Senator did not use his own argument instead of that of a jurist of the court. I do not think there is a single argument presented on behalf of this court that cannot be answered finally and definitely, because this court and its conduct is so well known not only in Philadelphia but all over the State and I am afraid my friend cannot see any excuse for its existence.

I want to take exception, however, to the statement that these things are being done for the purpose of creating jobs. The Senator has shut his eyes to the character of the legislature that has come from Philadelphia, and its purpose, or he would not have made the statement. There have been introduced in this Senate several bills dealing with the situation in Philadelphia, and I should like to call his attention to the fact that when we began our investigation there were assessors in Philadelphia numbering eighty, receiving $400,000 a year. This Senate passed what my friend would like to call "ripper legislation", but the result will be that instead of having eighty assessors, at $5,000 each per annum, there will be thirty assessors at $4,000 and two chief assessors at $5,000 a year, or a payroll of $130,000 instead of a payroll of $400,000 in that one department.

I should like to call the attention of the Senator from Bucks to the fast that there was passed a bill—using his language—ripping out of office the Receiver of Taxes, who had a payroll of $707,000; and that office will not be recreated. There will be substituted for those three hundred and some odd employees twenty employees in the office of the City Treasurer and not more than twenty in the office of the City Controller.

That does not sound to me like creating jobs for Democrats.

Also, in substitution for eleven judges of the Municipal Court, at $10,000 each per annum, our plan proposes the creation of seven judgeships at $14,000; and that does not sound like creating jobs, inasmuch as it means a saving to the taxpayers of $12,000 per annum. And in place of the 563 employees of the Municipal Court, receiving in salaries a total of $1,050,000, with an added expense of $250,000 for 120 other employees doing Municipal Court work in other departments, there will be created a court which will not spend more than $300,000 a year, and have not more than 125 to 130 employees.

Now, it is all very well, for the purpose of making a noise, to get up on the floor of this Senate and say the Democrats are ripping out for the purpose of creating jobs; but I would like to hear the answer to the proposition that because of the changes we are making there will be saved to the taxpayers, before this year is out, close to two million dollars, and the number of jobs will be reduced from eleven hundred to not more than two hundred. If that sounds like creating new jobs, if that sounds like creating positions for the Democratic Party, then it is pretty nearly time that we did some more "ripping" in Philadelphia and elsewhere to create jobs.

It is true we are doing more "ripping" than has been done before; everyone who has had his eyes open knows that it was never the purpose of the Republican Organization to rip out jobs; it has always been and is at the present time, its purpose to create jobs for committeemen, who get their henchmen to go around with petitions in order to get twenty thousand names, as we saw presented here tonight. In the Fifteenth Ward, for the last three years, at least three times committeemen have been getting signatures from voters on petitions against the "ripping out" of the Municipal Court. I do not blame those committeemen; they certainly should do it; their jobs are at stake, and their petitions represent their prayer to this

Senate to save them and perpetuate them for the holding of jobs about the duties of which they know nothing.

In Philadelphia, I want to say, I am no party, and the committee of which I have the honor to be Chairman is no party to the creation of jobs; what we are trying to do is to create a decent city in which we can live, to create a city in which we can reduce the tax rate, so that we will not have to saddle our people with the enormous expenses that have been their lot under the rule of the Republican Party, that now must be reduced to still life.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President, I have heard the sermon of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and all I have to say in answer is Amen.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I cannot help but feel that the remark of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, would have had more weight had we in the Senate not witnessed last week, after being told that the Public Service Commission was ripped out and that the work was to be done by five members instead of seven. We witnessed here in the Senate, two days after the passage of that bill, this same Senator coming into this Senate and putting in another bill to add two more members to the Public Utility Commission of this State. Just for the benefit of the record, I know that this will not change any votes, I would like to read into the record two paragraphs from this evening's paper:

No one proposition submitted to the Legislature has been the subject of so many swift and unexplained changes as that calling for displacement of the Municipal Court. This matter has been largely in the hands of Senator Shapiro, of Philadelphia. He has changed his mind so many times that he and all others interested are confused as to just what the plan is to be. The widespread protest that has greeted the proposal to rip out the Municipal Court has been the cause of Democratic uncertainty.

There is only one purpose from which they will not be swerved and that is to obtain control of the hundreds of jobs under that tribunal. The wrongs existing in administration of the court could be corrected by quite simple legislation, but the powers in control are averse to yielding to such suggestions. The present idea seems to be to form another Common Pleas Court and to establish a family court. The small claims court idea has been abandoned in favor of allowing a court of three Magistrates to settle all litigation involving claims of less than $100.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga, should be aware of the fact that there was great discussion in the Committee and elsewhere, of the question of whether there should be five or more Public Utility Commissioners. There was great hesitancy on the part of anyone to increase the number, because some people were told it was intended to keep the expenses down. I have my own opinion about that Commission and I do not think that they can do the work that is expected of the five members, particularly since there is more work being put on them than was ever put on the old Commission. However, I would like to call the attention of the Senator from Tioga to the fact that the seven members will not cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a penny under the new bill, and that is the reason I put the amendment in. Under the new bill the expenses of administration is borne by the Utilities and not by the State of Pennsylvania, and that in itself is a step forward in the right direction, and is something which the Republican organization never undertook to investigate or suggest.

With regard to the editorial that the Senator from Tioga referred to, I read that coming up on the train, not with the amusement, which I otherwise would have had, were it not so tragic. It is a tragedy today that newspapers, because they have some personal axe to grind, like several of them, who get ten or twelve thousand dollars a month from the Republican-controlled sheriff of Philadelphia for advertising real estate, and because of that fact they forget a very important part and that is that they themselves have been shouting for sanctity of the Courts, and yet because of the fact that they do get some advertising they are willing to scarifice their principles, sacrifice their understanding, and stultify their editorals by holding up a court which has done nothing in Philadelphia except to bring disgrace upon itself. It will take more than an editorial from any newspaper in Philadelphia to explain to decent people why a court intended to be a chamber for the administration of justice, should pad it's payroll and act in an illegal manner; it will take more than an editorial in a newspaper to explain why a President Judge of a Court should finally and presently flaunt the laws of the Commonwealth, it will take more than an editorial to explain why out of the eleven judges in a court, at least ten of them, had one, two and three members on the payroll, none of whom at the time of their appointment, had any qualifcation for the office to which they were appointed and it will take more than a newspaper to explain why it was that not even those members of the courts from whom I have the highest regard as individuals and as men, not one of them was able or willing to raise his voice in protest against this thing which went on for ten years. They saw this thing growing from an infant to an octopus, and they all shared, with the exception of probably one of them, in the spoils, and it was a case of you scratch my back and I will scratch yours. Certainly they could not protest, when their own relatives were placed on the payroll without the approval of the judges; certainly they could not protest against the unlawful increase in salaries, when they own relatives' salaries were increased and when this Court was used for the purpose of benefiting the political organization, when around election time in the fifteenth ward, the home of the President Judge, who participated in every election, mostly in the political campaign, and presided over meetings, when they permitted that court around election time, to pad the payrolls with committeemen from the fifteenth and other wards for the purpose of carrying the election, then, I say, it is not funny when a newspaper editorial stultifies itself to try to protect that kind of a procedure.

Talking about your respect for the courts. Yes, let us have respect for the courts, but let us put the courts in such a position that the people in the community will not lose respect for this court, or for any court. What respect will the ordinary man who has today litigation in the court of that man have for the court when he knows that the committeemen become fixers and become persons who are errand boys for the purpose of affecting litigation in the court. Everybody knows it, and everybody knew it in Philadelphia. Prominent business men in Philadelphia who saw these Philadelphia lawyers come before this Committee and speak on behalf of the court—at least I myself know that I was ashamed to see them do it, because in our private conversation their opinion of this Court was not what they said publically. It was the common saying and one of the standing jokes in Philadelphia was about the young lawyer who appeared before the Supreme Court and said "This, your Honor, is an appeal from the municipal court"; and the Supreme Court asked "have you any other ground for reversal?"

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, representing the small minority side of this Shapiro committee, I did not sign the majority report on the Municipal Court, but I made my own minority report. I commend the Shapiro committee for everything it has done except in regard to the Municipal Court. The reason I cannot commend that is, it seems to me that the Chairman of the committee is of such a judicial mind that he does not let his right hand know what his left hand is doing. With his right hand he is saving his taxpayers considerable sums of money, but, when it comes to the Municipal Court, with his left hand he creates other courts to take the place of the work of the Municipal Court, which he crowds out of the agenda of the Municipal Court. He is repealing the Civil and Criminal Divisions of the Municipal Court, and we heard the other night that that will mean the creation of Common Pleas Court No. 7. So that, the Senator is responsible for Court No. 7—and, perhaps, will be responsible for Court No. 8. I suggest that the last estate of the taxpayers is going to be worse than the first.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, did not really answer the inquiry of the Senator from Delaware as to the cost of these new courts which he proposes to create. The point was well raised that abolishing the duties of the Municipal Court judges of Philadelphia does not discharge them from their office. I have a copy of the statement which the Senator from Bucks has submitetd, and it does not refer, as I take it, particularly to the matter of the salaries of these judges, who will not be discharged from office, and who during the remainder of their terms will have over a half a million dollars of salaries due them. Under the Constitution there is only one way of getting rid of these judges, and that is the method pointed out by that document. Article 5, Section 1, of the Constitution says: "The judicial power of this Commonwealth shall be vested in a Supreme Court, in Courts of Common Pleas, Courts of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, Courts of Quarter Sessions of the Peace, Orphans' Courts, Magistrate Courts, and in such other Courts as the General Assembly may from time to time establish."

Section 15 says: "All judges required to be learned in the law, except the judges of the Supreme Court, shall be elected by the qualified electors of the respective districts over which they are to preside, and shall hold their offices for the period of ten years, if they shall so long behave themselves well; but for any reasonable cause, which shall not be sufficient ground for impeachment, the Governor may remove any of them on the address of two-thirds of each House of the General Assembly."

The Act of Assembly which created this Court says: "The judges of the said Court shall be learned in the law and shall be elected by the duly qualified electors of the said county for the terms of ten years."

Therefore the only way to get rid of these judges is by proceeding under this Constitution, and if these judges are corrupt why does not the Senator elect to proceed under the Constitution to get rid of them in a constitutional way?

The hearing which we had last week, and after these bills were reported to the Senate and not before, as it should have been, was the most interesting hearing which I have attended in the eleven years which I have served in this body. At that hearing it was apparent to everybody who was not prejudiced, that the destroying of this Municipal Court was utterly indefensible. It was not only some lawyers that appeared before the Committee last week, but there were citizens of Philadelphia, doctors and men in various walks of life. One gentleman, who had been Secretary of a well known institution for many years, and in such capacity had come into contact with the Court in its social and welfare work, stated that he regarded the Court as a most worthy institution which could not be replaced without doing untold harm to the community. He said, as a life long Democrat, he could only look with dismay on the action of his party in destroying the court, which was performing so necessary a function for the people.

We heard before this committee was appointed, that its purpose was to rip out this court, and what has taken place since, has certainly justified a rumor of that kind. We knew that members of the Mothers' Assistance Boards; that members of Hospital Staffs and Trustees of Charitable and Educational Institutions had been thrown out of office for no other reason than that they wanted to fill their places with Democrats. We had hoped that the Courts would not be brought into this same category, particularly judges that had no charges whatever preferred against them. This hearing that we had last week totally destroyed any charges that the judges were corrupt, and it disproved most of the charges that the Senator from Philadelphia has made this evening. They were not in any manner sustained. It certainly is a shabby proceeding to discharge an upright judge and try to rip him out of office without making any charge against him in the manner provided by the Constitution. The position of the courts in this county, and in all English speaking countries is unique. We have the three departments of Government,—Executive, Legislative and Judicial, and it has always been our boast that the Courts are independent, and the only way to uphold an independent judiciary, is for public opinion to support judges in their places; and to try to rip a judge out of office, without making a charge against him in the manner that the Constitution has pointed out, is an indefensible proceeding.

L. 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith;" authorizing the Governor in certain cases to fill vacancies in boards of school directors in districts of the fourth class.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Allegheny the purpose of this bill.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, the purpose of this bill is to stop the ouster proceedings against school boards, which result is unnacessarily long vacancies; and also to relieve the Courts of the playing of partisan politics.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, is it not a fact that the Courts would have better knowledge of people properly fitted to serve on school boards in their counties than any Governor could possibly have?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, think not,—for the reason that the Governor would procure his knowledge from the Department of Public Instruction.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, is it not a fact that the Courts would have better knowledge than the Department of Public Instruction would have?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I think not.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Allegheny further?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey, permit himself to be interrogated further?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, why is this particular bill particularly applicable to fourth class district schools?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, because the practice, on the part of the Courts, of playing partisan politics has been very prominent in those particular counties.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, if that is true is not partisan politics apt to crop into the first, second and third class districts?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I am not concerned about that in connection with this bill.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, this is to correct, then, a particular evil?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, it is from reliable sources.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, it is from hearsay, however, is it not?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, it is from reliable sources.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Inasmuch, Mr. President, as we have all our school districts, in my particular district, in the fourth class, with the possible exception of three, and inasmuch as I never heard of the abuses about which the Senator from Allegheny complains, I ask the Senate to vote this bill down.

at the request of the Governor, be recommitted to the Committee on Labor and Industry for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers, say that it is the desire of the Governor to have this bill recommitted?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, that is correct, sir.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, he gave specific instructions to that effect?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, he did, sir.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President ,much as I hate to disagree with the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers, or the Governor, I do not see any need for sending this bill back to the Committee. As Chairman of the Committee on Labor and Industry, I would think that if the Governor desired this bill to go back to the committee, he would at least let the Chairman of the Committee know something of his wishes. I feel that this bill was ably prepared, covers the specific points that it was desired to cover, and the bill should pass second reading tonight. If the Senator from Allegheny has any desire to amend the bill, I think it proper that those amendments should be read to the Senate, and we can vote on the amendments. In deference to the committee, I feel that the committee itself has given enough study and sufficient time has ben given to this particular bill. I therefore oppose the motion to send this bill back to committee.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, am I to understand that a public hearing is to take place after this bill goes to the House?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, a public hearing is to take place as soon as it can be arranged.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, is that the understanding between the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers, and the Governor?

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, there was a discussion with reference of the possibility of sending this bill to the House, but I understood that there was no suggestion made by the Governor himself.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I feel that this bill, as much as I hate to appear to be shirking the responsibility of my duty, I feel that this bill should be passed by the Senate, in fairness to the House members. If this bill passes the Senate and is sent over to the House, and a public hearing is desired, either by ourselves or the Governor, then a joint hearing can be held, and inasmuch as this bill was not introduced in the House, I feel that the proper place for it now is over in the House, so that they can become acquainted with the contents of this particular measure. I think the Senate is well aware that the decision of the Supreme Court relative to this matter today, and this bill is based entirely upon the provisions of the Wagner Act. One objection that I heard can be clarified by making a short statement to the effect that this bill needs some clarification, as it covers all industries. I may say that the bill specifically states that no particular industry that comes under the Wagner Act, shall not be affected by this particular measure. If there is any objection on the part of any of the Senators this afternoon, I am willing to try to answer that objection as well as I can. I do not see that there is any reason whatsoever for sending this bill back to committee. Frankly, personally, I do not want it back.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not think that the Senate ought to put in the anomolous position of either sending this bill back to committee, or having the Governor's suggestion disregarded. I suggest to the Senator from Allegheny that this matter can be acted upon tomorrow, and in the meantime we should find out, as the Governor does not live very far from here now, if he desires this bill to go back to committee for good and sufficient reason, the Senate can go along then.

And the question recurring,

Will the Sentae agree to the motion?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT WITHDRAWN

Mr. RODGERS. Mr. President, I withdraw my motion.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in accordance with the agreement with the Committee on Highways, I move that Senate Bill No. 815, on second reading, entitled:

An Act relating to motor vehicles new and used creating a motor vehicle dealers' commission and creating and providing for approved motor vehicle appraisers establishing its jurisdiction powers and duties and establishing powers and duties of approved motor vehicles appraisers regulating the sale trade-in allowance appraisals and information furnished the State on motor vehicles new and used and establishing regulations concerning speedometers authorizing the Commission to establish periodical prices for used motor vehicles either sold or traded in establishing the appraisal value of motor vehicles new or used either for sale or used trade-in allowances providing for the licensing of motor vehicle dealers and salesmen and approved motor vehicle appraisers and the payment of fees therefore authorizing examination of the business papers and affairs of and requiring the filing of reports by licensees authorizing and empowering the Commission to hold hearings and to issue rules and orders and the issuance of subpoena by the Commission or its agents and conferring jurisdiction upon the Courts to punish contempts or to prohibit violations of orders of the Commission providing for appeals to the Courts frm decisions of the Commission imposing penalties and making appropriation.

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator for what purpose he wishes to recommit the bill to the Committee on Highways.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this bill was just introduced last week and came before the Committee on Highways, the Chairman I am sure will verify what I say, that no one has had a chance to study it. There was a suggestion that there would be a hearing on the bill, and on the distinct agreement by all the members of the Committee on Highway, that the bill would be recommitted for a hearing and study, it was reported out. I think the Chairman of the Committee on Highways will agree with me that that was the condition under which the bill was put out.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it is a very, very important bill. I have no objection, of course, of the bill going back to the Committee for further study, but I had in mind that the bill would be placed on the postponed calendar or passed over in order for the purpose of further amendment. The automobiles are vitally interested in this measure. It affects over 5,000 dealers and in the neighborhood of 15.000 salesmen, and I have yet to hear of one protest from that group, and that is the group that it will affect. I would like to see this bill remain on the calendar, but if it must go back, I hope it goes back with the understanding that it will not be "pickled".

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, merely want to say that I yield to no one in this Senate my interest in the welfare of the dealers in this State. As the Senator from Cambria states, it is a very important and far-reaching bill. I am merely asking that the agreement in the Committee on Highways be carried out. This bill can go back to the Committee on Highways and that would be in accordance with the agreement with the members when we consented that it would be reported out and go back for further study. I cannot believe that this Senate would want to go back on its positive agreement. That has been the practice in the Senate right along.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga has stated that the bill was put out and then it was to be recommitted. Has anyone requested it?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there has

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, who?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, Mr. Daniels, representing the automobile dealers, was present at a meeting of the Committee on Highways, and because of the understanding that it was to go back for a hearing, and many of the members expressed a desire to hear him. He was not heard that day, and further than that, I received last evening a 'phone call from a group of dealers in the northern part of the State, representing Lycoming, Bradford, Potter and Tioga Counties, saying that they had a meeting and were opposed to this bill and wished to be heard.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, is Mr. Daniels the gentleman who formerly was in the Attorney General's office, and the one who drafted the present bill?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, then Mr. Daniels was in favor of the bill, was he not?

Mr. OWLWETT Mr. President, I think he is. May I interrogate the Chairman of the Committee on Highways?

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, yes.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Highways whether this bill came up when he was acting as Chairman, or while the Senator from Lycoming, Mr. Sones, acted as temporary Chairman of the Committee.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, while I was acting as Chairman.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator whether it was not true that it was agreed that this bill would go back to committee.

Mr. ROBERTS. Mr. President, that is correct. Mr. President, I feel I should say this, that when this bill came up for consideration in the Highway Committee, a number of members said they did not have a chance to go over it, and the question was raised whether this bill should be reported out at that particular time, or whether it should be held in the committee. The suggestion was then made that it probably would expedite the consideration of this bill if it was reported out, and the committee agreed that it should be reported out with the understanding that it would be recommitted for a hearing.

and the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Let us pray. Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, Thou who dost inhabit eternity and who hast declared that Thou art taking up Thy abode in a humble and contrite heart, we come to Thee. Where else can we go? With Thee and with Thy son is everlasting life. Hear us as we pray, take all our sin away and grant that from this day we may be increasingly interested in the spread of Thy Kingdom.

Our Father God we are very grateful for the multiplied blessings all along the way. We thank Thee for Thy patience with us as individuals and as a nation, nad we pray that we may realize that Thou art a God of wisdom and that we will keep looking to Thee for Thy wisdom that we may have understanding.

Wilth Thou be pleased to bless all in authority over us. We think of the President of the United States; we think of the Governor of this Commonwealth and the Legislature of this sovereign State of Pennsylvania. We pray Thy blessing upon each and all, and we pray as we live for Thee that Thy blessing be upon us as we endeavor to glorify Thee in our bodies and in our souls which are Thine.

We pray in Jesus' name. Amen.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. Nagel asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. KELSO for this evening's session.

STATEMENT BY MR. McARDLE

Mr. McARDLE asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the Pittsburgh Press, Sunday, April 11, 1937, printed an article dealing with this House's action on Bill No. 881, which bill was introduced by Representatives Samuel A. Weiss of Allegheny County.

The headlines above the article read as follows:—

"Weiss Charges Lunches for Legislators Aided In Pickling Squire Bill."

In the article, Mr. Weiss is quoted as follows:—

"The squire's lobby came to Harrisburg and gave a luncheon for some of the House members." "Some of those who had been for the bill in committee then voted to pickle it." "The bill has been pickled because of the direct intervention of the squire's lobby."

Mr. Speaker and Members of the House, I regard the language quoted as a direct and unwarranted insult and affront to the majority members of this House.

I further regard the use of the language quoted as an act of moral cowardice, because it names no member, or members, as being the person, or persons, whose votes have been changed by a luncheon or by the actions of a "squire's lobby," thus putting every member who did not vote against recommitting the bill, subject to its cowardly implications.

I further resent the use of the language as quoted, because, in addition to being cowardly, it was dishonest for the reason that the majority of the members of the House, who are members of the same party as Mr. Weiss and I, had already determined against the passage of the bill and Mr. Weiss was well aware of that fact when the vote to recommit the bill was taken and when the quoted language was used. Therefore, if he had any criticism to make, it should have been directed to the democratic leadership in and out of this House, and to the whole of the party membership here, and it should have been made in Harrisburg in the presence of those criticised, rather than back in Allegheny County for political consumption.

Speaking personally, I have no hesitancy in saying that I did not and do not intend to support the passage of Bill No. 881, and neither do I intend to let go unchallenged any statements based upon either fakery or dishonesty that directly, or by implication, can be interpreted as a reflection on the honesty or good intent of my motives.

STATEMENT BY MR. SAMUEL A. WEISS

Mr. SAMUEL A. WEISS asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in my two Regular Sessions and two Special Sessions one as a Member of this House, this is the first instance in which I have requested unanimous consent to this House to make a statement, although the membership has heard me elucidate on many of the bills which I believed would benefit the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and aided in their enactment.

I rise to criticise the action of the membership of this House on Wednesday of last week, when they voted to recommit House Bill No. 881 to the Committee on Counties. House Bill No. 881 which is an amendment to the Act of 1929 contains but four lines, and in substance provides: "That in all summary conviction cases, the justice of the peace or alderman when the evidence is insufficient to convict should place the costs upon the prosecutor or the defendant and not upon the county." I believe this to be a bill with an excellent objective, and it was a sincere effort on my part to chip the overburdened taxpayers of this Commonwealth. I sincerely believe that this bill would help remedy the highly developed "costs racket" practiced by many of the justices of the peace of this Commonwealth.

The true solution of the minor judiciary problem would be to reform the present system throughout, probably reducing the number, as the squires themselves recently recommended (in my county), and subsituting salaries for the present fee system. I realize that fragmentary legislation cannot alone solve the problem, but House Bill No. 881 is one bill that is a direct strike on the "discharged costs" racket system not only practiced in the County of Allegheny, but in the entire Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The basic idea of putting costs on the public, of course, was to prevent an additional injustice to an innocent person, one found on trial or investigation to have been wrongfully or unjustly accused. However, it is well to remember that in 1929 (when the act hereinafter mentioned was enacted) the lobby of the justices of the peace was one of the most powerful in the Commonwealth. The Act of 1929 provided:

> "That in all cases of summary conviction, in which the evidence was not sufficient to convict and the defendant dismissed, the costs of the suit shall be paid by the County."

The passage of this act has been notoriously abused by petty justices of the racketeering type, a number of whom have served sentences in jail for faking cases just to discharge them and collect costs from the county; a number of them are under indictment at the present time not only in the County of Allegheny, but in other sections of the Commonwealth. In any other instances, even when cases were adjusted between the prosecutor and the defendant, costs have also been placed upon the county—to be paid by the taxpayers. The cost to Allegheny County alone for discharged cases in the past four years, 1932 to 1936 inclusive, has exceeded $600,000.00, or approximately $130,000.00 annually—moneys assessed against the taxpayers—the little home owners—because of the folly of individual litigants aided by the corrupt practice of petty justices of the peace. It is fortunate for the taxpayers that there are many justices of the peace of character and ability who refuse to indulge in such practice, and if such were the case, the "discharged costs" racket in Allegheny County alone would be approximately one-half million dollars.

I wonder what the taxpayers of Northampton County think of my good friend and colleague Mr. Jirolanio who so courageously made the motion on the floor of this House last week to recommit House Bill No. 881, and for what purpose. Under interrogation, the gentleman from Northampton County said this bill was being recommitted for the purpose of further study—a bill containing four lines and changing three different words by placing costs on the prosecutor or defendant instead of the county. We who have been in the House for at least one Session know that this bill is being recommitted for "pickling purpose" and nothing more. I wonder if the taxpayers of Northampton County agree with the actions of my youthful and vigorous colleague who so bravely took the floor to recommit this bill; I wonder if the many bills consisting of 100 pages or more that were railroaded through this House were given as much study as House Bill No. 881. Representatives Jirolanio should be informed that the costs paid by his county in discharged cases have increased from $19,000.00 in 1932 to over $60,000.00 last year. In a year or two with the continued rate of increase Northampton County will rank with the County of Allegheny when it comes to the amount of costs paid by the taxpayers to the squires and constables in their racket to provide social security for themselves—a splendid social program for the minor judiciary, but not the type of social security advocated by our Democratic system of government. I wonder if many of the other Legislators who voted to recommit this bill know what this racket is costing the taxpayers of their respective counties. Statistics available show that over one-half million dollars were paid last year by counties to Justices of the Peace and Constables in discharged cases.

I do not condemn the Republican for voting to recommit this bill because they were only consistent with their policies in this House for the past 40 years, but I do criticize the party of which I am a member and the majority party of this House for its action in recommitting a bill that would be a real help and saving to the taxpayers of this Commonwealth. As a Democrat, I have been proud of the record established by my party in my first Session in the Legislature in 1935. We were confronted with an emergency. In addition to the passage of a great liberal and social program, we were compelled to enact a tax program that unquestionably proved burdensome—but necessary, and I feel that as a Democrat, in addition to voting for the imposition of additional tax burdens, I want to be consistent with my recommendations made as Vice-Chairman of the Local Government Commission to reduce taxes wherever possible in order to help the little property owner in this Commonwealth. This House Bill No. 881 would aid in accomplishing that purpose. The Local Government Commission realized the abuses practiced by the minor judiciary, and one page 45 of our report, we made a distinct recommendation about the roving squires and constables stating that this practice resulted in the increase in the number of cases and imposed additional costs on the county; and we recommended legislation to stop this practice. This Commission, composed of five Republicans and five Democrats, was appointed under an Act of Assembly signed by the Governor of this Commonwealth who is in sympathy with the local government problem and the small property owner.

A stop to this practice by the minor judiciary is vitally necessary and this Legislature is on the spot when it comes to enacting some type of legislatlation to reform their present activities, and I plead with the Committee on Counties and my colleagues, from Allegheny County particularly, on this committee, to do everything in their power to resurrect from peaceful slumber House Bill No. 881 so that the minor judiciary of this Commonwealth may know that their present practice and abuses at the expense of the taxpayers of this Commonwealth must stop.

STATEMENT BY MR. JIROLANIO

Mr. JIROLANIO asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, at the very outset I want to thank those members who saw fit to vote their convictions with me last Wednesday to send back to committee a bill which they honestly thought should be further studied and further investigated. This is the first time in my three months in the Legislature that I have heard the word pickling used when a bill has been sent back to committee for further study, and I ask you to bear that in mind because at various other times the same gentleman from Allegheny has asked that bills be recommitted for study.

As to whether or not I had a meal paid for by any lobbyist,—well I will tell you that you cannot buy me for a meal, and I don't think you can buy the other gentlemen or the women members of this Assembly for a meal, or I might say whatever you have.

We are sent here as the representatives of the people, and if we see fit in our conviction to vote in a certain manner, I do not think it is the privilege and the prerogative or the right of any individual to stand up and criticize us for our honest convictions. Then the gentleman picks out the county of Northampton and asks me whether the gentleman from Northampton doesn't worry about the fact that his county has suffered an expenditure of forty thousand dollars more than it did in 1932. Yes, but you have often heard the expression that figures don't lie but Oh! how figures can be juggled and I will tell you those figures have been juggled. Although the costs of these discharged cases have increased in Northampton county to the tune of forty thousand dollars, the total costs has been reduced in the amount that had to be appropriated for courts and juries in the trial of criminal cases to the extent that the County of Northampton in the final analysis paid four thousand two hundred fifty dollars.

Now, you heard so much about the taxpayers. I ask you, members of the House, are you interested in the freedom of men? Are you going to say that a man is going to be placed in jail although the magistrate in question has been fit to find him not guilty but sees fit to place upon him the cost? You know that often happens. You know what happens when a person brings a case before a magistrate; do you think that particular magistrate will place the costs upon him? No, he is looking for business. It is nothing but human nature that he places the cost upon the defendant, and if the defendant is unable to pay it, he will go to jail.

I will say this, if there is such a condition existing in Allegheny County let the Controller of Allegheny County investigate those charges. As you know, the Controller is the one man who checks upon expenses, and it is his duty to O. K. and check every voucher that comes into his office, and if there are any unethical practices among the justices of the peace in imposing costs where the costs have already been paid, they are guilty of a misdemeanor, and if the gentleman from Allegheny knows of such cases, then in my opinion he is also guilty of something as a member of the Bar if he conceals this notorious practice.

Of course, it reminds me of trying a case in criminal court where you do not have a case and where you have a policeman on the other side. You figure, "well", there is only one thing to do, start hollering about the policeman and the jury might be with you and find your client not guilty".

That appears to me to have happened in this case. My colleague and good friend from Allegheny County was defeated in opposing the motion to recommit this bill for further study, and he couldn't take it, and just as in the case of the jury, putting the blame on the cop, he is now putting the blame upon us.

CALL FOR ORDER OF THE DAY

Mr. HABERLEN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for the order of the day.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I have three questions: when was the meal, where was the meal and why didn't I get an invitation?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confer with the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Weiss, who will probably answer the question.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. In order to give the members of the House time to examine Senate amendments to House bills returned for concurrence before they are voted upon, the Chair will announce the bill numbers and Printer's numbers when the bills are received from the Senate. They will be acted upon when the sponsors have had an opportunity to look over these amendments, or at the end of each session. This is in order to expedite the business of the House.

PERMISSION GRANTED COMMITTEE TO MEET DURING SESSION

Miss BRANCATO asked and obtained permission for the Committee on Cities to meet during the session of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the committee from which it emanated, the Ways and Means.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware will state his point of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, this bill did not have the name of the Ways and Means Committee on it.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken, but the bill has been residing in that committee for some time.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, as far as his House is concerned, did not this bill emanate from the Committee on Ways and Means?

The SPEAKER. As far as the House is concerned it did emanate from the Ways and Means Committee.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I again insist upon my point of order, that this bill did not emanate, either insofar as the House is concerned or in any other way from the Committee on Ways and Means. It had been reported from the Committee on Ways and Means. It more than likely emanated from the fertile brain of somebody in the Senate.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Delaware have his dictionary with him? If so, will he please send it to the desk.

Mr. TURNER. I do not need a dictionary for that, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is in quite a predicament on his rulings on the point of order and question of inquiry. He ruled that the point of order of the gentleman from Delaware and the question of inquiry raised by the gentleman from York are well taken.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw my previous motion and I now move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means for further study and amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. PERRY filed the following reasons for his vote:

Since the presentation of this bill to the House of Representatives, there has been sent me and are now in my possession, many petitions opposing the passage of this bill. In addition thereto, hundreds of my constituents have personally visited me to voice their opposition to its passage. One of these petitions is from the Altoona Works Local No. 42 of the Brotherhood Shop Crafts of America, representing more than eleven thousand employes of the Locomotive and Car Departments of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Altoona Works, Altoona, Pa.

Similar petitions are signed by many hundreds of business men and working men of my Legislative District. These petitions oppose the passage of the bill, alleging that it will seriously retard the prosperity of their community and will result in a stringent curtailment of employment in my community, and by reason thereof harm the working man and his dependents of my community.

Therefore, because of the extremely wide-spread and definite objection by my constituents, and believing that the vast majority of these constituents are opposed to the passage of this legislation, in response to their petitions I cast a negative vote to this bill.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER filed the following reasons for his vote:

I have on my files hundreds of petitions on H. B. 75. These petitions have come from industrial leaders, professional men, small business men and women, and laborers. Eighty-five (85%) per cent of them are in opposition to the bill. Thus in compliance to the wishes of my constituency I am casting a negative vote on the bill.

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 135, Printer's No. 452, on page 25, of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. YOURISHIN.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 135, entitled:

An Act requiring the Secretary of the Commonwealth to inquire into the purposes of the incorporators, or those attempting to form an association, of labor groups, to approve or disapprove their incorporation, or their attempted association, or right to do business within the Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. YOURISHIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Luzerne explain the purpose of this bill?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of this bill is that the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall inquire into the purposes of any labor organization that may be looking for a charter in the State of Pennsylvania, be it foreign or domestic, where the name may be similar to some legitimate organization that is in operation at the present time, and to prohibit the charter being issued under certain conditions.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman from Luzerne realize that under the present corporation law you must file your name in order to ascertain whether there is any conflict?

Mr. YOURISHIN. I do, Mr. Speaker, but this bill provides that certain names cannot be used where labor organization already have such names or trade names, and it provides that no name can be used that is in any way within or near the name that is being used by labor organizations at the present time.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does not the bill go further than the question of name?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, it protects the names of labor organizations now.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, does it not include other than names? In other words, does it not place in the hands of the Secretary of the Commonwealth the power to determine whether they shall receive a charter or not, and not alone the question of names?

Mr. YOURISHIN. The name is in conflict with what is in the bill, Mr. Speaker, or in any way near the names that may be in this bill, the names of the organizations. The bill reads as follows:

"Groups of working men and women or wage earners having the name of Organized Labor Labor Federation of Labor Brotherhood of Labor Union Labor Union Labor Committee Trade Union Trades Union Union Labor Council Building Trades Council Building Trades Union Allied Printing Trades Council Trades Union Building Trades Union Allied Printing Trades Council Allied Trade Union Central Labor Body Central Labor Union Federated Trades Council Local Union National Union State Union International Union District Labor Council District Labor Union American Federation of Labor of Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor of the component parts thereof or the significant words therein or seals or insignias where same are used in Juxtaposition or with interspace shall be filed or recorded for the purpose of effecting incorporation or permitting the formation and association or by authorizing it to do business in this state unless such certificate designation shall be accompanied by an endorsement thereon by the Secretary of the Commonwealth that he has held a hearing into the aims and purposes of each organization and has determined that it will not be harmful to the community in which it proposes to operate."

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, is there anything in that act which says that the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall refuse a charter by reason of a similarity of names?

LIBRARY
UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, the act uses the words, "Where same are used in juxtaposition or with interspace." It covers names anywhere near the names of the present labor organizations.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, it does say in the act that if certain names are used they shall apply to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, but it does not say anything about the Secretary of Commonwealth refusing to grant the charter by reason of a similarity of names. The act says that it cannot become a corporation unless the Secretary of the Commonwealth has endorsed thereon "That he has held a hearing into the aims and purposes of each organization and has determined that it will not be harmful to the community in which it proposes to operate or to the Commonwealth and that there is a necessity therefor for such incorporation or association."

Mr. YOURISHIN. That is correct, Mr. Speaker, where there is a labor organization, and the Secretary of the Commonwealth feels that a new labor organization may be formed in order to create some harmful effect to the community, he can refuse to issue such a charter.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, where in the act does it say anything about a dual union, a union bearing a similar name?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, by giving the Secretary of the Commonwealth the right to say whether or not such union shall be chartered.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, It does not so say.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, it says plainly that "unless such certificate designation shall be accompanied by an endorsement thereon by the Secretary of the Commonwealth that he has held a hearing into the aims and purposes of each organization."

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that does not say anything about a dual union or whether a dual union would be harmful to some other union or not.

Mr. YOURISHIN. But, Mr. Speaker, he can refuse to give them that endorsement.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, apparently the gentleman from Luzerne and I cannot get together on the questions and answers. Therefore I am going to state the proposition as I see it.

In the first part of this bill it provides that wherever certain names are used,—then it gives a list of the names,—that there shall be a certificate of application" filed or recorded for the purpose of effecting incorporation or permitting the formation and association or by authorizing it to do business in this state unless such certificate designation shall be accompanied by an endorsement thereon by the Secretary of the Commonwealth when he has held a hearing into the aims and purposes of each organization and has determined that it will not be harmful to the community in which it proposes to operate or to the Commonwealth that there is a necessity therefor for such incorporation or association."

Under the present law, the corporation act, these corporations, these unions are all corporations of the first class. That is, they are corporations not for profit. Their applications are made to the Courts of Common Pleas of Pennsylvania. Before you can make an application to a Court of Common Pleas for a charter you must now send into the Department your intention to apply and set forth the name that you are going to use, and they will not permit you, they will not give you a certificate which is necessary to get your charter in the Common Pleas Court, unless or if your name conflicts with the name of an already existing corporation. Now, I can see no harm, I think it might be very proper to say that we cannot use certain names because those names are already used in the State of Pennsylvania, but the question as to whether a corporation, whether its aims and purposes will not be harmful to the community, the question as to whether the aims and purposes of the organization will not be harmful to the community, is one of the prerogatives of the Common Pleas Court in determining whether a charter will be given to a corporation of the first class. So that this bill would take out of the Corporation Act of this Commonwealth that provision and would take that away from the courts, and would place it solely and entirely in the hands of the Secretary of the Commonwealth to determine whether any labor union that has applied for a charter in Pennsylvania,—whether its aims and purposes were such that it would not be harmful to the community and that there is a necessity therefor. There is no appeal under this act to any court. It is solely placing within the hands of the Secretary of the Commonwealth a power which I do not believe that he should exercise. I believe that it should be the right of any group of men and women in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania who want to organize a union,—and I think unions should be incorporated,—to go into the courts and in the usual course and in the usual manner to apply for a charter. But I do not believe that it is right, I think it is placing far too much power in the hands of one individual, the Secretary of the Commonwealth, to determine who shall exercise the right of a union in the Com-right or whether they be wrong,—it would freeze in the hands of a very few people,—whether they be right or whether they be wrong,—it would would freeze in their hands full power to exercise the right to organize unions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and the opportunities for abuse on the part of the Secretary of the Commonwealth would be exceedingly great. I believe that this is placing a halter upon the necks of labor in Pennsylvania, that it is not giving them the opportunity to exercise their free right as citizens, to assemble and to organize in any group that they may desire, and I think this act should be amended. If it is the purpose to protect certain names then I think it should be amended so that it will specifically express that purpose, and if that be not the purpose, if there is hidden in the last part of the act language to give the Secretary of the Commonwealth the power to determine what labor unions in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should be given that right, then I believe we should defeat this act.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, labor in the State of Pennsylvania feels that it has a right to ask someone to say whether or not some group that may want to injure some particular labor organization can go into any county court and secure a charter, not for the purpose of organization but for the purpose of possibly injuring organized labor within the State that has been organized for some time. We have had several instances of legitimate labor organizations conducting their business legitimately, and because some unscrupulous employer felt that he did not want any labor organization in his shop, he got a few men and they secured a charter and then used a trade name similar to the one used by the regular labor organization, to try to break up that labor union. Labor feels, of course, that this bill will give them protection and prevent anyone from coming into the State, organizing a dual union and going into some court and getting a charter under the guise of a labor union. We feel that the Secretary of the Commonwealth, after we have had a hearing on both sides, can decide readily as to whether or not a charter should be issued to any group that may try to horn in on a legitimate organization of the State of Pennsylvania.

I ask the members of this House to vote for this bill. This bill has the endorsement of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor. We went over it thoroughly and we feel that the Secretary of the Commonwealth should have the right to say what organization is to operate in this Commonwealth.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. YOURISHIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin, whether or not in his opinion this is a special piece of legislation.

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, no, I do not think it is a special piece of legislation. It prevents dual labor unions operating in the same industry and causing a lot of turmoil.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is this not a departure from our general law, insofar as it has to do with applications for charter for corporations, in that under this law a certain type of organization would have a hearing?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I will say that I am no lawyer and am unable to answer that question. I am sorry.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have no objection to this bill at all, but it seems to me that we are trying to give labor something and we are giving them nothing. If this bill is made law every organization in the State, every church organization could require a special provision for charter for churches; every fraternal organization could come in and do the same thing. I think if labor wants to be helped labor ought not to be given these laws yhich undoubtedly will be invalidated by the courts. This is a special piece of legislation, providing a special way by which a special group of people can get charters, and I think it is unconstitutional and the bill ought to be sent back for further study.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Luzerne, Mr. Yourishin.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. YOURISHIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, will not the gentleman from Luzerne agree to place this bill on the postponed calendar?

Mr. YOURISHIN. Until I can get some of you lawyers to agree as to the phraseology or language of the act, I will, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. YOURISHIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed upon the postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTIONS

SYMPATHY EXTENDED

Messrs. LONGAKER, WINNER, WAMPOLE and CADWALADER offered a resolution which was twice read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 12, 1937.

Charles Johnson, a resident of Plymouth Township, Montgomery County, a famous political leader and prominent in the affairs of the State Government for many years, has passed away at the age of eighty-three years. He was born on a farm in Montgomery County where he spent his early life filling various local township offices. Later he engaged in the real estate business and was elected sheriff of Montgomery County. Subsequently, be became Resident Clerk of the House of Representatives, then Insurance Commissioner, Deputy Auditor General, Secretary of the Commonwealth and the first Secretary of Revenue. He was for many years the Republican leader of Montgomery County, was at different times Treasurer and Secretary of the Republican State Committee, and attended National and State Conventions of the Republican Party.

He was president of the Peoples National Bank, a director of the Norristown Penn Trust Company, and of a number of industrial corporations.

Quiet and unassuming in his private and public life he yet possessed a quality of leadership equaled by but few men in the history of the Commonwealth.

Resolved, That the Members of the House express their sincere sympathy to the members of the family of Charles Johnson in their bereavement, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the family by the Chief Clesk of this House.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. LONGAKER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in the passing of Charles Johnson of Montgomery County, Pennsylvania has lost an illustrious son. He was respected and revered by all who knew him, regardless of political affiliation, creed or color. His kind and unassuming manner made loyal friends in all walks of life.

I first met Mr. Johnson in February of 1934, and as a candidate for the Assembly in that year I had many occasions to observe his courteous and kindly attitude towards friend and foe alike. I shall always cherish the fact that I was the last candidate for public office supported by this splendid character in his capacity as the active leader of the Republican party in Montgomery County.

I therefore particularly request the membership of this House to act favorably on the resolution now under consideration.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was unanimously adopted.

Mr. WHALEN offered a resolution which was filed with the Clerk under the Rules.

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. JACOB F. MATTHEWS. RESOLUTION No. 66.

In the House of Representatives, April 12, 1937.

Whereas, The practice has prevailed in the past to transfer, from time to time, moneys from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund to meet current payments from said fund; and

Whereas, All of said transfers, it is alleged, have not been returned to the Motor License Fund, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the members of the House of Representatives that no future transfer shall be made from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund or any other fund of the Commonwealth, and that all taxes and license fees which are by law dedicated for the construction and improvement of highways and administration expenses in connection therewith and highway debt service charges shall not hereafter, to the extent of such dedication, be used for or diverted by transfer or otherwise to any other purpose whatever.

Referred to the Committee on Highways.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 5, 1937.

Whereas, We have in Pennsylvania many diversified industries engaged in the business of manufacturing, producing and selling various products and commodities; and

Whereas, The State Government through its various agencies is a large consumer and distributor of many of these products and commodities; and

Whereas, In certain instances discriminatory practices have been set up by certain administrative agencies, which tend to handicap Pennsylvania industries which are in competition with certain foreign state industries of like nature; and

Whereas, It is the duty of the General Assembly to deal with the problem of unemployment and relief, and particularly when such problems are directly tracable to the question of unemployment; therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That any economic advantage granted to foreign industries works to the disadvantage of Pennsylvania industry and tends to increase unemployment in this Commonwealth, and where such advantage results from policies adopted by an administrative agency, it is hereby declared that such policies are deemed contrary to the spirit of the discretionary powers vested in such agency.

Resolved, That the General Assembly believes that the policies of all administrative agencies should at all times be formulated to encourage and foster Pennsylvania industry by requiring it, in order to gain a market, to sell certain products and commodities below a price charged by and paid to industries outside Pennsylvania for products and commodities of the same grade or character.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

The SPEAKER. The resolution is referred to the Committee on State Government.

Whereas, Several other states have already designated in their states such a highway which connects up with United States Route Number Six in Pennsylvania, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly requests the Secretary of Highways in the exercise of the powers conferred upon him by law to change the name of the highway known as United States Route Number Six to the Grand Army of the Republic Highway.

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Secretary of Highways by the Chief Clerk of the Senate.
